

LINDBERGH TAKES STAND AS STATE'S WITNESS IN CURTIS TRIAL

Tells of Negotiations With Norfolk Shipbuilder Who Professed to Be in Contact With Kidnapers of His Baby.

$25,000 "EARNEST MONEY" ASKED FOR

Prosecutor Tells Jury Defendant Knew Where Abductors Were When Body of Slain Child Was Found.

By the Associated Press.

ELEMINGTON, N. J., June 27.—Charles A. Lindbergh was sworn as the first witness for the prosecution in the trial of John Edgar Curtis today.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck, in his opening statement, told the jury that Curtis had been in actual contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

Lindbergh testified that he had been in contact with the kidnapers and knew where they were when the child's body was found.

NOTED LAWYER DEAD

WILLIAM F. WOERNER.

73-POUND CATFISH TAKEN ON SET-LINE IN MERAMEC RIVER

50 Persons Participate in Fry at Fenton Although Only 15 Were Invited.

A 73-pound mud catfish was caught on a trot-line in the Meramec River below Fenton yesterday.

When word of the catch got around more than 50 persons were on hand to participate in a week-end fish fry, although the fishermen had invited only 15 in the expectancy of a normal catch.

William J. Horst, dry goods store proprietor, 6211 Gravois avenue, and Edward J. Kofron, heating contractor, 4693 Allemania street, were the fishermen. They had set a 60-foot line Saturday night from a tree on the east shore to the anchor in the middle of the river.

There were about 60 hooks of various sizes, baited with minnows, crawfish and dough.

When they made their surprising discovery of their first inspection trip yesterday morning, they cut the line and pulled the fish to the bank, landing it after a half-hour struggle. They took it to their clubhouse, "Cath-Ru," which is some distance above Fenton.

The fish was more than four feet long and 10 inches in diameter.

The fish was tied to the bank and left in the river until afternoon, when the fry was held.

SHAW'S GARDEN GETS BULBS
OF SUMATRA GIANT AROID

One of Them Is Six Feet in Circumference and Weighs 120 Pounds.

Bulbs of two giant aroids from the jungles of Sumatra arrived at Shaw's Garden today. They are the first to be introduced into this country, according to Dr. George T. Moore, director of the garden.

The two bulbs were acquired by an agent of the garden and were shipped in boxes of charcoal. One bulb is six feet five inches in circumference and weighs 120 pounds. The other, weighing 92 pounds, is five feet six inches in circumference.

The second bulb is in perfect condition, the first has a few soft spots.

The last blossoming of a giant aroid outside of its native country occurred at Kew Gardens, London, in 1888. The plants were discovered by the Italian naturalist, Dr. Beccari, in 1878. They reach a height of 10 feet and have a cluster of flowers about a central stalk resembling the spadix of a calla lily or Jack-in-the-pulpit. The flowers are green and white with purplish folds. The two bulbs will be planted in large tubs so that they can be taken inside when cold weather arrives.

FAIR TONIGHT AND TOMORROW,
LITTLE TEMPERATURE CHANGE

THE TEMPERATURES.

Official forecast for St. Louis and vicinity: Fair tonight and tomorrow; not much change in temperature.

Missouri: Generally fair, slightly cooler in north-east portion tonight tomorrow; partly cloudy; somewhat warmer in west and north portions.

Illinois: Partly cloudy, somewhat cooler in north and central portions, thunder showers this afternoon or tonight in extreme south portion; tomorrow generally fair.

W. F. WOERNER, ATTORNEY, DIES; ILL LONG TIME

Widely-Known Democratic Nominee for Mayor in 1909 Succumbs to Complications at Age of 67.

EDITOR OF WORKS ON PROBATE LAW

Daughter, Mrs. Ruth
Stewart, Killed in Plane
Crash in January With Mrs. Debbie Stanford.

William F. Woerner, widely known lawyer, who was Democratic nominee for Mayor of St. Louis in 1909, died today in Barnes Hospital of complications, following a prolonged illness. He was 67 years old.

Mr. Woerner retired from active practice last January after his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Stewart, an aviator, was killed in an airplane crash. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Agnes Judge Woerner, and two sons, Gabriel and William F. Woerner Jr.

Mr. Woerner was the son of J. Gabriel Woerner, political leader in St. Louis County, who was Probate Judge there for 24 years. William F. Woerner, after graduation from St. Louis Law School of Washington University in 1885, assisted his father in preparation of his work, "American Law of Administration," which remains a recognized authority on probate law, and "American Law of Guardianship." Subsequent editions of the "Law of Administration" were edited by W. F. Woerner.

His first law partnership was with the late Charles W. Bates, but he was later associated in practice with his father, Judge Woerner, for a number of years.

Defeated for Probate Judge. In 1898, he was the Democratic nominee for the office of Probate Judge of St. Louis, but was defeated. In 1901, Gov. Dockery appointed him a member of the Police Board, but he resigned after two weeks' tenure of the office. Mayor Wells appointed him in 1902 as associate city counselor, and reappointed him in 1905. In this position, Mr. Woerner prepared the official revision and annotation of the city ordinances. He also drafted the street car mill tax ordinance, a revenue measure which was upheld in subsequent court contests, and is still in effect.

In 1909 he was nominated to succeed Mayor Wells, but was defeated by Frederick H. Krellman, Republican. In 1913 he was appointed by Gov. Major as one of the original members of the State Public Service Commission, and served on the commission until the end of 1914.

Mr. Woerner was devoted to literary and philosophical study. He was one of the close associates of the late Denton J. Snider, writer of many books on philosophy and psychology.

His biography of his father was published in 1912. He was the author also of a book on world organization, entitled "Supernaturalism," and of several pamphlets. One of the latter, entitled "Stray Thoughts about the Realm of Music and Its Relation to Life," was read before the Society of St. Louis Authors, and was published by the Denton J. Snider Society of Universal Culture.

Married in 1917. Mr. Woerner was married in 1907 to Miss Agnes Judge, whose brother, Sylvester Judge, married one of Mr. Woerner's sisters. Mrs. Judge and another sister, Mrs. Rose MacIvaine of St. Antonio, Tex., survive their father.

The Woerner family home is at 6485 Wydown boulevard.

Mrs. Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woerner, and the wife of Alce W. Stewart Jr., became an aviator in 1928, and competed in two national air derbies. She and Mrs. Debbie Stanford of Indianapolis were planning a flight to Buenos Aires, at the time when both were killed by the fall of their plane near Harrisburg, Pa.

7 INCHES OF RAIN IN MISSOURI
Streams in Southwest Part of State Damage Roads.

By the Associated Press.
CARTHAGE, Mo., June 27.—Swollen by heavy rains, streams of Southwest Missouri were on a rampage today.

At Lakeside 600 feet of Missouri Pacific track, and six miles southwest of Carthage 300 feet of Frisco track were washed away. At Carthage, 20 miles east of Carthage, highways were flooded. The rainfall at Carthage was 7.75 inches. The rain was virtually a cloudburst along the Spring River watershed east of Carthage, and that stream flooded United States Highway No. 66 here this morning, blocking traffic on the river route.

ROOSEVELT CALLS OFF FIGHT ON TWO-THIRDS RULE; KEYNOTER ASKS FOR STRAIGHT REPEAL PLANK

Convention's Duty to Let People Vote on Prohibition, Says Temporary Chairman

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 27.—HERE is the text of Senator Alben W. Barkley's declaration for submission of prohibition repeal, as contained in his keynote address to the Democratic national convention:

"This convention owes it to the people of the nation to make its declaration upon this subject clear, understandable and unequivocal. There is no reason why the people should be deceived or deluded. There is no reason why a political declaration should look in every direction and see nothing. In order, therefore, to obtain the present will of the American people on this subject of universal controversy, this convention should in the platform here to be adopted recommend the passage by Congress of a resolution repealing the eighteenth amendment and its submission to the people of the states through conventions whose delegates shall be chosen upon this issue alone. If the people are to pass again upon this question, let them pass upon it in such bald, naked and unequivocal terms as to make their decision intelligent and certain."

ROOSEVELT LISTENS TO THE CONVENTION ON PORTABLE RADIO

Takes Set to Capitol in Albany; Keeps in Touch by Phone.

By the Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., June 27.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt took up a radio ring-side seat for the Chicago convention today. Arriving at his office in the Capitol for his usual business day, the candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination brought with him a portable radio set, tuned to receive the verbal picture of the fight in which he plays so prominent a part.

The New Yorker's contact with Chicago, while he is in his office, is not entirely one way. An extension from the executive mansion's private telephone wires to the campaign headquarters in Chicago has been brought to the top of his big desk in the Capitol.

At mid-morning, James A. Farley, manager of his campaign, and Louis Howe, the man in the "Whispering Post" for the Roosevelt forces, rang up the Governor to repeat expressions of confidence and map out plans for the convention opening today.

BRIDE PLUNGES TO DEATH FROM HOTEL ROOM WINDOW

Husband Says She Jumped After Saying She Was Not Worthy of Him.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 27.—Married only last night, Mrs. Eugenia Sladeras, 23 years old, plunged to death from the window of a honeymoon suite on the thirty-sixth floor of the Morrison Hotel today.

Her husband, Peter Sladeras, tried to leap after her, but was restrained by a hotel guest, who heard the commotion and ran into the room.

He had obtained a license to wed on June 23 and were married last night, arriving at the hotel after midnight. The woman's body fell to the eighth floor.

Sladeras told the coroner his bride had protested she was "not worthy" of him. After an all-night talk, he said, she tore her engagement and wedding rings from her finger and rushed to the window and jumped.

BAKERY'S BREAD BURNS UP,
SAFE ROBBERS ARE ROUTED

Three Efforts to Open Strong Box Fail; Thieves Leave in Disgrace.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Enough dough to make 2055 dozen rolls and 1800 loaves of bread went up in smoke at the Mary Ann Baking Co.'s plant yesterday but five robbers failed in their efforts to blow the safe.

Eight bakers, on duty kneading dough when the five robbers entered the place, were forced by the intruders to leave their posts and stack 200-pound sacks of flour and sugar around the company's safe to deaden the sound of nitro-glycerin.

But three blasts failed to open the safe. Meanwhile the dough in the ovens was burning up, and the robbers left in disgust, taking a radio with them.

Comment on Action
Of Gov. Roosevelt

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 27.—Informed of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's decision to drop his fight on the two-thirds rule, Senator Walsh of Montana, the Roosevelt candidate for the permanent chairmanship, said he was glad to hear of the Governor's statement because "it will dispose of a very controversial subject."

In my judgment the Governor is a good sport," he added. V. J. Dallman, leader of the

Continued on Page 3, Column 2.

Sounds "Do" for Democrats

SENATOR ALBEN W. BARKLEY.

Convention Sidelights

By PAUL Y. ANDERSON.
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

Chicago, June 27.—We are back in the same blood-red hall where the Republicans met two weeks ago, but this time it won't be necessary for anyone to bring along his knitting in order to stay awake. Whatever else they do, the Democrats will give a show.

Commander Evangeline Booth, born in England, pronounces the invocation. Mme. Rose Zuluian, born in Armenia, sings "The Star-Spangled Banner." Chairman Raskob brings forward Edward N. Hurley, a native of Canada, who introduces Mayor Cermak, a Bohemian, to deliver the address of welcome.

Isadore Dockweiler of California reads Jefferson's first inaugural address.

RASKOB elicited the first good laugh of the session. Republican orators have repeatedly accused Democratic national headquarters of "amateurism" the Hoover administration. Raskob said he had been puzzled by this charge until he consulted a dictionary and learned that "amateur" among other things means "to appoint a dead body with sacred oil before burning it." He added that it was charitable in the Democrats to use sacred oil for the purpose instead of Teapot Dome Oil. It smelled more like banana oil to me but the crowd enjoyed it. As a matter of fact, Raskob certainly deserved to have his little joke. His brief hour in the spotlight has cost him in the neighborhood of a million. And a million, to borrow the elegant phrase of one of my colleagues, "ain't hay."

IT may be a bad wagon or it may be a hearse. Not being a politician, this writer is unable to say whether Gov. Roosevelt actually has the nomination in the bag or not, but a lot of people who are politicians apparently think so, and their scramble to clamor aboard the vehicle is amusing. None have displayed more eagerness in that respect than the Missouri delegates, and it required a combination of Jim Reed's oratory and Boss Fendergast's force to keep them from bolting last night. Incidentally, these affairs never are Sunday school picnics, but Fendergast's threat to have some of his Kansas City "goats" throw delegate Gualdoni out of the Congress Hotel if he refused to stick by Reed "for 99 years" was pretty raw stuff. The story went throughout the country, because Missouri was big news for several hours last night when it seemed on the verge of clinching the nomination for Roosevelt.

SENATOR BARKLEY is a somewhat better keynoter than his colleague, Senator Dickinson. The latter, of course, had to find something to praise, while Barkley had only to criticize. Also Barkley is a better natural speaker. But why any intelligent man makes a two-hour speech on an occasion like this is something I will never understand.

On and on he goes. Reporters send messenger boys for hot dogs and beer; delegates visit around the floor, read newspapers, run handkerchiefs over their bald heads and stare vacantly upward at the galleries. Huey Long thrusts his burly shoulders through the aisles with a sandwich in each hand. Gene Tunney strolls through the press section and the crowd recognizes him. Poor Barkley works hard, raising his voice and using gestures. He is giving the tariff hell. "Hoer-Grundy tariff," he shouts—"unjust, nefarious, indefensible." The delegates give him a hand, but the roof howls: "We want beer."

THOMAS JEFFERSON isn't getting the hand here that Abraham Lincoln got from the Republicans. Of course, Lincoln was practically all the Republicans had to cheer about. It's pretty hard to stir up enthusiasm for the depression and "egg Charles" Curtis.

THE funniest thing I have seen here was an editorial in the Chicago Tribune solemnly lamenting the extent of racketeering and crime in the city of Washington. If there is a safer place in the country than Washington or an unsafer one than Chicago, I don't know it.

BARKLEY has been going for nearly two hours now. Those ghastly Klieg lights beat relentlessly in his face. He sweats and labors. Finally he declares Congress should submit to the states an amendment repealing the eighteenth amendment. The air is rent by a sudden, startling and spontaneous yell. A delegate leaps up, grabs the district of Columbia standard from its socket, and the parade starts. There is nothing synthetic about this demonstration. The pipe organ bursts successively into the Maine "Stein Song," "How Dry I Am," "Happy Days Are Here Again" and "The Old Gray Mare, She Ain't What She Used to Be."

There is a brief scuffle over the Texas standard, and the placard is torn off. Only Alabama, Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado and Virginia remain out of line, their standard gripped and guarded by little knots of men who stand with grim faces as the yelling procession goes by. In the press section "Wee Willie" Upshaw, former Georgia Congressman and professional fire lecturer, sits leaning his chin on his crutches. He seems unhappy. The uproar lasts 15 minutes before Barkley can resume.

Continued on Page 3, Column 2.

OPENING SESSION A COLORFUL ONE; RASKOB IN SPEECH URGES REPEAL

Roosevelt's Message Gets to Floor When Managers, Noting Crumbling of Support, Were Considering Abandoning Fight.

EVANGELINE BOOTH OFFERS PRAYER

Ten Minute Parade of Cheering Delegations Is Set Off by Senator Barkley's Demand for Repeal Submission.

By the Associated Press.
ALBANY, N. Y., June 27.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt today telegraphed supporters at the Democratic National Convention to cease their efforts to abrogate the two-thirds convention rule.

The Governor indicated he was confident of nomination without resorting to a change of the long-observed nominating rule of the Democratic party.

The leading candidate for the nomination sent his instructions to abandon the fight to the director of his campaign, James A. Farley. The New Yorker said that the action was taken in the interest of harmony and not because he had swerved from his opinion that the two-thirds rule was undemocratic.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 27.—The Democratic party opened its national convention today in the Chicago Stadium keyed high with partisan enthusiasm, but torn by internal strife over the bid of Franklin D. Roosevelt for the presidency.

In the saddle temporarily, at least, the Roosevelt men took complete charge of temporary organization, having their way without opposition on every convention committee. The troubles stirring underneath were seared over for the moment by outward harmony as the big party convalesced through the pre-arranged motions of getting its work under way.

Gov. Roosevelt's order against continuation of the fight to eliminate the two-thirds rule was received at headquarters and promptly accepted as final by James A. Farley, head of the Roosevelt Board of Strategy.

Southern Support Crumbled. With the Southern states in revolt against abrogation of the century-old rule at this time, the Roosevelt leaders had been in conference during the morning considering a reversal of policy.

The switch came after a check-up of the delegations showed the result on abrogation of the two-thirds rule to be hanging by a very narrow margin, but the Rooseveltians insisted up to the last that they had the votes.

Willing to stand on the two-thirds rule, the Roosevelt spokesman still confidently predicted the nomination of the New York Governor, obviously counting on the big bulk of New York's 94 votes to turn the trick.

Demand for Repeal Submission. In addresses to the convention, John J. Raskob, the national chairman, and Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, the keynoter, asked for submission of the question of prohibition repeal. It developed, also, that a floor fight on that question was in prospect. Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, an Al Smith supporter, said he would take to the convention itself a plank committing the party to repeal, not merely submission.

Raskob's espousal of a repeal submission plank was contained in a surprise speech, preceding that of the keynoter. He declared the time had come to do away with the reign of dry laws.

Barkley, long a prohibitionist, made almost the same recommendation in the course of a keynote speech which also asked for lower

Continued on Page 3, Column 2.

FUNG

TRICHOASTER
TRICHOPTERUS,
FORMERLY KNOWN
OSPHROMENUS
TRICHOPTERUS OR
"THREE-SPOT GOURAMI"

THEY ARE BETTA
S, OR THE FIGHTING FISH ARE BET ON SIZE-FIGHTERS
THAT'S NOT REASON THEY ARE CALLED BETTAS"

WHY, ROD?
WHO EVER
SAID I WAS?

IT'S TRUUM

KNOW
FISH!

PAUL FUNG

CONVENTION DELEGATES PUT ON 10-MINUTE DEMONSTRATION FOR REPEAL

PARADE AROUND HALL AT MENTION OF SUBMISSION

Texas' Standard Carried Into Line After Fight—Few States Refuse to Join Procession.

Continued From Page One.

tariff rates and condemned Republican "blundering" at Washington. The first big demonstration of the convention broke loose when Senator Barkley got to that point of his speech urging submission of the question of repealing the eighteenth amendment.

A great cheer swept the stadium. Secretary Robert Jackson came down off the platform and urged the delegates to join in the demonstration. The New Hampshire delegation started a parade. It got under way with a bang and state after state fell into line and paraded down the crowded aisles for 10 minutes.

In the end, every state standard and those of Nebraska, Oklahoma, North Carolina, Alabama and Kansas had been carried into the demonstration. Texas got into it after a fist fight in the delegation. At first the divided delegation threw the balance in favor of standing fast, but recruits came up for the submissionists, and the standard went bobbing away, partly demolished. Two women were knocked down in the fight, but no one was badly hurt.

Only a few formalities, aside from that, were before the convention at its opening session, the delegates approved a temporary state of officers by acclamation, set up and started to work its Platform, Credentials and Rules subcommittee, cheered Al Smith, Albert Ritchie, John W. Davis, Harry Byrd, William G. McAdoo, Alfalfa Bill Murray and many others as they appeared in their places on the floor, and listened to the reading of Jefferson's first inaugural.

Altogether, it was a session alive with color and noise with applause of its heroes.

Candidates on the Floor. Delegates went to the Stadium today as the Stadium pipe organ and bands played. Leaders gathered in knots to put their heads together.

Nearly every delegation was headed for its candidate, and the total of nearly a dozen aspirants to the nomination recalled with force the scene eight years ago in the opening sessions of the big break-up at Madison Square Garden.

The Marylanders, more than a hundred strong, although they had but 16 votes among them, displayed high above their section huge placards urging the Democracy to "Win With Ritchie."

Several of the candidates themselves were on the floor, and they moved about amid traveling ovations. The differences of opinion had taken a good-natured turn for the moment, but they were no less real.

"Alfalfa" Bill Murray, who has his home State of Oklahoma and one delegate from North Dakota, got to the hall exactly an hour before the convening hour of noon. The hall was almost empty, except for blue-coated ushers and a swarm of countless sergeants-at-arms, as the tall, good-looking Governor found his way to his seat in the Oklahoma delegation section.

"The way to do is to be on hand early," Murray said, as he sat down with black sombrero pulled down over his nose and a well worn black cigar clutched in his teeth. It was too tame for him, however, despite the band's efforts, and he wandered down the aisle, to become increasingly the center of a chatting, hand-shaking group of gathering delegates.

Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, in white, and a snappy, new Panama, came in to look for his fellow Mississippian and found only a row of empty benches.

Senator Huey Long, the Louisiana "kingfish," took up his place on the flank of the State delegation, a newspaper spread on his knees.

As usual, the rank and file of delegates and on-lookers as well were slow in arriving. As the bands and the organ alternated, filling the hall with the roaring tones of old convention favorites, the floor and galleries filled by trickles. Noon came and passed, and there was not a sign that a call to order was even near.

The hall itself was precisely the same riot of flags and bunting as when the Republicans met beneath its great roof. The high ceiling was entirely hidden by red, white and blue in wide panelling. Dozens of great American flags were suspended over every section. All

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Founded by J. M. B. WILSON
Published Daily by the Pulitzer Publishing Co.
Printed at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Press
Telephone: MAIN 1111

Published Daily by the Pulitzer Publishing Co.
Printed at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch Press
Telephone: MAIN 1111

Democratic Platform Builders at Work in Chicago

IN the picture, from left, are SENATOR CARTER G. LASS of Virginia, SENATOR DAVID I. WALSH of Massachusetts, A. MITCHELL PALMER of Pennsylvania, SENATOR BURTON K. WHEELER of Montana, JOSEPH C. O'MAHONEY of Wyoming, SENATOR OOB DELL HULL of Tennessee, WILLIAM G. MCADOO of California and WILLIAM A. COWSTOCK of Michigan. The chairman of the sub-committee, former Senator GILBERT M. HITCHCOCK of Nebraska, was not present at the time.

about the hall were the same series of portraits of George Washington that looked down on the Republicans, with new pictures anywhere of a party hero.

As organ and band really warmed up to their work, and began mixing state songs with the reporting of popular melodies, the convention began for the first time to respond with cheers and hand-clapping.

To the tune of "Maryland, My Maryland," Gov. Ritchie headed his way to his seat amid an ovation. His whitening, curly hair gleamed under the camera lights.

William G. McAdoo, blue clad and smiling, found his place under the California standard with difficulty, for he was stopped again and again by delegates who wanted to shake his hand. When he passed the Texas delegates, pledged like McAdoo himself to Speaker Garner, the whole delegation rose and cheered him.

His own Virginia, and many other states applauded as Harry F. Byrd came in followed by a crowd of supporters. There was hand-clapping as Josephus Daniels of North Carolina, Wilson's wartime Navy Secretary, found his place.

Joeet Shouse, the party's executive chairman, appeared on the platform and was much photographed almost at the same moment that Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, his rival for the permanent chairmanship, went to his place in the Montana delegation unrecognized by the crowd.

The first parade of the convention was started around the hall by a Garner band. Behind marched the Texans, with a huge picture of their candidate, and the Californians carrying the Stars and Stripes beside their State flag. The convention officials got into action and the band filed out of the hall as a bevy of assistant sergeants-at-arms urged delegates and spectators to their seats.

At 20 minutes past noon John J. Raskob, the national chairman, asked for order, but didn't get anything resembling it. He and Col. Ed Halsey of Virginia, the chief sergeants-at-arms, took turns banging the gavel and ordering the crowded aisles cleared. The delegates section was nearly filled, but the galleries were more than half empty.

Evangeline Booth Offers Prayer. It took nearly a half hour to get the crowd under any sort of control, and it was 12:45 when Raskob presented Evangeline Booth, of the Salvation Army, to pronounce the opening prayer.

Hatless, in coatless high-collared Salvation Army uniform—dark blue with white shoulder straps of her rank—she stood with closed eyes and delivered her petition in a voice clear but quivering with earnestness. It was a most impressive moment.

She prayed for moral strength "to combat the evils of selfishness, greed, indulgence and all unwholesome."

Then, with the crowd standing again, Mrs. Ross Zulian of Massachusetts sang two stanzas of "The Star-Spangled Banner." A great cheer went up as she concluded.

Edward Hurley, chairman of the local Arrangements Committee, presented Mayor Anton Cermak, who welcomed the visiting Democrats on behalf of "Chicago and all its citizens." His honor got a cheer when he reminded the delegates that he, too, belonged to the party of Jackson, Jefferson and Wilson, and another when he asked for repeal of prohibition.

Al Smith Cheered Briefly. Just as he finished, Al Smith came on the floor through the narrow runway under the Speaker's stand. At first he was recognized by few, but one of those he bumped into was James A. Farley, the Roosevelt manager. They shook hands, smiling.

As the "Happy Warrior" threaded his way through the crowded center aisle, to the New York delegation half way down the center, a noisy welcome slowly developed around him. Massachusetts, instructed for him, rose and gave him three cheers, and many others, including some of the Rooseveltians, joined in. But it was all over in a minute. Mostly, the delegates were getting tired. They moved about restlessly, and there was a constant hum of conversation which even the Kentuckian's clear, strong voice could not entirely override.

The restless audience came to attention again when Senator Barkley reached his discussion of the dry laws. Repeatedly he was applauded by scattered groups of delegates as he declared successfully for law enforcement, and for the right of the people to decide the prohibition question for themselves.

There was applause, too, when he indirectly asked that the party platform condemn prohibition.

"It is not the function of the chairman of the Democratic National Committee to present a platform to this convention," he said. "But I urge each and everyone of you delegates to demand a platform that will breathe a courageous determination to stamp out rackets and all forms of license that today are undermining the morals and exhausting the financial strength of the nation."

"Many of our citizens attribute these conditions to the eighteenth amendment. After 12 years of practical experience living under conditions imposed by this amendment, all honest Democrats must concede that the people themselves should have an opportunity to vote directly on this important question, which is of greater economic importance than any other question before the country today."

Assailed G. O. P. Liquor Plank. "The Republican party should hang its head in shame for the deceit it attempts to perpetrate on the citizens of the United States in presenting the prohibition plank contained in its platform. That plank, like its authors, is so intellectually dishonest that its mere presentation insults the intelligence of American citizens. The rugged courage and honesty of that eminent lawyer, banker and great statesman, the honorable Dwight W. Morrow, was sadly lacking in that convention."

"I strongly recommend and urge that our platform pledge Democratic members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives to propose to conventions of the several states, as provided in Article V of the Constitution of the United States, a constitutional amendment that will definitely repeal the eighteenth amendment and definitely rest in the Federal Government all power necessary to assist and protect the several states against violations of their laws by prohibitionists. Further, that the Democratic party pledge itself to secure the enactment in the several states of such laws as will restore tolerance and temperance to the people of the old-fashioned saloons, bring the liquor traffic under complete public supervision and control and, through proper excise taxes, relieve present taxpayers of an annual burden of over $1,000,000,000 in Federal taxes."

"This recommendation stands four-square with the states' rights and home rule principles that form the foundation on which Thomas Jefferson built our party and enable to what party they belong, to go to the polls and in true democratic fashion record their votes for or against an amendment so plain, so simple, so straightforward and so honest that there can be no misunderstanding the will of the people as a result of the election."

The convention listened restlessly to the speaker's declaration of California, read Jefferson's first inaugural, and then by acclamation approved the previously agreed upon slate of temporary convention officers.

Then Senator Barkley was escorted to the platform by a Raskob-appointed committee consisting of Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, John W. Davis, the nominee eight years ago, and Nellie Tamm, the former Governor of Wyoming.

Barkley, looking hot and uncomfortable despite his white linen, adjusted his eyeglasses and began to read rapidly.

Only now and then did applause arrest him, but there was a cheer when he paid tribute to Woodrow Wilson. The convention rose and cheered and clapped his hands for a minute. Mostly, the delegates were getting tired. They moved about restlessly, and there was a constant hum of conversation which even the Kentuckian's clear, strong voice could not entirely override.

The restless audience came to attention again when Senator Barkley reached his discussion of the dry laws. Repeatedly he was applauded by scattered groups of delegates as he declared successfully for law enforcement, and for the right of the people to decide the prohibition question for themselves.

There was applause, too, when he indirectly asked that the party platform condemn prohibition.

"It is not the function of the chairman of the Democratic National Committee to present a platform to this convention," he said. "But I urge each and everyone of you delegates to demand a platform that will breathe a courageous determination to stamp out rackets and all forms of license that today are undermining the morals and exhausting the financial strength of the nation."

"Many of our citizens attribute these conditions to the eighteenth amendment. After 12 years of practical experience living under conditions imposed by this amendment, all honest Democrats must concede that the people themselves should have an opportunity to vote directly on this important question, which is of greater economic importance than any other question before the country today."

Assailed G. O. P. Liquor Plank. "The Republican party should hang its head in shame for the deceit it attempts to perpetrate on the citizens of the United States in presenting the prohibition plank contained in its platform. That plank, like its authors, is so intellectually dishonest that its mere presentation insults the intelligence of American citizens. The rugged courage and honesty of that eminent lawyer, banker and great statesman, the honorable Dwight W. Morrow, was sadly lacking in that convention."

"I strongly recommend and urge that our platform pledge Democratic members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives to propose to conventions of the several states, as provided in Article V of the Constitution of the United States, a constitutional amendment that will definitely repeal the eighteenth amendment and definitely rest in the Federal Government all power necessary to assist and protect the several states against violations of their laws by prohibitionists. Further, that the Democratic party pledge itself to secure the enactment in the several states of such laws as will restore tolerance and temperance to the people of the old-fashioned saloons, bring the liquor traffic under complete public supervision and control and, through proper excise taxes, relieve present taxpayers of an annual burden of over $1,000,000,000 in Federal taxes."

"This recommendation stands four-square with the states' rights and home rule principles that form the foundation on which Thomas Jefferson built our party and enable to what party they belong, to go to the polls and in true democratic fashion record their votes for or against an amendment so plain, so simple, so straightforward and so honest that there can be no misunderstanding the will of the people as a result of the election."

The convention listened restlessly to the speaker's declaration of California, read Jefferson's first inaugural, and then by acclamation approved the previously agreed upon slate of temporary convention officers.

Then Senator Barkley was escorted to the platform by a Raskob-appointed committee consisting of Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, John W. Davis, the nominee eight years ago, and Nellie Tamm, the former Governor of Wyoming.

Barkley, looking hot and uncomfortable despite his white linen, adjusted his eyeglasses and began to read rapidly.

Only now and then did applause arrest him, but there was a cheer when he paid tribute to Woodrow Wilson. The convention rose and cheered and clapped his hands for a minute. Mostly, the delegates were getting tired. They moved about restlessly, and there was a constant hum of conversation which even the Kentuckian's clear, strong voice could not entirely override.

The restless audience came to attention again when Senator Barkley reached his discussion of the dry laws. Repeatedly he was applauded by scattered groups of delegates as he declared successfully for law enforcement, and for the right of the people to decide the prohibition question for themselves.

There was applause, too, when he indirectly asked that the party platform condemn prohibition.

"It is not the function of the chairman of the Democratic National Committee to present a platform to this convention," he said. "But I urge each and everyone of you delegates to demand a platform that will breathe a courageous determination to stamp out rackets and all forms of license that today are undermining the morals and exhausting the financial strength of the nation."

"Many of our citizens attribute these conditions to the eighteenth amendment. After 12 years of practical experience living under conditions imposed by this amendment, all honest Democrats must concede that the people themselves should have an opportunity to vote directly on this important question, which is of greater economic importance than any other question before the country today."

Assailed G. O. P. Liquor Plank. "The Republican party should hang its head in shame for the deceit it attempts to perpetrate on the citizens of the United States in presenting the prohibition plank contained in its platform. That plank, like its authors, is so intellectually dishonest that its mere presentation insults the intelligence of American citizens. The rugged courage and honesty of that eminent lawyer, banker and great statesman, the honorable Dwight W. Morrow, was sadly lacking in that convention."

"I strongly recommend and urge that our platform pledge Democratic members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives to propose to conventions of the several states, as provided in Article V of the Constitution of the United States, a constitutional amendment that will definitely repeal the eighteenth amendment and definitely rest in the Federal Government all power necessary to assist and protect the several states against violations of their laws by prohibitionists. Further, that the Democratic party pledge itself to secure the enactment in the several states of such laws as will restore tolerance and temperance to the people of the old-fashioned saloons, bring the liquor traffic under complete public supervision and control and, through proper excise taxes, relieve present taxpayers of an annual burden of over $1,000,000,000 in Federal taxes."

"This recommendation stands four-square with the states' rights and home rule principles that form the foundation on which Thomas Jefferson built our party and enable to what party they belong, to go to the polls and in true democratic fashion record their votes for or against an amendment so plain, so simple, so straightforward and so honest that there can be no misunderstanding the will of the people as a result of the election."

The convention listened restlessly to the speaker's declaration of California, read Jefferson's first inaugural, and then by acclamation approved the previously agreed upon slate of temporary convention officers.

Then Senator Barkley was escorted to the platform by a Raskob-appointed committee consisting of Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, John W. Davis, the nominee eight years ago, and Nellie Tamm, the former Governor of Wyoming.

Barkley, looking hot and uncomfortable despite his white linen, adjusted his eyeglasses and began to read rapidly.

FINAL DRAFTING OF LIQUOR PLANK LEFT FOR THE LAST

Democratic Platform Builders Face Fight Over Demand for Repeal Recommendation—Hearing on Farm Plan.

up its few remaining details of organization. On motion of Gov. Pollard of Virginia, the convention made the customary arrangement of referring all resolutions to the Platform Committee without reading.

A former national chairman, Homer S. Cummings of Connecticut, moved that the convention approve the selections already made by the state delegations for membership on the credentials, rules, platform and permanent organization committees. It was done.

The roll of states was called and each delegation chairman announced its selected members on the various convention committees. The convention adjourned at 4:08 p. m. to meet again at noon tomorrow.

STOCK OF DAWES' BANK OFF FROM $47 TO $20 BID PRICE
Directors of Central Republic to Act on Dividend; Former Ambassador Takes Charge.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 27.—Capital stock quotations of the Central Republic Bank & Trust Co. dropped heavily today from $47 bid and $49 asked to $20 and $25.

Trading was extremely light, and there was no share announcement to explain the slump. Directors of the bank met tomorrow for dividend action.

Charles G. Dawes resumed the chairmanship of the bank, which even the Kentuckian's clear, strong voice could not entirely override.

By way of a keynote of his own, Chairman Raskob then launched into a report on the state of the party. The chairman was cheered when he paid tribute to Joeet Shouse, who has been in charge of Democratic headquarters in Washington, and to Charles Mitchell, the publicity director.

There was applause, too, when he indirectly asked that the party platform condemn prohibition.

"It is not the function of the chairman of the Democratic National Committee to present a platform to this convention," he said. "But I urge each and everyone of you delegates to demand a platform that will breathe a courageous determination to stamp out rackets and all forms of license that today are undermining the morals and exhausting the financial strength of the nation."

"Many of our citizens attribute these conditions to the eighteenth amendment. After 12 years of practical experience living under conditions imposed by this amendment, all honest Democrats must concede that the people themselves should have an opportunity to vote directly on this important question, which is of greater economic importance than any other question before the country today."

Assailed G. O. P. Liquor Plank. "The Republican party should hang its head in shame for the deceit it attempts to perpetrate on the citizens of the United States in presenting the prohibition plank contained in its platform. That plank, like its authors, is so intellectually dishonest that its mere presentation insults the intelligence of American citizens. The rugged courage and honesty of that eminent lawyer, banker and great statesman, the honorable Dwight W. Morrow, was sadly lacking in that convention."

"I strongly recommend and urge that our platform pledge Democratic members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives to propose to conventions of the several states, as provided in Article V of the Constitution of the United States, a constitutional amendment that will definitely repeal the eighteenth amendment and definitely rest in the Federal Government all power necessary to assist and protect the several states against violations of their laws by prohibitionists. Further, that the Democratic party pledge itself to secure the enactment in the several states of such laws as will restore tolerance and temperance to the people of the old-fashioned saloons, bring the liquor traffic under complete public supervision and control and, through proper excise taxes, relieve present taxpayers of an annual burden of over $1,000,000,000 in Federal taxes."

"This recommendation stands four-square with the states' rights and home rule principles that form the foundation on which Thomas Jefferson built our party and enable to what party they belong, to go to the polls and in true democratic fashion record their votes for or against an amendment so plain, so simple, so straightforward and so honest that there can be no misunderstanding the will of the people as a result of the election."

The convention listened restlessly to the speaker's declaration of California, read Jefferson's first inaugural, and then by acclamation approved the previously agreed upon slate of temporary convention officers.

Then Senator Barkley was escorted to the platform by a Raskob-appointed committee consisting of Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, John W. Davis, the nominee eight years ago, and Nellie Tamm, the former Governor of Wyoming.

Barkley, looking hot and uncomfortable despite his white linen, adjusted his eyeglasses and began to read rapidly.

Only now and then did applause arrest him, but there was a cheer when he paid tribute to Woodrow Wilson. The convention rose and cheered and clapped his hands for a minute. Mostly, the delegates were getting tired. They moved about restlessly, and there was a constant hum of conversation which even the Kentuckian's clear, strong voice could not entirely override.

The restless audience came to attention again when Senator Barkley reached his discussion of the dry laws. Repeatedly he was applauded by scattered groups of delegates as he declared successfully for law enforcement, and for the right of the people to decide the prohibition question for themselves.

There was applause, too, when he indirectly asked that the party platform condemn prohibition.

"It is not the function of the chairman of the Democratic National Committee to present a platform to this convention," he said. "But I urge each and everyone of you delegates to demand a platform that will breathe a courageous determination to stamp out rackets and all forms of license that today are undermining the morals and exhausting the financial strength of the nation."

"Many of our citizens attribute these conditions to the eighteenth amendment. After 12 years of practical experience living under conditions imposed by this amendment, all honest Democrats must concede that the people themselves should have an opportunity to vote directly on this important question, which is of greater economic importance than any other question before the country today."

Assailed G. O. P. Liquor Plank. "The Republican party should hang its head in shame for the deceit it attempts to perpetrate on the citizens of the United States in presenting the prohibition plank contained in its platform. That plank, like its authors, is so intellectually dishonest that its mere presentation insults the intelligence of American citizens. The rugged courage and honesty of that eminent lawyer, banker and great statesman, the honorable Dwight W. Morrow, was sadly lacking in that convention."

"I strongly recommend and urge that our platform pledge Democratic members of the United States Senate and House of Representatives to propose to conventions of the several states, as provided in Article V of the Constitution of the United States, a constitutional amendment that will definitely repeal the eighteenth amendment and definitely rest in the Federal Government all power necessary to assist and protect the several states against violations of their laws by prohibitionists. Further, that the Democratic party pledge itself to secure the enactment in the several states of such laws as will restore tolerance and temperance to the people of the old-fashioned saloons, bring the liquor traffic under complete public supervision and control and, through proper excise taxes, relieve present taxpayers of an annual burden of over $1,000,000,000 in Federal taxes."

"This recommendation stands four-square with the states' rights and home rule principles that form the foundation on which Thomas Jefferson built our party and enable to what party they belong, to go to the polls and in true democratic fashion record their votes for or against an amendment so plain, so simple, so straightforward and so honest that there can be no misunderstanding the will of the people as a result of the election."

The convention listened restlessly to the speaker's declaration of California, read Jefferson's first inaugural, and then by acclamation approved the previously agreed upon slate of temporary convention officers.

Then Senator Barkley was escorted to the platform by a Raskob-appointed committee consisting of Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, John W. Davis, the nominee eight years ago, and Nellie Tamm, the former Governor of Wyoming.

NEW IMMIGRATION BILL HITS DIPLOMATS' SERVANTS

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 27.—A bill to tighten immigration laws on servants of diplomats and students entering the United States was passed today by the Senate and sent to the President.

Senator Reed (Rep.), Pennsylvania, said several thousand persons had been brought here as servants to Ambassadors, Ministers and others and later discharged.

"They entered legally, but are remaining here illegally," he added. "This bill is to enable the Secretary of Labor to provide for their deportation."

The bill requires the filing of a bond by students to make certain they will go home without the trouble or expense of deportation proceedings.

Bridge Right-of-Way Bill Passed. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 27.—The Senate passed today and sent to the House the Glenn bill to grant the right-of-way over Government land to the Savannah-Savannah Bridge Co. for construction of a highway between Savannah, Ill., and Sabula, Ill. The road would cross the upper Mississippi River with life re-use.

Hoover Returns From Camp. WASHINGTON, June 27.—President Hoover today returned to the White House from his Rapidan river camp.

He had Secretary of Agriculture Hyde as a guest at the camp last night. Today Mr. Hoover conferred with Secretary of State Stimson.

Smithsonian Institute Regents. WASHINGTON, June 27.—The Senate today passed and sent to the White House a resolution directing that vacancies on the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institute be filled by the appointment of R. Walton Moore of Virginia, Robert W. Bingham of Kentucky and Augustus P. Loring of Massachusetts.

Tombstones Broken By Hoodlums. DESSAU, Germany, June 27.—A group of young hoodlums entered the cemetery here Saturday night and demolished 60 headstones. Forty of the stones were in the form of the cross.

Harvard Woman Astronomer Drowned When Canoe Upsets. Miss Adelaide Ames Unable to Swim to Safety in New Hampshire Lake.

By the Associated Press. LACONIA, N. H., June 27.—Miss Adelaide Ames, young research assistant at the Harvard College Observatory, Cambridge, Mass., was drowned in Squam Lake yesterday after her canoe capsized. She attempted to swim ashore but was unable to make it. She had been spending a vacation at the lake resort.

Miss Ames had been research assistant at the observatory since 1923. Her chief scientific work was in collaboration with Dr. Shapley on detailed surveys of the brighter extra-galactic nebulae. In 1931 she published a catalog of nearly 2800 external galaxies forming a system in the constellation of Coma and Virgo near the North Pole of the Milky Way. This survey is an extensive analysis of the number, magnitudes, sizes and classifications of these outside universes.

Veteran's Claim Thrown Out. Suit for Two $10,000 Policies Lost on Appeal.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 27.—The suit of Thomas Griffin, said to be a war veteran from Alton, Ill., to collect permanent disability claims on two $10,000 war risk insurance policies was thrown out today by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

His claims were rejected after he presented them in September, 1930. United States District Judge Louis FitzHenry sustained the Government's demurrer, based on the fact that suit could not be brought until the director of war risk insurance himself had disapproved the claims.

The higher court upheld Judge FitzHenry.

AL SMITH'S LIQUOR PLANK Favors Legalization of Beer and Wine Pending Repeal.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 27.—One of the shortest platform planks proposed to the Democratic Resolutions Committee is that put forward by Alfred E. Smith. It is:

"We favor repeal of the eighteenth amendment and pledge our party in Congress to submit such repeal to state conventions for action."

"For immediate relief, we favor an amendment to the Volstead act fixing a reasonable definition of alcoholic content as to legalize light wine and beer."

Every closed body wired for radio

Arthur R. Lindburg, Inc., Distributor
2309-11 Locust St.
Open Evenings Until 9 and Sundays Until 6 O'Clock
Phone GA. 4433

Associate Dealers
KOERNER-SNIPEN, Inc., 3504 South Grand Blvd., Laclede 9400
COOKSON MOTOR CO., East St. Louis, Ill.
SHEARBURN AUTO CO., Alton, Ill.
ENDRES MOTOR SALES, Belleville, Ill.
HAMMOND MOTOR CAR CO., Granite City, Ill.

WOMAN TOURIST KILLED IN AUTO UPSET, 3 INJURED

Mrs. Frank Gayou, St. Louis, Fatally Hurt Near Greencastle, Ind., on Way Home From Canada.

HUSBAND IN WRECK, TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Rose Metzler and Her Daughter-in-Law, Mrs. Joseph Metzler, Other Victims of Accident.

Mrs. Frank Gayou, 71 years old, 1915 Idaho avenue, was killed and her husband and two St. Louis women were injured when their automobile overturned yesterday on a highway near Greencastle, Ind., while they were returning from a tour to Canada.

The injured, in addition to Gayou, were Mrs. Rose Metzler, a widow, 605 Dyer street, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Metzler, 6145A Madison avenue. They are in a St. Louis hospital. Mrs. Gayou is the mother of Mrs. Joseph Metzler. The party left St. Louis June 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Metzler were returning from a tour to Canada. The injured, in addition to Gayou, were Mrs. Rose Metzler, a widow, 605 Dyer street, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Metzler, 6145A Madison avenue. They are in a St. Louis hospital. Mrs. Gayou is the mother of Mrs. Joseph Metzler. The party left St. Louis June 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Metzler were returning from a tour to Canada. The injured, in addition to Gayou, were Mrs. Rose Metzler, a widow, 605 Dyer street, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Metzler, 6145A Madison avenue. They are in a St. Louis hospital. Mrs. Gayou is the mother of Mrs. Joseph Metzler. The party left St. Louis June 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Metzler were returning from a tour to Canada. The injured, in addition to Gayou, were Mrs. Rose Metzler, a widow, 605 Dyer street, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Metz

REPEAL

NEW IMMIGRATION BILL
HITS DIPLOMATS' SERVANTS

WASHINGTON, June 27.—A bill to tighten immigration laws on servants of diplomats and students entering the United States was passed today by the Senate and sent to the President.

Senator Reed (Rep.), Pennsylvania, said several thousand persons had been brought here as servants of Ambassadors, Ministers and others and later discharged.

"They entered legally, but are remaining here illegally," he added. This bill is to enable the Secretary of Labor to provide for their deportation.

The bill requires the filing of a bond by students to make certain they will go home without the trouble or expense of deportation proceedings.

Bridge Right-of-Way Bill Passed, by the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The Senate passed today and sent to the House the bill to grant the right-of-way over Government land to the Savannah-Sabula Bridge Co. for construction of a highway between Savannah, Ill., and Sabula, Ia. The road would cross the upper Mississippi River with life raftage.

TRAVEL AND RESORTS

NIAGARA FALLS

Toronto

All-Expense Tours

5 DAYS, $39.50

July 16, Aug. 6, Sept. 3

Includes railroad and steamer transportation; all meals; hotel accommodations; complete sightseeing trip at Niagara Falls, Toronto and Detroit; 110-mile lake trip—dancing—swimming.

Big Four Ticket Office

320 North Broadway

KIRKLAND & LANE TOURS

Central 5770, 421 Bowman's Bk. Bldg.

KIRKLAND & LANE TOURS

6 OLIVE-706 WASHINGTON

The answer...

And that means breakfasts at Locust Street adds to your breakfast for SIX

Y STUDEBAKER

hills in high!

ach 75 miles an hour in and try out Rockne Free

l Synchronized Shifting,

Automatic Switch-key

ent Cushioned Power and ments that you get at no

ee for yourself why every

Rockne—the car that

y into the low priced field.

$585

AND UP AT THE FACTORY

AC., Distributor

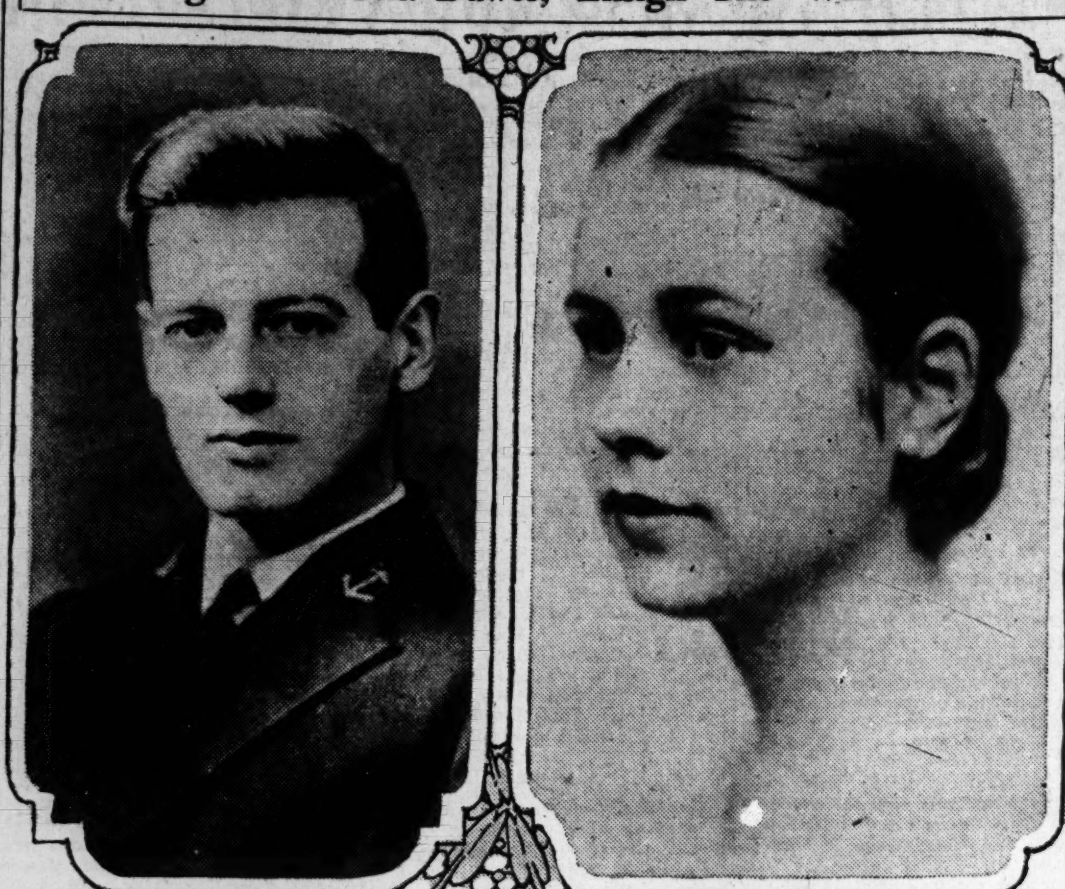

Phone GA. 4433

Laclede 9400

ND MOTOR SALES, Belleville, Ill.

ND MOTOR CAR CO., Granite City, Ill.

Daughter of Gen. Dawes, Ensign She Will Wed

THE engagement of MISS VIRGINIA DAWES to wed ENSIGN JOHN GARDNER TENNANT was announced Saturday. She is the adopted daughter of the former Vice-President, and he is a 1932 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy.

ROOSEVELT SAYS HIS ACTION IS IN INTEREST OF PEOPLE

Continued From Page One.

downstate Illinois Roosevelt forces interpreted the Governor's action as "evidence that Roosevelt believes he has enough strength to win without abrogation."

"I'm still for the majority rule," Gov. Harry H. Woodring of Kansas said, "because it follows the precedent of all Democratic State organizations and because the two-thirds rule is undemocratic."

Senator C. C. Dill, Roosevelt leader on the Washington State delegation, expressed surprise when informed of the decision. "I think the rule should be abrogated, because that is right," Dill said, "but, of course, if Gov. Roosevelt wants to drop the fight, we will go along with him."

Mayor Cermak of Chicago said: "Roosevelt must have counted noses and found out he couldn't put it over."

Gov. Richard B. Russell Jr., chairman of the Georgia delegation, said Georgia came instructed to fight for the majority rule and would of necessity do so if the matter is brought to the floor.

Mayor Frank Hague, Smith leader who had been directing the fight against abrogation of the two-thirds rule, was not excited by Roosevelt's telegram. "It was just what I anticipated," Hague said.

Huey Long's Comment. Senator Long of Louisiana said: "That means Roosevelt will be nominated Georgia ballot instead of the first. Roosevelt did not need the abolition of the two-thirds rule but I think it should be abolished."

Senator King of Utah commented: "If I think Roosevelt did right in calling off the fight. The two-thirds rule should be abolished but it should apply to the next and succeeding conventions, not a current one."

Gov. Murray of Oklahoma: "I should wonder that he didn't pull down because we had him licked by 75 votes on the proposition."

Harry Heher, State chairman of New Jersey and a leader of the Smith forces, said withdrawal of the attempt to abrogate the rule "clearly demonstrates that the Roosevelt people do not control a majority of the delegates."

"A Confession of Defeat." Daniel J. Cohalan, Tammany leader, who last night was named New York member of the Rules Committee and who led the fight in the New York caucus against abrogation of the rule, made the following statement: "Gov. Roosevelt's telegram is a first-class repudiation of his leadership who are here speaking for him. While they may call it a withdrawal from the fight over the rule, it really is a confession of defeat."

"That is what he should have done long ago," said Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, one of the staunchest and most outspoken opponents of abrogation of the two-thirds rule at this convention. Senator Glass said of the statement: "The thing is meaningless. It says not to undertake abrogation of the two-thirds rule at the opening of the convention which is a clear implication that they may try it later."

William G. McAdoo's comment on the Roosevelt telegram was: "I think Gov. Roosevelt made a wise decision."

LINDBERGH GIVES TESTIMONY FOR STATE AT J. H. CURTIS TRIAL

Continued From Page One.

saying the first name of the man to approach him in the negotiations was "Murray."

Meeting at Midnight. On Curtis' instructions, Lindbergh said, he, Bruce and Lieut. George L. Richard made a trip to Cape May courthouse, where they met Curtis at midnight. Curtis reported he had "contacted" the gang, which had requested Curtis to ask Lindbergh several questions, one of which was whether he would withdraw the publication of the list of ransom bills.

When Curtis left that night, Lindbergh continued, the ship builder made a trip to offshore waters, where supposedly he boarded a Gloucester fisherman that was headquarters of the kidnapers.

The description of the gang was given to him by Curtis, Lindbergh said, included "John," the man to whom Dr. Condon paid the $50,000.

The aviator's testimony was not concluded when court adjourned and the will be recalled again at the convening of court tomorrow.

Selection of a jury was completed at 3:30 p. m. Eastern standard time, after numerous challenges by both defense and prosecution.

With Judge Adam C. Robbins on the bench, Curtis sat at the defense table, and Lindbergh sat at the prosecutor's table. Curtis gazed fixedly at Col. Lindbergh. Lindbergh kept his gaze on the table and his face was expressionless as several references were made to him and his murdered child.

George and Sandusky, Curtis' brothers of the defendant, sat at the defense table.

Every seat in the courtroom was filled and the aisles were crowded. Lindbergh entered the courtroom just before court was convened. He came from the witness room with Prosecutor Anthony M. Hauck.

Curtis brought into court, was escorted to the door by Constables, then he walked directly to the defense table.

Defense Motion Denied. The first action after court convened was the filing of a motion by Lloyd Fisher, defense attorney, for the removal from the prosecutor's staff of Harry Stout, aged Fleming-ton lawyer, appointed as special assistant to Prosecutor Hauck. The motion was denied.

The motion was based on the assertion that Stout had earlier been considered as one of the defense attorneys and therefore had special knowledge of the defense strategy.

The defense moved the dismissal of the indictment alleging it deprived the defendant of his constitutional rights, was vague as to detail and placed him in double jeopardy. The motion was denied.

In entering the plea of not guilty, SPECIAL JUNE 27th to JULY 1st Brake Drums Resurfaced Free of Charge With Each Recline . . . New Low Recline Prices GENERAL Brake Service Corp. Main Plant 2727 Locust Open All Night 6821 Delmar Sub-Stations 3425 S. Grand

8 PERSONS DROWN IN OKLAHOMA AND MISSOURI FLOODS

Five Lose Their Lives When Wagon Goes Through Weakened Bridge Near Chickasha.

By the Associated Press. CHICKASHA, Ok., June 27.—Six lives were lost in sudden floods in South Central Oklahoma yesterday as a result of heavy rains. More rain was forecast.

Thirteen persons were plunged into Rush Creek when a small bridge collapsed as the party, in a wagon, was crossing on the way home from church services. Eight were saved.

The bodies of Mrs. John Lindsey and Mrs. Calvin Lindsey, sisters-in-law, were recovered, one seven miles downstream. Three small children of Mrs. John Lindsey, Mary Ruth, 1 year old; J. D. S. and Eugene, also were drowned.

Near Tishomingo, Thomas D. Wado, 25, a highway worker, drove his automobile off a washed-out bridge approach on Sandy Creek and was drowned.

The streams subsided quickly. The Canadian River was high, but not dangerous, at Oklahoma City. Heavy rains were general over the State.

Two Drowned in Floods at Springfield, Mo. By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Mo., June 27.—Two Springfield persons were drowned, and heavy damage was suffered by both city property owners and farmers in torrential floods which swept this region and brought up all the streams suddenly and with a six-inch rainfall last night.

Two drowned were Elender Landers, school teacher, and Louis Conrad, a schoolboy of 13.

On the Jordan, a stream running through the heart of the city, where the Conrad youth was drowned, houses and large wholesale warehouses were flooded, as were the Frisco railroad tracks.

Throughout the region, at Greenfield, Springfield, Carthage, Sarcoxie and near Pierce City, railroads suffered minor washouts which delayed several trains.

Highways and bridges also were washed out. Telegraph and telephone service was interrupted.

Searchers found the body of Miss Landers, 24 years old, near Mumfords, about 11:30 this morning after an extensive search begun at midnight last night by Harold Ward, Joplin, University of Missouri Medical student with whom she had gone on a picnic.

Ward is the youth whose scholastic difficulties at the university resulted in an attack on Prof. H. H. Charlton, professor of anatomy, by Ward's father and brother, Dr. George E. Ward and George E. Ward Jr. of Joplin.

JOHN HUNTER, ONE OF FOUR FLYING BROTHERS, KILLED

Refueling Endurance Flyer Is Struck Down by Propeller of His Plane at Rosedale, Miss.

By the Associated Press. ROSDALE, Miss., June 27.—John Hunter, one of four brothers who set a world's airplane refueling endurance record at Chicago two years ago, was killed here today when the propeller of his ship struck his head.

Hunter was on the way to New Orleans with one of his brothers. They planned to open an air mail route from New Orleans to Gulfport, Miss. Their plane was forced down here by a heavy rain late yesterday.

John Hunter achieved flying fame in 1930, when he and his brother, Kenneth, set the official endurance refueling flight record of 551 hours, 41 minutes, 30 seconds in the monoplane "City of Chicago" at Chicago.

Forest O'Brien and the late Dale Jackson took off from Lambert-St. Louis Field in a Robin monoplane less than three weeks later and remained in the air 447 hours, 23 minutes, 30 seconds, but their feat was not recognized by the National Aeronautic Association, and the Hunter brothers remained the official record holders.

John Hunter, who formerly worked on his parents' farm near Sparta, Ill., and in Illinois coal mines, learned to fly in St. Louis during the early days of Lambert Field. He bought a second-hand plane, and taught his three brothers to fly. Subsequently the "Flying Hunters" gave aerial demonstrations at county fairs and air shows. Walter Hunter, who piloted the refueler during the Chicago endurance flight, is a St. Louis air mail pilot.

Prior to setting the endurance record Hunter flew the air mail on the Chicago-Atlanta route. The earnings of the Hunters from the endurance flight were estimated at $25,000. Since the flight John and his brothers, Albert and Kenneth, have continued to live at Sparta, resuming their barnstorming exhibitions during the summer months. John Hunter was 30 years old and married.

American Hurt, Robbed in France. MOULINS, Department of Allier, France, June 27.—Highwaymen robbed the automobile of Parker Steward of San Francisco of $6000 worth of baggage today as Steward was receiving first-aid treatment in the home of a peasant following a spill on the highway. Steward was described as a "lyric artist." His injuries were not serious.

MISSISSIPPI EXCURSIONS STR. J.S. STPAUL. Lv. Foot Washington Ave. Every morning, 9:30 am. Every evening, 9:00 pm. Every Saturday, 2:30 pm. Ticket Office—Arcade Bldg. Green Bk. Service in Wheel Inf. Phone, MAine 4040

NOTED FLYER KILLED

JOHN HUNTER.

INJUNCTION ISSUED AGAINST DOG TRACK

Judge Grants Temporary Restraining Order on Petition of Prosecuting Attorney.

A temporary injunction against operation of the Wellston Kennel Club dog track, on St. Charles road, was issued today at Clayton by Circuit Judge McElhinney on a petition filed by Prosecuting Attorney Castien.

The track operated May 19 and 20 under protection of an injunction granted by Circuit Judge Mulloy, restraining peace officers from interfering with the track's business. However, the track was closed when the Supreme Court issued a writ of prohibition preventing enforcement of the Mulloy injunction.

Castien, who had obtained the writ of prohibition, followed it up with the filing of the suit on which Judge McElhinney issued his injunction today.

Defendants in the suit were H. B. Staver, Dan F. Brown and Richards C. Burris, who were said to be the owners of the track. The Prosecuting Attorney had also named 12 other persons in his suit as interested in the track's operation, but their names were withdrawn when Staver declared that he, Brown and Burris were the owners.

LAWYER GOES TO JAIL AS PERJURY SUBORNER

J. A. Ryan to Serve Six Months for Advising Bankrupt to Hide Assets.

James A. Ryan, attorney with office in the Arcade Building, was taken to jail at Murphysboro, Ill., yesterday to begin serving a six-month sentence for subornation of perjury.

He and his partner, Joseph E. Hopewell, were convicted by a Federal Court jury in East St. Louis in May, 1931, but Hopewell obtained a new trial. Ryan's conviction was upheld recently by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Chicago. He was fined $1000 in addition to the jail sentence.

Ryan and Hopewell were accused of having advised John H. Pearson, wife of a bankrupt storekeeper at Sullivan, Ill., to conceal $181 of the assets of the bankrupt business.

Pearson and his wife testified for the Government at the trial of the lawyers. Later they pleaded guilty of concealing assets of the business, and Pearson to the additional charge of using the mails to defraud. They were sentenced to a year and a day in prison and immediately paroled.

In his defense Ryan testified that Pearsons had been friends of his family for 30 years and that he had discussed their financial difficulties with them before he and Hopewell became their counsel, which was after the assets had been concealed.

MERCHANT, 19, CHARGED WITH ILLEGAL SALE OF FIREWORKS

Police Ordered to Stop Any Premature Fourth of July Celebrations.

Frank Iacone, a 19-year-old storekeeper, 1104 Fallon street, was charged yesterday with selling and displaying fireworks at Seventh and Biddle streets. The boys were turned over to their parents.

Chief of Police Gerk issued an order to his men today instructing them to stop any premature celebrations of the Fourth of July. He said that "rumblings" of the holiday are heard already and pointed out that police attention now will "nip accidents in the bud."

The display and sale of fireworks, limited by ordinance to three days before the Fourth, will be allowed to begin on Thursday, Chief Gerk said, since Sunday, holiday, intervenes before the Fourth.

END of MONTH SALE

189 Hart Schaffner & Marx

DIXIE WEAVE

SUMMER SUITS

GROUP No. 1

Dixie Weave Suits

VALUES TO $29.50

$18

Included in this group is a splendid selection of blues, gray and tans in smart single-breasted models.

GROUP No. 2

Dixie Weave Suits

VALUES TO $42.50

$26

This group contains some of our finest pure feather-erlight wool Dixie weaves, designed and tailored to give you the utmost in style and wear.

All Charge Purchases Billed Aug. 1st.

END of MONTH SALE

Broken Lines

Men's Furnishings

SHIRTS

60 Pongee Silk. $1.15 Values to $1.95...

144 Radium Silk. $2.95 Values to $4.50...

185 Madras and $1.85 Broadcloth. Values to $3.50...

PAJAMAS

50 pair. Values to $3. $1.65

40 pair. Values to $3. $2.65

TRACK SHIRTS

Pure lisle thread Track Shirts—spe- 34c cial value

60 Belts 50 Pair Golf Hose 50 Pair Suspenders 152 Fine Handkerchiefs..... PRICE

ALL CHARGE PURCHASES BILLED AUG. 1st

WOLFF'S 7TH & OLIVE

NECKWEAR

200 fine Ties. Values to $1.50..... 85c

136 Ties. Values to $1.35 $2.50.....

HOSE

260 pairs fine Lisle and Silks. Values to $1.25..... 55c

187 pairs French and English Lisle. Values to $2.50..... 95c

SHORTS

Fine Broadcloth and Madras. $1.50 to $2 values..... 65c

1/2

WOLFF'S 7TH & OLIVE

WHEN IT'S TIME TO MOVE

THINK OF BEN LANGAN 5201 DELMAR FOREST 0922

You're tempting fate when you canoe above a falls and you're tempting loss when you store furniture in an unprotected place. For safety's sake, store in our bonded, fireproof warehouse.

Barkley Charges Country's Plight to G. O. P.; Pledges Democrats to Improvement

BLAMES COOLIDGE, MELLON, FOR 'ORGY OF SPECULATION'

He Would Lift Tariff Making 'Above Sordid Processes of Log-Rollers and Back-Scratchers.'

'EVERY REPUBLICAN PROMISE IN ASHES'

Proposes Relief for Agriculture, Strengthening of Banking Structure, Consideration of 6-Hour Day.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 27.—A biting attack upon Republican rule through three administrations and a plea for a vote on repeal of the eighteenth amendment were laid before the Democratic National Convention today in the keynote speech of Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky.

The Kentuckian punched and jabbed unceasingly at his Republican foes—calling the Harding administration the "darkest chapter of public betrayal in the history of this or any other nation," heaping blame on President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon for an "orgy of speculation and inflation that had no foundation in real values," and terming the Republican plank on prohibition "a promiscuous agglomeration of scrap lumber."

Barkley denounced President Hoover and the Republicans for the "exorbitant and indefensible rates of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act and promised "to lift tariff making above the sordid processes of log-rollers and back-scratchers."

The keynote gave over the major part of his speech to mistakes he charged to the Republican party since 1920.

On the Prohibition Issue.
He did go into the prohibition question rather deeply, however, and urged that the American people recommend the passage by Congress of a resolution submitting a repealer of the eighteenth amendment for ratification by the people through State conventions whose delegates shall be chosen upon this issue alone.

"Whatever may be the divergent views of men and women on the merits or demerits of the eighteenth amendment," he said, "it is inconceivable that this or any other part of the Constitution of the United States should apply to only a part and not the whole of the American nation."

"That great instrument declares that 'This Constitution and the laws made in pursuance thereof shall be the supreme law of the land.' But it cannot be the supreme law of the land if it is abrogated by the people of a part of the land while remaining in force over the rest of them. Such a conception destroys the very nature and structure of the Constitution, for if it can be made thus to qualify one of its provisions it may be made to qualify all of them. This would be the end of the Constitution itself."

"Owes It to the People."
"This convention owes it to the people of the nation to make its declaration upon this subject clear, understandable and unequivocal. There is no reason why the people should be deceived or deluded. There is no reason why a political declaration should look in every direction and see nothing."

"In order, therefore, to obtain the present will of the American people on this subject of universal controversy, this convention should in the platform here to be adopted recommend the passage by Congress of a resolution repealing the eighteenth amendment and its submission to the people of the states through conventions whose delegates shall be chosen upon this issue alone."

"If the people are to pass again upon this question, let them pass upon it in such bald, naked and unequivocal terms as to make their decision intelligent and certain."

"If their verdict shall be in favor of retaining the eighteenth amendment in the Constitution, let every true citizen of the nation accept the decision and abide by it in letter and in spirit."

"If the verdict shall be in favor of the repeal of the amendment then let

Highlights of Senator Barkley's Democratic Keynote Address

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 27.
HERE are some pointed sentences from the keynote address of the Democratic National Convention, delivered today by Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky:

"This convention should recommend the passage by Congress of a resolution repealing the eighteenth amendment and its submission to the people of the states through conventions."

No fair man or woman wishes to be unjust to Mr. Hoover or his administration. . . . But that the Hoover administration and the policies it has pursued have largely contributed to the disaster which has overtaken our country and the world's affairs no intelligent observer can dispute.

We propose to reduce the exorbitant and indefensible rates of the Smoot-Hawley tariff act. . . . We propose again to start the wheels of industry and commerce moving for the energies and ambitions of industrious men and women.

We shall undertake to afford to the farmer in this emergency the character of relief which has been so generously granted to other forms of industry and finance.

We should restrict the channels of stock market operations and expand those of commercial operations. . . . Banking institutions as such should be divorced from stock market operations of the character which contributed to the . . . loss of billions of dollars and the confidence of our people.

The only constructive measures brought forward in this Congress originated with the Democrats' membership of that body.

On the fourth of next March . . . the nominees of this convention will be inaugurated President of the United States.

every branch of the national government exercise all the powers they possess to protect the states in the observance and enforcement of the laws which they shall enact to control, regulate or prohibit the traffic in intoxicating liquors.

The Harding administration he described as "the darkest chapter of public betrayal in the history of this or any other nation."

On President Coolidge and Secretary Mellon he heaped the blame for an "orgy of speculation and inflation that had no foundation in real values."

"Stocks were manipulated, prices pyramided, then split up, then distributed among innocent people under the opiate of fabulous financial hopes built up by the most gigantic campaign of official hollowness ever witnessed in the annals of American history," he exclaimed.

Under President Coolidge, Barkley said, expenses of the national Government increased "more than $60,000,000." He gave credit to the present Democratic House for reducing President Hoover's requests for appropriations "by more than $100,000,000."

Hoover Administration.
Paying his respects to the Hoover administration, the keynote speaker recalled that the President "and his Republican Congress took charge of the Government" on March 4, 1929, and added:

"But every prediction of every promise of every assurance made by them to obtain votes has turned to ashes in their hands, and every pretense has been exposed in all its naked affectation."

"Agriculture has continued its collapse. Industry has languished beyond any previous record. Credit has been restricted until finance and productive enterprise are frightened and stagnant and there is constantly marching a greater army of unemployed men and women in search of honest toil than has ever been experienced by this or any other nation."

"There is nothing wrong with this republic," he added, "except that it has been mismanaged, exploited and demoralized for more than a decade by a leadership in incomparably short-sighted and incapacity of understanding and dealing with fundamental causes, and incapable even now in the midst of its fearful havoc of understanding the extent of its own mischief."

"Country Sound, but Mismanaged."
"No, my countrymen, there is nothing wrong with our people except that they have followed prophets who were false, blind and insensible to their own limitations."

"In all the generations of American history the people in every great crisis have turned to the Democratic party to lead them from the wilderness of disappointment and disaster."

"It was so in 1800, when the profound and gifted father of American Democracy, Thomas Jefferson, led the people from incompetence and reaction to new heights of popular government."

"It was so in 1828, when Andrew Jackson drove out the congregation of the unholy and the unrighteous and restored to the people the government of Jefferson."

"It was so in 1884, when Grover Cleveland returned to the people and to their Government the priceless heritage of a principle that 'public office is a public trust.'"

"It was so in 1912, when Woodrow Wilson gave a new interpretation to the inarticulate cravings of the human heart and set the ideals of a world above the sordid machinations of selfishness and brutal greed."

"It will be so in 1932, when the principles here announced and the

REVOLT AGAINST REED STARTED BY ST. LOUIS DELEGATE

L. J. Gualdoni Walks Out of Missouri Caucus When Effort Is Made to Get 'Last Ditch' Pledge.

By CURTIS A. BETTS, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Open rebellion against former Senator James A. Reed broke out in a caucus of the Missouri delegation late last night and culminated in an announced determination of a group of the delegates to vote for Roosevelt on the first ballot.

L. J. Gualdoni of St. Louis, rated as the next individual influence to boss Tom Pendergast of Kansas City in Democratic politics, walked out of the meeting protesting that he would not be bound by an announced vote pledging the delegation to Reed to the last ditch.

Gualdoni, supported by more than half a dozen other delegates, said he intended to vote for Roosevelt on the first ballot.

The meeting, held at the Congress Hotel at 11 o'clock, having been postponed from 7 because of doubt that it could be controlled by Reed, was under the Pendergast influence from the beginning. This was not at all surprising, as the delegates were elected at the Pendergast-controlled State convention in St. Louis.

While no record was kept, it was estimated that only a few more than half of the 55 delegates were present.

On the motion which sought to commit the delegation to remain with Reed and thus participate in the stop-Roosevelt movement, it was said that not more than half those present voted.

Reed Movement Conciliatory.
Several of the delegates said after the meeting that they had not voted and that they did not consider themselves bound to vote for Reed.

Reed appeared in a much more conciliatory attitude than at the meeting of a group of delegates Saturday, when he demanded a showdown as to the last ditch support he could expect. Last night Reed told the delegates that while he would not attempt to hold any of them against their will, he thought the delegation as a whole should vote for him so long as it appeared to him that there was a possibility of his nomination.

This was construed by the delegates to mean so long as Roosevelt was prevented from getting a two-thirds vote in the convention.

Reed told them that the nomination of Roosevelt was by no means certain and that he believed that with Roosevelt stopped there was a possibility of his nomination.

Pendergast Follows Support.
Reed was followed by Boss Pendergast, who told the delegates he would vote for Reed for '99 ballot.

lots, or for 99 years" and that he believed that under the platform of the State convention the delegates could follow no other honorable course than to vote for Reed until he released them.

Pendergast was followed by Mrs. Nellie Donnelly of Kansas City; Judge W. T. Ragland of the Missouri Supreme Court, D. C. Chastain of Butler, State Senator Michael Kinney of St. Louis, Mrs. Nat Brown of St. Louis and Mrs. Harvey Gray of Clinton, all of whom favored a solid Missouri vote for Reed until he should release the delegates.

The first discordant note came from C. C. Oliver of Bloomfield, a Fourteenth District delegate, who offered a resolution to the effect that the delegation should vote for Reed only until the time when some other candidate received more than a majority of the convention votes. Oliver's motion was unceremoniously voted down.

B. J. Creech of Troy, a Ninth District delegate, then offered a motion which precipitated the rebellion in the delegation. His motion sought to commit the delegation to vote for Reed until he released it.

"One of These Tough Guys."
Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni, glancing about the corridor and seeing a group of Pendergast followers from Kansas City in strategic positions, walked toward an elevator with no other reply than "I'm not arguing with you now, Tor," with emphasis on the now.

The Creech motion was put by

REED STARTED BY ST. LOUIS DELEGATE

L. J. Gualdoni Walks Out of Missouri Caucus When Effort Is Made to Get 'Last Ditch' Pledge.

By CURTIS A. BETTS, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Open rebellion against former Senator James A. Reed broke out in a caucus of the Missouri delegation late last night and culminated in an announced determination of a group of the delegates to vote for Roosevelt on the first ballot.

L. J. Gualdoni of St. Louis, rated as the next individual influence to boss Tom Pendergast of Kansas City in Democratic politics, walked out of the meeting protesting that he would not be bound by an announced vote pledging the delegation to Reed to the last ditch.

Gualdoni, supported by more than half a dozen other delegates, said he intended to vote for Roosevelt on the first ballot.

The meeting, held at the Congress Hotel at 11 o'clock, having been postponed from 7 because of doubt that it could be controlled by Reed, was under the Pendergast influence from the beginning. This was not at all surprising, as the delegates were elected at the Pendergast-controlled State convention in St. Louis.

While no record was kept, it was estimated that only a few more than half of the 55 delegates were present.

On the motion which sought to commit the delegation to remain with Reed and thus participate in the stop-Roosevelt movement, it was said that not more than half those present voted.

Reed Movement Conciliatory.
Several of the delegates said after the meeting that they had not voted and that they did not consider themselves bound to vote for Reed.

Reed appeared in a much more conciliatory attitude than at the meeting of a group of delegates Saturday, when he demanded a showdown as to the last ditch support he could expect. Last night Reed told the delegates that while he would not attempt to hold any of them against their will, he thought the delegation as a whole should vote for him so long as it appeared to him that there was a possibility of his nomination.

This was construed by the delegates to mean so long as Roosevelt was prevented from getting a two-thirds vote in the convention.

Reed told them that the nomination of Roosevelt was by no means certain and that he believed that with Roosevelt stopped there was a possibility of his nomination.

Pendergast Follows Support.
Reed was followed by Boss Pendergast, who told the delegates he would vote for Reed for '99 ballot.

lots, or for 99 years" and that he believed that under the platform of the State convention the delegates could follow no other honorable course than to vote for Reed until he released them.

Pendergast was followed by Mrs. Nellie Donnelly of Kansas City; Judge W. T. Ragland of the Missouri Supreme Court, D. C. Chastain of Butler, State Senator Michael Kinney of St. Louis, Mrs. Nat Brown of St. Louis and Mrs. Harvey Gray of Clinton, all of whom favored a solid Missouri vote for Reed until he should release the delegates.

The first discordant note came from C. C. Oliver of Bloomfield, a Fourteenth District delegate, who offered a resolution to the effect that the delegation should vote for Reed only until the time when some other candidate received more than a majority of the convention votes. Oliver's motion was unceremoniously voted down.

B. J. Creech of Troy, a Ninth District delegate, then offered a motion which precipitated the rebellion in the delegation. His motion sought to commit the delegation to vote for Reed until he released it.

"One of These Tough Guys."
Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni, glancing about the corridor and seeing a group of Pendergast followers from Kansas City in strategic positions, walked toward an elevator with no other reply than "I'm not arguing with you now, Tor," with emphasis on the now.

The Creech motion was put by

REED STARTED BY ST. LOUIS DELEGATE

L. J. Gualdoni Walks Out of Missouri Caucus When Effort Is Made to Get 'Last Ditch' Pledge.

By CURTIS A. BETTS, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, June 27.—Open rebellion against former Senator James A. Reed broke out in a caucus of the Missouri delegation late last night and culminated in an announced determination of a group of the delegates to vote for Roosevelt on the first ballot.

L. J. Gualdoni of St. Louis, rated as the next individual influence to boss Tom Pendergast of Kansas City in Democratic politics, walked out of the meeting protesting that he would not be bound by an announced vote pledging the delegation to Reed to the last ditch.

Gualdoni, supported by more than half a dozen other delegates, said he intended to vote for Roosevelt on the first ballot.

The meeting, held at the Congress Hotel at 11 o'clock, having been postponed from 7 because of doubt that it could be controlled by Reed, was under the Pendergast influence from the beginning. This was not at all surprising, as the delegates were elected at the Pendergast-controlled State convention in St. Louis.

While no record was kept, it was estimated that only a few more than half of the 55 delegates were present.

On the motion which sought to commit the delegation to remain with Reed and thus participate in the stop-Roosevelt movement, it was said that not more than half those present voted.

Reed Movement Conciliatory.
Several of the delegates said after the meeting that they had not voted and that they did not consider themselves bound to vote for Reed.

Reed appeared in a much more conciliatory attitude than at the meeting of a group of delegates Saturday, when he demanded a showdown as to the last ditch support he could expect. Last night Reed told the delegates that while he would not attempt to hold any of them against their will, he thought the delegation as a whole should vote for him so long as it appeared to him that there was a possibility of his nomination.

This was construed by the delegates to mean so long as Roosevelt was prevented from getting a two-thirds vote in the convention.

Reed told them that the nomination of Roosevelt was by no means certain and that he believed that with Roosevelt stopped there was a possibility of his nomination.

Pendergast Follows Support.
Reed was followed by Boss Pendergast, who told the delegates he would vote for Reed for '99 ballot.

lots, or for 99 years" and that he believed that under the platform of the State convention the delegates could follow no other honorable course than to vote for Reed until he released them.

Pendergast was followed by Mrs. Nellie Donnelly of Kansas City; Judge W. T. Ragland of the Missouri Supreme Court, D. C. Chastain of Butler, State Senator Michael Kinney of St. Louis, Mrs. Nat Brown of St. Louis and Mrs. Harvey Gray of Clinton, all of whom favored a solid Missouri vote for Reed until he should release the delegates.

The first discordant note came from C. C. Oliver of Bloomfield, a Fourteenth District delegate, who offered a resolution to the effect that the delegation should vote for Reed only until the time when some other candidate received more than a majority of the convention votes. Oliver's motion was unceremoniously voted down.

B. J. Creech of Troy, a Ninth District delegate, then offered a motion which precipitated the rebellion in the delegation. His motion sought to commit the delegation to vote for Reed until he released it.

"One of These Tough Guys."
Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni, glancing about the corridor and seeing a group of Pendergast followers from Kansas City in strategic positions, walked toward an elevator with no other reply than "I'm not arguing with you now, Tor," with emphasis on the now.

The Creech motion was put by

Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni, glancing about the corridor and seeing a group of Pendergast followers from Kansas City in strategic positions, walked toward an elevator with no other reply than "I'm not arguing with you now, Tor," with emphasis on the now.

The Creech motion was put by

Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni, glancing about the corridor and seeing a group of Pendergast followers from Kansas City in strategic positions, walked toward an elevator with no other reply than "I'm not arguing with you now, Tor," with emphasis on the now.

The Creech motion was put by

Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni, glancing about the corridor and seeing a group of Pendergast followers from Kansas City in strategic positions, walked toward an elevator with no other reply than "I'm not arguing with you now, Tor," with emphasis on the now.

The Creech motion was put by

Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni, glancing about the corridor and seeing a group of Pendergast followers from Kansas City in strategic positions, walked toward an elevator with no other reply than "I'm not arguing with you now, Tor," with emphasis on the now.

The Creech motion was put by

Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni, glancing about the corridor and seeing a group of Pendergast followers from Kansas City in strategic positions, walked toward an elevator with no other reply than "I'm not arguing with you now, Tor," with emphasis on the now.

The Creech motion was put by

Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni, glancing about the corridor and seeing a group of Pendergast followers from Kansas City in strategic positions, walked toward an elevator with no other reply than "I'm not arguing with you now, Tor," with emphasis on the now.

The Creech motion was put by

Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni, glancing about the corridor and seeing a group of Pendergast followers from Kansas City in strategic positions, walked toward an elevator with no other reply than "I'm not arguing with you now, Tor," with emphasis on the now.

The Creech motion was put by

Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni, glancing about the corridor and seeing a group of Pendergast followers from Kansas City in strategic positions, walked toward an elevator with no other reply than "I'm not arguing with you now, Tor," with emphasis on the now.

The Creech motion was put by

Gualdoni was on his feet instantly with an interrogation. He said that if the motion sought to commit him as a delegate to vote for Reed, he would not remain in the meeting, as he did not believe Reed had any chance of nomination, and that he intended to vote for Roosevelt. He was assured by the chairman, Judge Ragland, that the motion was intended to bind the entire delegation.

Gualdoni started for the door. He hesitated momentarily when Pendergast shouted after him: "I'll just go along with you."

Pendergast followed Gualdoni into the hall, where he said: "You're one of these tough guys. I have my own way of taking care of a fellow like you."

Gualdoni

STIX, BAER & FULLER

GRAND-LEADER

See Our Other Announcement on Following Page

Save in Our June Sale of TOILETRIES

Lifebuoy Health Soap, 12 Cakes for 58c

Ivory Soap, medium size, special at, dozen, 59c

Aimcee Soap Flakes, large package, 3 for 39c

51 Pond's Cold or Vanishing Cream, Special, 57c

25c Mavis Talcum Powder, special at each 12c

Manon Lescaut Face Powder and Loose Powder Vanity, 88c

Creams & Lotions
Hinds Texture Cream, reduced to... 33c
Jergens Benzoin and Almond Lotion... 57c
Frostilla Lotion, spec. 29c
Arline Benzoin and Almond Lotion... 29c
Louise Andre Cleansing Tissues... 29c
65c Pond's Creams, Cold or Vanishing... 29c
Hinds Honey and Almond Cream... 28c and 37c
Golden Peacock Bleach Cream... 69c

Perfumes, Etc.
$3.50 Coty Toilet Water, special at... $1.65
Coty Lipsticks, new... 55c
51 Dier-Kiss Sachet... 50c
Dier-Kiss Toilet Water... 69c
Mavis Toilet Water... 69c

Tooth Pastes
Listerine Tooth Paste, 19c
Dr. West's Tooth Paste, 2 tubes for... 33c
Kolyon Tooth Paste... 25c
Forhan's Tooth Paste... 31c
Pebeo Tooth Paste... 26c
Pepsodent Tooth Paste... 26c
Squibb's Dental Cream... 25c
Revelation Tooth Pow., 19c

Powders, Talcums
Mavis Talcum Powder, 29c, 55c, 2 for $1
Mennen's Bor. Talcum, 12c
Dier-Kiss Dusting Powder, 2 for $1.00, or ea. 55c
Dier-Kiss Face Powd., 29c
Dier-Kiss Tale, 2 for 25c
Dier-Kiss Jumbo Tale, 47c
Melba Lov'me Face Powder and Hand Cream... 47c
$1 Kerkoff Face Powder, now... 3 for $1
$1 Corday's Face Pow., 49c

Home Remedies
S. B. & F. Witch Hazel, pint... 29c qt... 49c
S. B. & F. Rubbing Alcohol, pint... 24c
S. B. & F. Peroxide, pound bottle... 16c
Wanous Shampoo Bags, special at... 3 for 23c
Lucky Tiger Hair Tonic combination at... 59c
Vaseline Hair Tonic... 49c
Baume Bengue... 39c
Squibb's Aspirin, 100's, 49c
Jad Salts, special at... 48c
$1 Ovaltine... 62c
79c S. B. & F. Psyllium Seed, 16 oz... 53c

Soaps
Woodbury's Soap, special at... 3 for 50c
Romer Cold Cream Soap, 6 for... 39c
S. B. & F. Castile Soap, 4 lb. bar... 89c
Jergens Almond Cocoa Soap, dozen... 55c
Soaps of the British Empire, dozen... 59c
Olivio Soap, dozen... 65c
Colgate's Big Bath Soap, dozen... 85c
Jergens Economy Box, 15 Cakes for... $1

Miscellaneous
Pinard's Lilac Vegetal, special at... 75c
Palmolive Shaving Cream, only... 16c
Red Cross Cotton, 1-lb., 79c
Palmolive Shampoo... 25c
Arline Nail Polish... 42c
Wrisley's Water Softener, 5 lbs... 59c
Kleenex, new roll... 25c
Linit Bath Crystals... 15c
$1.39 San Hygiene Toilet Tissues... 12 for 99c
Vivadoon Shav. Cream, 19c
Snopure Cotton, 4-oz. roll, special at... 10c
J. & J. Red Cross Bandages, 2 in. by 5 yds.; doz., 98c
3 for 25c

Bocabelli Soap, 4-Lb. factory cut bars. Green, White, $1.09

Mavis Dusting Powder, $1 Size Can, 55c... or 2 for $1

Lady Esther 4-Purpose Cream, $1.25 size, 81c

Arline Cleansing or Liquefying Cream, 1-Lb. Jar, 89c

Nujol Mineral Oil, large size at 54c

Petrolagar, all numbers, special at 79c

S. B. & F. Mineral Oil, 1 gallon, $1.45

Kenloom Toilet Tissues; colors, 15 rolls for 89c

Aimcee Palm and Olive Oil Soap, dozen bars, 47c

BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT BLOCKS WEDDING

Ellis Wainwright's Adopted Daughter Was to Have Wed P. C. Clapp.

Mrs. Rosalind Wainwright Deutsch, adopted daughter of the late Ellis Wainwright, St. Louis lawyer, has been interrupted in her plans for a third marriage by the $500,000 breach of promise suit filed by another woman in New York against Paul E. Clapp, whom Mrs. Deutsch intended to marry this week.

New York dispatches state that Clapp, a former aide to Herbert Hoover in the Relief Administration, and Mrs. Deutsch, former wife of Armand S. Deutsch, iron mill owner, obtained a marriage license there six days ago. The suit of Katherine "Kary" Bond, beauty operator, against Clapp, followed a family named Kendall living in Shelbyville, Ky., was adopted legally by Ellis Wainwright in 1922. She was then 21 years old, and had been married to and divorced from Virgil F. Barnhart, a soldier at Camp Taylor, Louisville.

Wainwright died in 1924. His will left nothing to the adopted daughter, as it stated that provision had been made for her in his lifetime. The bulk of the estate, which was estimated in value from $800,000 to $1,000,000, was left to Washington University, with a bequest of $50,000 to St. Louis Children's Hospital.

The young woman filed suit to set aside the will, and in October, 1925, a settlement was made by which she received an amount not announced, but understood to be about $200,000. The estate, after this reduction, went to Washington University and other objects as provided in the will.

In the breach of promise suit against Clapp, Miss Bond charges that he promised to marry her April 6 last, but withdrew his offer three weeks before the intended wedding. She is seeking to have deposition of his father, brother and sister taken. Clapp said he did not propose to Miss Bond, but that she made him a marriage offer, which he did not accept.

WOMAN ON TRAPEZE HANGING FROM BALLOON INJURED

Dashed Against House When Preparing for Parachute Leap.

By the Associated Press. LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 27.—Miss Violet Brunton, 24 years old, Indianapolis, suffered minor injuries here yesterday, when a balloon from which she had planned to make a parachute jump dashed her against a house and she fell 15 feet to the ground. The balloon, from which Miss Brunton was suspended on a trapeze, was punctured accidentally while being released from its moorings.

By the Associated Press. HYANNIS, Mass., June 27.—An amphibian airplane crashed on the shore of West Pond yesterday. The pilot, Foye M. Murphy, 52, Boston lawyer, was killed, and his wife injured.

By the Associated Press. HIGHTSTOWN, N. J., June 27.—Leonard Norcross, 35, was killed in an airplane crash near here last night, while giving a student pilot his final flying lesson. The student, William Thompson, 35, suffered a broken left arm.

MAN WHO KILLED WIFE, SHOT HIMSELF, HELD FOR HOMICIDE

Ralph Vought Appears at Inquest With Head Bandaged; Refuses to Testify.

Ralph Vought, who shot and killed his estranged wife, Gladys, when she refused a reconciliation Saturday afternoon, was held without bond today after a coroner's jury had returned a verdict of homicide. Vought, who shot himself in the head, inflicting a superficial wound, after he had killed his wife near her mother's home at 1206 Graham street, was in court, his head bandaged, and was called to the witness stand, but did not testify.

Police who investigated the shooting were informed Vought chased his wife into a restaurant at 6286 Clayton avenue and there killed her. After shooting himself in the head, he fled and was caught by police four blocks away. He had been drinking.

E. Y. CLARKE PRONOUNCED SANE

Decision in Case of Former Klan Leader Announced, CHICAGO, June 27.—Edward Young Clarke, former high Ku Klux Klan officer and recently promoter of a new fraternal organization called Easkeye, Inc., has been pronounced sane by psychiatrists of the Cook County Psychopathic Hospital. He was committed to the hospital for observation Tuesday, on request of his counsel, who produced a report of a physician, terming him a paranoiac. State Attorney's investigators have had Easkeye, Inc., under surveillance. Clarke had promised to "cure" the economic ills of the nation through it and membership fees ranging from $10 to $300 were requested. Offices of the organization are closed.

Correction by Associated Press. By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, June 27.—The Associated Press reported Saturday that Roy Parks, who shot and killed his wife and son and Mrs. Barbara Endree and then committed suicide, was an ex-convict, attributing the information to the Chicago police. Matt Miller, brother-in-law of Parks, says the information was erroneous and Parks was not an ex-convict.

SALESMAN IS KILLED IN FALL FROM WINDOW

Body of Frederick J. Mudd Found in Grass Near Rooming House.

Frederick J. Mudd, a salesman, was found dead in the grass beneath a second story room which he occupied in a rooming house at 1227A North Taylor avenue, early yesterday. Beside him lay the screen for his window. Apparently he had fallen out during the night.

Mrs. Mary Delaney, the proprietor, who found the body when she arose at 5 a. m., told police she last saw Mudd Saturday evening. Mudd, who was 40 years old, is survived by three sisters and four brothers. The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon from Cullinane Brothers undertaking establishment, 1710 North Grand boulevard, to Calvary Cemetery.

Dies Seeking Relief from Heat.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. BUCKLIN, Mo., June 26.—Clarence Westfall, 56 years old, near New Boston, was overcome by heat while working in a wheat field. He went to a creek with other harvest hands, but was seized with cramps. Rescued from the water by his companions, he was started to a Kirksville hospital, but died on the way.

CUNNINGHAM'S 419 NORTH SIXTH STREET

END-OF-JUNE-MONTH DRESS CLEARANCE!

—180 Dresses of the Cunningham $5.95, $8.65 and $10.75 Quality

Summer Frocks of silk and chalky crepe, cottons, meshes, boucles, etc. $2.66 (Some are slightly mussed from handling)... Sizes 11 to 20 only... Early selections are advised.

DRESS SECTION SECOND FLOOR

CLEARANCE

$2 to $5 White Summer Hats

ALSO BLACKS AND COLORS

Chalk Crepes! Felts! Rough or Smooth Straws! Sports Fabrics! Small brims, large brims, medium brims, turbans! All head sizes!

Millinery Section—Main Floor

Don't Try to Compare This Sale of Fine

Stehli Silks

With the Usual Silk Sales—It Offers Superior Quality and Values!

Latest reports from Paris are that Silk, the Queen of Fabrics, is back to stay... and Stehli, America's foremost silk manufacturer, has co-operated with Stix, Baer & Fuller in offering this great assortment of 25,000 yards of the newest and smartest silks at amazingly low prices!

$1.98 Chalky Washable Dull Crepe, Yd., $1.39
$1.59 Suede Jr. Washable Crepe, Yd., $1.19
$1.69 Mariella Washable Crepe, Yd., $1.19
$1.89 Dirimi Washable Flat Crepe, Yd., $1.29
$1.69 Majune Soft Pique Weave, Yd., $1.19
$2.98 Stehlong Pure-Dye Crepe, Yd., $1.98

All Are 40 Inches Wide!

(Second Floor.)

39c... A Yard For Regular 59c Dress LINEN

Be Sure to Share in This Special Offering of 3000 Yards... Tuesday!

Nothing ever quite takes the place of Linen... and this fine imported texture (from Belgium) is in great demand for Summer frocks and jackets. You'll love choosing from the array of colors. Plenty of WHITE, too! 36 inches wide... and colorfast!

(Second Floor.)

Thrift Avenue

... the Buy-Way of St. Louis

$1.19 Kid D'Orsays Soft and comfortable... in black, red or blue, with quilted peach satin linings, leather soles and covered wood heels. Sizes 3 to 8. 98c

15c Bath Towels Good quality, double thread; extra soft and very absorbent; white with blue, pink, gold, green or lavender borders; 20x40 inches... 10c

Girls' Dresses Cool sleeveless frocks of sheer prints and smart pique; 7 to 14; 2 for $1, or, each... 59c

Girls' Pajamas In the gayest of printed cottons; also some in plain colors; many have matching hats; 7 to 14 years; 59c 2 for $1, or, each... 59c

$2.98 Outing Jugs "Jumbo" 2-gallon size, with seamless porcelain lining, cork insulation, and aluminum cap... $1.49

Gun and Holster Leather holster, belt, and repeating cap pistol; complete at... 65c

Repeating Guns These Paper Guns are absolutely harmless, but make a loud report in rapid succession; lots of fun... 50c

$6 Hotpoint Irons These are the 6-lb. Hotpoint Super-Irons, in bright chromium finish, complete with cord and plug... $2.89

Silk Slips Bodice-top Slips in the four-gore style that fits smoothly; lace trimmed or tailored; pink or white; sizes 34 to 42... $1.39

Play Suits Brother-and-Sister Play Suits of very fine seersucker fabric; long legs; sun-backs; pink, blue, green or brown stripes, with hats to match; sizes 2 to 6... $1.00

Smart Bandeaux Dainty allover net develops a popular uplift bandeau with low back; another style in tailored silk has diaphragm reinforcement and elastic band under... 50c

(Street Floor.) Telephone Orders Filled

You'll Be Surprised in This

Sale of Boys' Summer Knickers

Tropical Twists Imported Linens Palm Beaches

$1.29

We, ourselves, were very much surprised when we found we could offer such fine knickers for so little!... They're all tailored in full plus style and bartacked. Sizes 8 to 18.

(Fourth Floor and Thrift Avenue.)

For Telephone Shopping Service—Call Central 6500

$2.50 DOWN Installs a Complete Set of Four Kelly - Springfield Lotta Miles Tires With Four Tubes

Size 4.50-21

This Week Only! The Total Cost Is

$24.84

The balance may be paid weekly or monthly... You may buy any size Tires on these same convenient terms—$2.50 down on purchases up to $25 and 10% down on purchase over $25. No Charge for Mounting (Fourth Floor.)

CHARGE PURCHASES MADE NOW PAYABLE IN AUGUST

STIX, BAER & FULLER GRAND-LEADER DOWNSTAIRS STORE

Peggy Palmer

Eyelet Batistes

Nothing Newer!
Nothing Smarter!

$1.59
2 for
$3

They're the queen of all fashions this Summer—ideal for vacation, sports, outing and street wear—and you can purchase several for the price you intended for only one. All with the very latest fashion details—choose from the desired pastel shades. Misses' and women's sizes 14 to 42. Be cool and fresh looking in PEGGY PALMER Eyelet Batistes.

TUESDAY ONLY!

DON'T MISS THESE SPECIALS!

CHILD'S PRINT
SLEEPERS, 3 FOR $1.00

Krinkle crepes, broadcloths and nursery prints; plain colors or stripes; frog trimmed; short sleeves; open front, drop seat; sizes 2 to 14.

PIQUE SUITS AND MESH FROCKS... 59c

Misses' wide wale pique suits with separate skirt and blouse; cotton Mesh Frocks have rib waistlines.

$1 SLIPS AND UNDIES... 78c

Bias Slips of rayon crepe and rayon taffeta; lace trimmed; also silk chemise, step-ins, panties; lace trimmed. Regular sizes.

GIRLS' ORGANDIE
DRESSES... 66c

Flowered Organdies, also sheer materials, broadcloths and pongettes; smart, youthful styles, cleverly trimmed; sizes 7 to 14.

SEERSUCKER
PANTS... 79c

Neatly tailored of striped seersucker material in gray stripes; wide legs, cuff bottoms; have plenty of belt loops. Sizes 30 to 40.

MEN'S B'CLOTH
TRACK PANTS... 25c

Have balloon seats; set-in fronts with three buttons; elastic in sides. Also ATHLETIC SHIRTS of fine ribbed, combed cotton.

WOMEN'S ELK
SANDALS... $1.69

Cool, comfortable UNLINED Sandals with very flexible soles; Cuban heels. Choose from white elk or brown. Sizes 3 to 7.

$1.69 Embroidered
Ruffled Curtains... 99c

Sheer Marquisesettes; silver color stitching on rose and orchid grounds; Priscilla style; cornice valance; tie-backs included. Just 300 pairs at this special price.

SILK REMNANTS REDUCED... 25%

This reduction is off of already greatly reduced prices; included are plain or printed silks, novelties; fabrics for every purpose.

PINK RAYON
WARP CREPE... 25c

Guaranteed washable... so desirable for dresses, slips, children's wear, etc.; pink only; 39 inches wide. Limited quantity, so shop early.

6x9-FT. FELT-
BASE RUGS... $1.98

Waterproof... tile and carpet effects that are ideal for Summer use; subject to slight misprints, but excellent values.

SALISBURY, SHEETS (81x99) 59c

Made of bleached Pepperell sheeting, labeled Salisbury because of slight stain; neatly hemmed, ready for use.

58-INCH
TABLE DAMASK... 25c

Bleached, cotton Damask with colored woven borders; good heavy weight; all fast color. Very durable quality.

BUY NOW!—PAY IN AUGUST

WOLF, SOCIALIST, OPENS CAMPAIGN FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Outlines Party's Plan to Relieve Distress in State in Speech Before 400 at His Home.

Louis Martin Wolf, Socialist candidate for Governor, opened his campaign, with a speech yesterday at a public reception for Socialist State candidates at his home, 455 Park avenue, Webster Groves. He outlined his party's plans for relief of distress to an audience of about 400.

"Nothing less than nation-wide ownership by the people of natural resources, and production machinery, and the elimination of the profit motive in industry, will abolish unemployment and 'poverty,'" he said. "But distress within the borders of Missouri could be vastly relieved by temporary expedients, under a Socialist State Government."

"As the quickest means of relieving the destitute, a Socialist State Government would form producers' and consumers' co-operative industrial and agricultural enterprises. Such State co-operatives, while not a permanent or complete solution, would: 'Lighten the taxpayers' burden of feeding the hungry; enable the destitute to retain their self-respect; give employment to many now unemployed, and provide a market for the farmers' products.'"

"A Socialist State Government would undertake an enlarged program of public works as one means of relieving unemployment, such as State construction of model homes for industrial workers, now condemned to live in uninhabitable shacks; and State construction of power plants, with State distribution of power into rural districts at cost."

"The Socialist party would deny franchises to private corporations for development or exploitation of Missouri's natural resources. There is, at present, an effort to exploit one of Missouri's most beautiful streams, the Current River, by converting it into a privately owned hydro-electric project. As Governor of the State, I will oppose this with all my might. Missouri's streams should be reserved for the use of the people, either for recreation centers or for such power sites as the State may need."

"There are those who, although in accord with our principles, believe that the Socialist party of Missouri cannot, at this time, elect its candidates. This is an erroneous belief. The people are ready to accept Socialist principles and elect Socialist candidates. They need only be convinced that the Socialist party is ready to assume the task. There is ample time between now and the third of November to assure the election of Socialist candidates in Missouri."

DRY AGENTS BEATEN AFTER MAKING ARREST AT PICNIC

Two of Assaults Held at Union—Alleged Bootlegger Leaves During Fight.

Donald M. Taylor and Everett O. Liley, Federal prohibition agents, were beaten by three men near Union, Mo., Saturday night when they arrested a man from whom they had purchased liquor at a picnic ground.

John R. Armour and Verne L. McKinney, whom they identified as two of their assailants, were subsequently arrested by the City Marshal of Union, and have been charged with assault and interfering with officers.

Armour and McKinney admitted beating the officers. Deputy Prohibition Administrator Dillon said, but asserted they did not know the men were officers. They declined to name their companion.

Agents Taylor and Liley were sent to an American Legion picnic in response to an anonymous letter, written by someone, "educated and intelligent," Dillon said. After buying drinks they arrested the seller, who identified himself as Oscar Rogers, they reported. During the fight Rogers departed.

$150,000 FIRE AT OMAHA, NEB.

Three Buildings Burn Following Explosion.

By the Associated Press. OMAHA, Neb., June 27.—Fire, following a terrific explosion, destroyed three old buildings, downtown here yesterday. The loss was estimated at $150,000.

Fire Inspector Clarence Urban expressed belief the blaze was incendiary or caused by the explosion of a leaking gas main. In the latter theory he was supported by W. H. Campen, a chemist assisting in the inspection. Campen added, however, the explosion could have been caused by a "volatile liquid."

MAN DIES OF GUNSHOT WOUND

Negro Shot Jan. 30 in Alleged Attempt to Steal Coal.

Freeman Franks, a 38-year-old Negro, 1304 A. Ward street, rear died at City Hospital No. 2 yesterday of a gunshot wound in the spine, suffered Jan. 30 last.

Police notified John Ballard, a Negro, owner of a coal office and resident at 1400 Morgan street, to appear at the inquest. Shortly after the shooting police reported Ballard said he fired at Franks when he detected him carrying off a basket of coal. Franks insisted he was hit by a stray bullet.

CHERRY FETE QUEEN

Associated Press Photo.
MISS CAROLYN HAZARD,
HIGH SCHOOL girl of Ludington, Mich., who has been chosen queen of the national cherry festival at Traverse City, Mich., next month. She is 17 years old.

Wants Police Autos Well Kept.

An order for Police Department automobiles to be kept "clean, shiny and free from defacement" was issued today by Chief of Police Gerk, who ordered periodic inspections of the machines by commanding officers. Chief Gerk stated that officers had been striking matches on the dashboards of the machines, had allowed the upholstery to become dirty and torn and had marked on the inside of the machines with pencils.

SECOND HARVARD MAN FOUND DEAD IN RIVER

Auto in Which Students Were Riding Is Also Found in Stream.

By the Associated Press.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 27.—Nearly five months after two Harvard graduate students disappeared from Cambridge, Mass., and two months following the discovery of the body of one of them, the mystery of their disappearance was cleared up yesterday when their automobile and the body of the second student, Floyd Stewart, 23 years old, Garden City, Kan., was taken from the Seekonk River. Stewart and Nathaniel E. Jones, 23, Billerica, Mass., were seen last in Cambridge on Jan. 31. On April 22 the body of Jones was found on the shore of Watchemoket Cove. Discovery of Stewart's body followed a search for about six weeks by Ambrose Houston, a Pawtucket telephone lineman. In his spare time, Houston worked with a drag.

A week ago Houston struck a heavy object, but was unable to pull it ashore and made arrangements for a diver to go down yesterday. When the diver brought up a number plate from the car, police took charge and raised the automobile.

Police think the car plunged into the river soon after the students left Cambridge and that the body of Jones floated from a partly open door, while the body of Stewart remained wedged behind the steering wheel, started for Providence last night to claim the body of his son.

Regular $1 to $22.95
SILK LINGERIE
Now Priced 67c to $15.30—

Pure Dye Satin and French Crepe Slips, Gowns, Pajamas, Teddies, Danettes and Panties—Lace Trimmed and Tailored. Newest Summer Pastel Shades. Sizes for all.

Today's Room For Rent lists in the Post-Dispatch are being read in far more St. Louis homes than can be reached through any other St. Louis newspaper. These lists rent rooms quickly.

Buy 'em by the sack

U.S. GOVERNMENT INSPECTED BEEF

Is the Only Meat
Used In White Castle
HAMBURGERS

"BUY 'EM BY THE SACK"

"There's a White Castle"... "Let's Get a Sack"

Two hearts that beat as one... maybe!
Two appetites that want a Hamburger... certainly!

THIS pair has passed many a place to get to a White Castle. Most everybody in St. Louis does the same thing now. The country seems to have "Gone White Castle" since people have heard the big Hamburger news... Only U. S. Government Inspected Beef used in White Castle Hamburgers. Surely you must have heard that White Castle Hamburgers and the "Who's Who's" and the "High Hats" are arm in arm these days! "Sure we'll come over and play a rubber of bridge... no food fussing... get some White Castles," says the invited guest. White Castles go to picnics. They're bought by the sackful by the auto night riders. They are served at ritz teas. You must have heard... they're everywhere... they're the vogue where there's fun and good sense... and how much cooking they save is just nobody's business. White Castles are all over St. Louis and nearly all over the U. S. A., too. Five cents the Hamburger.

30 or more delivered at any specified hour—
Telephone Chestnut 2509—5 a. m. to 6 p. m.

30 S. 18th St. (at Walnut)
719 Market St.
1224 Chestnut (at 12th)
717 N. Grand (at Morgan)
3101 Washington
(at Cardinal)

1819 S. Broadway
3536 S. Grand
(at Grand)
6124 Easton Ave.
Vanderwerker and Kingshighway

509 Delaplaine
3570 Chouteau
(at Grand)
2149 Chouteau
(at Windsor)

2623 S. Jefferson
18th and Washington
7204 Manchester
2149 Chouteau
(at California)

THE
White Castle
SYSTEM

A NATIONAL INSTITUTION

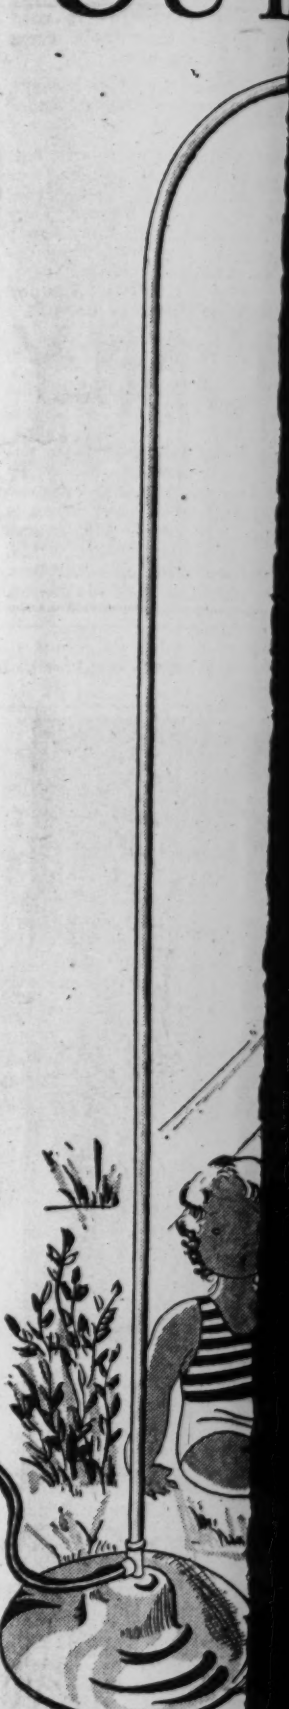

7411 Manchester
900 N. Broadway
(at Franklin)
4224 S. Knap highway (at Dewarville)

E. St.
Lewist, Ill.
100 N. St.
Cottont
9th and St. Clair

Scruggs

Charge Purchases Tues

OUT

Plenty of them coo appointm

79c

Handy spike mode may be stuck in ground or attach wall or tree. 5 foot heights.

TELEPHONE

REFLECTOR

ATTENTION

Scruggs Vandervoort. Barney

Charge Purchases Tuesday Go on August 1st Bills

Summer Store Hours Beginning Today, 9 to 5 Daily

OUTDOOR SHOWERS

Connect With Lawn Hose!
Buy Them for the Fourth!

Plenty of fun for little ones and big ones! A Play Shower will keep them cool and happy in their own back yard! And there'll be no disappointments this year!

79c

99c

$1.79

$2.98

Handy spike model that may be stuck in the ground or attached to wall or tree. 5 and 7 foot heights.

Large-base style; easy to move; non-rustable. full-spray head. 5½ feet high.

Standards, 5½ to 7 feet high. Large solid brass nickel-plated heads; round metal base.

Popular double-head style; two nickel-plated brass heads; on 7½-foot standard. Large round base.

TELEPHONE ORDERS

Housewares—Downstairs.

MAIL ORDERS

REFLECTOR LAMPS

- Not a Shadow in a Carload.
- Avoid Harsh Glare.
- Be Kind to Your Eyes.

$3.95

A simply marvelous value! Stands 65 inches high. Floods the room with a clear, soft, restful light. Old English bronze finish. Sketched.

$2.95

Another style in an indirect lamp; finished in antique gold bronze effect.

Lamp Shop—Sixth Floor

DWIGHT ANCHOR SHEETS

72x108 $1.25
81x108 1 Each

Special values for the last days of the June Sale. Extra-length, fine bleached, seamless Sheets with closely stitched hems and re-enforced woven taped edges. Exclusive at Vandervoort's.

42x36 or 45x26 Inch Pillowcases, each, 25c

Linen Towels

Colorful, hand-embroidered Linen Towels in hand size. 4 for $1.95

Pillowcases

Hand-embroidered Pillowcases from Spain and the Madeira 2 for $1.95

Madeira Napkins

Beautifully hand-embroidered Linen luncheon Napkins; for 6 for $1

Linen Shop—Second Floor

Tablecloth

Beautiful silver-bleached linen damask Tablecloth. Hemmed size, 64x84. $3.39

Breakfast Cloth

Irish Linen Breakfast Cloth with green or blue border. 52x52-inch size. Each. 89c

49c Bath Towels

Extra-large Cannon Bath Towels with colored striped borders. Size 26x45. 3 for $1

Linen Shop—Second Floor

CHEMISIER Dresses

Are a Grand Idea for the Fourth... and Big Buys for Business Any Day!

$3.98

Both town life and country living in St. Louis calls for simple clothes. And we can see these little shirtmaker frocks going coolly to the office, as well as playing games and looking on, west of Kingshighway! Easily laundered... smart as only simple things are this year... we prophesy you'll take your "chemisiers" by the half dozen!

- As Uncomplicated as a Man's Shirt!
- Broadcloth and Striped Cotton With Grosgrain Belts.

White and blue, brown, red or green—size 14 to 40; solid white, blue or mauve—12 to 14.

Solid white, peach, blue or green—size 14 to 40.

Pin-Money Dress Shop—Third Floor

OSCILLATING FANS

Just 100 in This Lot

$11.95

- 2 Speeds.
- 12-Inch.
- Chromium-Plated Blades.
- Induction Type Motor.
- No Radio Interference.
- Convertible to Stationary or Oscillating Movement.
- Fully Guaranteed

This is the lowest price we ever heard of for a Fan of this high quality! Come in tomorrow, or telephone or mail your order.

Electric Shop—Downstairs

Electric Shop—Downstairs

SPECIAL RELIEF TAXES OPPOSED BY THOSE AFFECTED

Telephone Company Representatives at Public Hearing Charge Levy Is Discriminatory—Theater Men Heard.

The proposed special taxes on telephones and amusements, designed to raise funds for relief appropriations, were opposed by the affected interests this afternoon at a public hearing held by the Legislation Committee of the Board of Aldermen.

Representatives of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. criticized the suggested 5-cents a month tax on telephones as discriminatory, and a spokesman for the moving picture theaters said the amusement tax under consideration, which ranges from 1 cent on admissions to 30 cents to 20 cents on admissions of $4 would be more than the theaters could bear.

The telephone tax, which would be paid by the company, would yield about $50,000 annually for relief appropriations, it has been estimated. The amusement tax would produce about $100,000.

Bond Issue Opposed. Bernard Dickman, president of the Real Estate Exchange, recommended that the tax on real estate agents, not $25 a year, be increased to $37.50 instead of the graduated tax of from $25 a year to $100 fixed in another pending measure. He indicated the exchange would oppose any bond issue for relief purposes, "so long as 80 per cent of the cost would be borne by property owners."

Fred Wehrenberg, president of the Moving Picture Theater Owners' Association, spoke favorably of the $5,000,000 relief bond issue proposed last week by President Neun of the Board of Aldermen. He referred to the closing of several large theaters, the Federal tax on amusements which became effective last week, a competition from other forms of amusement as evidence that the theaters could not stand another tax.

Wehrenberg also questioned the efficiency with which charitable agencies are handling their present funds and said he had been wondering "whether we should pay a man $12,000 a year for dispensing charity and whether he should have an assistant or secretary at $4000 a year."

He suggested that the Police Department could make the necessary investigations "instead of having policemen walk around with nothing to do except look up at the airplanes."

Theater Attorney Protests. Alvin Wolf, attorney for the moving picture theater owners, told the committee their patronage had decreased 30 per cent since the new Federal tax became effective June 21.

Shields R. Smith, general manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., and E. W. Clausen, attorney, appeared to argue against the tax on telephones. They presented a prepared statement which related that "we must protest against this tax or betray our business conscience and the trust of 117,000 subscribers, 4000 employees and 1372 Bell security holders in St. Louis."

The statement set forth that the telephone company now contributed $1,044,000 a year to St. Louis in the form of taxes and services, which include laying ducts for the police and fire department telephone system. The tax on gross sales of the company, the statement said, is $495,873 a year, "50 times the amount we would pay if the prevailing merchants' and manufacturers' sales tax were applied to us."

Willington Bear Share. The problem is one of emergency relief rather than taxes, the statement said, "and from that standpoint we are willing to bear our part, as we believe we have conscientiously in the past."

City Counselor Muench is drafting an ordinance which would submit to the voters in November a proposal for a $5,000,000 relief bond issue as urged by Neun. He expects also to draft one along the lines recommended by the Republican City Committee which would provide $10,000,000 to be spent in employing manual labor on a program of public works.

Both will be submitted to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment with which any bond issue proposal presented to the voters must originate.

There is no doubt of the legality of the plan offered by the City Committee, Muench said, and he believes Neun's proposal also legal, although there is no specific authorization or prohibition of such a method of raising relief funds in either the city charter or the State constitution.

Victims to St. Louis Missing. By the Associated Press. GALESBURG, Ill., June 27.—Lansing A. Dickson, 43 years old, prominent Galesburg man, has not been heard from since May 24, when he wrote his wife from St. Louis, police announced today. Dickson was en route to Willow Spring, Mo., apparently to look up a friend to a farm he once owned near there. Relatives said he probably lost his memory as a result of a recent accident, or else was attacked. They called on private detectives and police throughout the Middle West to search for him.

Bargain fares to MICHIGAN RESORTS

On the Air Conditioned ALTON LIMITED RESORT SPECIAL leaving 12:05 P.M. from St. Louis as follows:

- June 17, 22, 24, 27, 28, 29, 30
- July 1, 2, 5, 8, 12, 15, 19, 22, 26, 29
- August 2, 5, 9, 12, 16, 19, 23, 26, 30
- September 2, 6, 9

Dining car service en route—5 other daily trains to Chicago, Michigan and Wisconsin.

For full information and literature consult

CITY TICKET OFFICE 326 N. Broadway GARD 5120

THE ALTON AND THE PERE MARQUETTE

Cool off AT THE Forum

33,000 CU. FT. WASHED, ICED AIR PER MINUTE

Really cool!... but not too cold. Come and enjoy the delightful "mountain" air of our mammoth cooling plant. Our "weather" is free!

Tuesday Noon Special BEEF STEW 9c with fresh vegetables

Tuesday Evening Special LIVER & BACON 10c Fried Young Beef Liver and "Premium" Bacon.

All Day Special Watermelon 7c Large cut, full ripe.

Chicken Salad 7c

Other Suggestions Cold Plate Lunch 13c (Cream Cheese, Salmon, boiled egg and sliced tomatoes.)

Fresh Home-Grown Spinach... 7c Boiled New Cabbage... 5c Fresh Corn, O'Brien... 6c Fresh Green Beans... 6c Fresh Cherry Pie... 10c Fresh Blackberry Pie... 8c Fresh Rhubarb Pie... 8c Iced Tea with Lemon... 5c Fresh Blackberries, dish... 10c

Forum CATERIES

307 No. 7th

What greater joy than to have a POST-DISPATCH Lost Ad restored some valued keepsake that "you never expected to see again." It is being done every day. Call MAIn 5114.

banker, started for Providence last night to claim the body of his son.

Kline's 606-08 Washington Ave. (Opp. to Sixth Street)

1 to $22.95

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

1/3 OFF

OPEN EVERY EVENING Brandt's UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK

SALE!

ONE DAY ONLY
Guaranteed Brand-New

—Latest Model
NATIONALLY KNOWN
$99.50
ELECTRIC WASHER
Tomorrow Only
$48.75

Our Display Also Includes
EASY-MAYTAG
Satisfaction Guaranteed

Choose any Washer here. If you are not satisfied we will exchange it for another make within thirty days.

Trade Your Old Washer
We Repair or Furnish Parts for Any Make Washer

Brandt Electric Co.
904 PINE ST. Open Until 9 O'Clock Every Evening
OVER 50,000 SATISFIED CUSTOMERS SINCE 1886

Recovering Bodies of Boy and Slain Girl From Volcano

RIKAN KONISHI, Japanese, shown being hauled to the surface after descending into the Halemauau firepit of Kilauea Volcano to recover the bodies of Sylvester Nunes and Margaret Enos. Nunes, rejected suitor, jumped to death into the firepit with the girl after killing her. Konishi received a reward of $1000 for recovering the bodies.

SUES TO PROTECT CARNIVAL

Legion Post Wants Court to Enjoin Police From Interference. Suit to enjoin the Police Department from threatened interference with a carnival scheduled to open at 7 o'clock this evening was filed in Circuit Court this afternoon by Clifton Heights Post No. 222, American Legion.

The carnival, under auspices of the post, has been set up at Vandeventer and Cleveland avenues on a lot belonging to the Board of Education. The suit relates that the police have declared certain devices in the carnival are for gambling, but insists that these are games of skill and not of chance.

Just Ring
Forest
0926

CLEANS
DRESSES
RIGHT

All Flies Die

All Mosquitoes... At a Touch of This Perfumed Mist... Based on Flowers of Japan

There is a spray based on an extract of Japanese flowers. It was developed at Mellon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Research Fellowship. Ten years and over $100,000 have been spent in perfecting it.

The name is Fly-Tox. When used in a new-type Fly-Tox sprayer, it fills the room with a cloud of perfumed mist, harmless to people, stainless to anything.

But that flower extract is deadly to flies and mosquitoes. It kills them quickly at a touch. And they can't escape if Fly-Tox is used rightly—to fill the whole room with that floating mist.

Fly-Tox, at a cost of 1 or 2 cents, rids a room completely of these deadly pests.

This is the latest, most efficient, most economical way to free your home—and keep it free—from these germ-bearing insects. They contaminate all foods they touch—infect when they bite. They destroy over 40,000 lives per year, mostly lives of children. Employ it liberally and often to be safe.

FLY-TOX ONLY

A Rex Research Product
Use Fly-Tox only, and always in a new-type Fly-Tox sprayer. Then every stroke will release into the air some 150,000 particles of spray.
Fly-Tox is efficient beyond all compare. It is all-perfuming, quick and economical. Every lot is tested

The Post-Dispatch offers readers a far larger number of rooms for rent than are listed in all the other St. Louis newspapers combined. It is the recognized renting medium in St. Louis.

Want
a Thrill?

Cold
that Captures Flavor

Cold that gives a Marvelous
Smoothness

Cold that makes the Best
Ice Cream
Better

Quick!
Hardened
the New Pevely Process

PEVELY
Select
ICE CREAM

A New Difference
AND Added
Deliciousness

Deliciously Different

Taste Tells
Try it yourself and let your own taste tell.

The POST-DISPATCH Regularly prints MORE WANT Ads than ALL the other St. Louis newspapers COMBINED.

POLICE STOP FEEDING OF BONUS CAMPERS

Food Fund Gone—Police Appeal to Congress to Send Veterans Home.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 27.—District of Columbia police today exhausted "for food fund for the camping bonus-seekers. Further replenishment of the treasury was not in prospect.

With the increase of individual "panhandling" on the capital streets, donations have decreased to a few dollars a day. Capt. William G. Stott, officer in charge of the war veterans commissary, said the police would be unable to care for the men beyond today.

"The money is gone and unless there is more money from somewhere we can't do anything," he added.

Felham D. Glassford, Superintendent of Police, said he hoped the exhausted food supply would lead many more veterans to leave the capital.

Yesterday, police appealed through individual letters to Senators and Representatives in an effort to get the veterans out of the city.

The police sought to take advantage of the weakness brought about in the rank and file of the force by internal strife, but Thomas Kelly, Camden, N. J., who has been acting commander in chief since the resignation Saturday of Walter W. Waters, Portland, Ore., tried to offset the police evacuation plans by appealing for his men "to stick."

The appeal by police to Congress asked that support be obtained from home communities for funds to send the veterans back by train. The nation's railroads have set a minimum rate of 1 cent a mile for transportation of the veterans as passengers and an additional 16 cents a day a man was sought for rations en route. Police are seeking $100,000 to carry out the plan.

Meanwhile, an appropriation of $100,000 to be used by the District of Columbia police and Health Commissioners in transferring the bonus-seekers to their homes or in caring for them here was proposed to the Senate today in a resolution by Senator Copeland, (Dem.), New York. Copeland, a doctor, said the health of Washington was menaced by existing conditions.

The campers' Executive Committee has set July 4 for a convention at which the resignation of Waters as commander will be considered. W. S. Keyser, Cleveland, head of the Convention Committee, said the former soldiers would try to set up a permanent organization co-ordinating the activities of all veterans of all wars. Such "promotion" of the political, economic and social welfare of all veterans, a police census showed 8900 veterans in the encampments, but veterans' leaders said this was underestimated.

Six members of the Workers' Ex-Servicemen's League, a Communist organization, were arrested at one camp and held for investigation. They were distributing a two-page bulletin attacking the Veterans' leaders. The bulletin urged increased "panhandling" on the streets and gave Communist credit for the resignation of Waters.

TREASURER ENDS HIS LIFE

Macon County (Ill.), Official Admitted Juggling Funds.

By the Associated Press.
DECATUR, Ill., June 27.—R. F. Coffman, Treasurer of Macon County, ended his life Saturday night by swallowing poison. In a farewell note he absolved from blame his wife who has served with him as Deputy Treasurer throughout his political career.
He admitted juggling county funds to meet losses in speculation. An immediate audit of the county books will be started. Coffman's body was found late Sunday afternoon in a hotel room.

Announcing

1933 GRAHAM SIX

companion to the Great GRAHAM "8"

TODAY'S PEAK VALUE

Undeniably, this new Graham is the most beautiful Six ever presented to the American public. And it is by a wide margin the easiest riding and driving Six, the roomiest and most comfortable Six and the SAFEST Six obtainable in the moderate price class today.

STYLE SUPREMACY—All of the dazzling beauty of Graham streamline design—recognized in the beauty sensation of the year.

SUPER-PERFORMANCE—Smoothness, ease of handling, freedom from side-sway, and silent swiftness such as you have never before enjoyed in any Six.

SOLID COMFORT—Luxurious roominess unmatched in other Sixes, and the extra riding ease of Graham's wide outboard springs and low-hung, cradled weight.

RESTFUL RELAXATION—A wholly new sense of riding and driving ease and safety—of freedom from strain and nervous tension.

There never has been such a Six before at any price.

ARCHER-MANN MOTOR CO., 4057 Lindell—Distributors
BAIRETT WEBER MOTOR CO., 3008 N. Grand LOWRY MOTOR CO., Maplewood, Mo.

JOEDICKEMOTOR CO., 5237 Morganford

LAFAYETTE GARAGE, 2716 Lafayette Ave.

ROTHE MOTOR CO., E. St. Louis, Ill.

CHAS. PROCASKY, Belleville, Ill.

NO OTHER SIX CAN MATCH THESE FEATURES

Graham Streamline Design
Deep Banjo Frame
Outboard Springs
Silenced Chassis and Body
Oil Temperature Control
Power Operated Clutch
(Automatic Free Wheeling)
Super-Hydraulic Brakes
118-Inch Wheelbase
Synchro-Silent Gear Shift
80 Horsepower Engine

NEW LOW
MONTHLY PAYMENT PLAN

ROBBERS DRESSED AS WOMEN

PAVA, Ill., June 27.—Two men dressed in women's clothing entered the farm home of Mrs. Ben Diehl, 70 years old, Friday, bound her with ropes and threatened her with pistols in an effort to obtain money.

The woman convinced them she had none. They then placed a ether-soaked cloth over her face. Mrs. Diehl was released by her husband and daughter when they returned from a trip to Lewistown.

Wet
THRIFTY SERV
A. HEIS
LAUND

WATER BUGS
Getz Exterminators, Inc.

begin

Another
Big J
Take advantage of the food
glance they'r

FRESH W
LON CHE
L.B.

RAJAH BRAND
Salad Dressing
RAJAH BRAND
Sandwich Spre
AFRICOTS OR Pears
IONA BRAND
Peaches
ENCORE BRAND
Olives
CANADA DRY
Ginger Ale
PLUS BOTTLE

U. S.
SPA

SUNNYFIELD
Bacon
Frankfur
Boiling B

CALIFORNIA VAL
ORAN
YELLOW RIFE
Bananas
CALIFORNIA
Lemons

The Great Atlantic

Die

at a Touch of Based on Japan

ONLY

Product
in our laboratory. Its power is guaranteed by every test. Use nothing less efficient for the safety of your home is made. Fly-Tox is sold everywhere throughout the world.
It is harmless to people. Stainless steel by the Makers of Moth-Tox.

For a larger number of rooms for household newspapers combined. It is in St. Louis.

ROBBERS DRESSED AS WOMEN

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 27. — Two men dressed in women's clothing entered the farm home of Mrs. Ben Diehl, 70 years old, Friday, bound her with ropes and threatened her with pistols in an effort to obtain money.

The woman convinced them she had none. They then placed an ether-soaked cloth over her face. Mrs. Diehl was released by her husband and daughter when they returned from a trip to Lewistown.

Wet Wash, Now 5c Lb.

THRIFTY SERVICE Damp Wash Flat Work Ironed... 7c Lb. Same Low Prices in Effect All Week. Phone PR. 4170. A. HEISEL LAUNDRY 3125 Magnolia

WATER BUGS

GETZ GETS 'EM

Sprayers and insecticides sold—powder, paste or liquid form. Also yearly contracts. Phone CH. 2676. 1135-39 Pine St.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

MONDAY, JUNE 27, 1932

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

PAGE 9A

SCHOONER BURNS DURING RACE

Yachtsman Killed; 10 Saved by Sloop Which Turned Back. NEW YORK, June 27.—Clarence Kozlay, yachtsman of Orange, N. J., was lost in the sea early yesterday when the schooner Adriana was destroyed by fire. Ten others leaped to the deck of the English sloop Jolie Brise and were saved.

False Teeth

Don't allow your false teeth to drop or slip when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little Kling on your plates. This new improved powder forms a comfort cushion—holds plates so snug, they feel and act like your own teeth. No more danger of rocking plates—eating will again be a joy. Leading dentists endorse Kling. Guaranteed better than anything you ever used or money back. Large package, 35c at all drugists. KLING HOLDS PLATES FIRMLY AND COMFORTABLY

FATHER DUFFY DIES, CHAPLAIN OF 69TH

New York Priest Was Decorated by France and U. S. for Bravery Under Fire.

NEW YORK, June 27.—The Rev. Francis P. Duffy, celebrated chaplain of the "Fighting Sixty-ninth," died yesterday of an intestinal ailment laid to hardships he endured during the World War. He was 61 years old.

Father Duffy, pastor of Holy Cross Church, succumbed to the effects of colitis and an acute infection of the liver.

The funeral will be held Wednesday. The body lay in state today at Holy Cross rectory.

Once described by Cardinal Hayes as "the ideal army chaplain and the ideal parish priest," Father Duffy won fame and decorations from the United States and France for his devotion to his men under fire.

He was cited officially for heroism when his regiment, the 168th Infantry of the Forty-second (Maine) Division, crossed the Ourcq under heavy fire in a battle that lasted from July 28 to July 31. The regiment originally was known as the Sixty-ninth of the New York National Guard.

For this display of bravery he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross and the Croix de Guerre.

"Despite constant and severe bombardment," said his citation, "with shells and aerial bombs, he continued to circulate in and about two aid stations and hospitals, creating an atmosphere of cheerfulness and confidence by his courageous and inspiring example."

In a preface to his book of experiences Father Duffy wrote: "I am a very Irish, very Catholic, very American person, if anybody challenges my convictions. . . . But normally and let alone, I am just plain human."

He was given credit by Alfred E. Smith for supplying material for answers to theological questions raised in the church and state controversy between Smith and Charles G. Marshall in 1927, but he asserted that Smith wrote the whole reply himself.

When asked in 1927 if he had prayed for Gene Tunney when the latter was knocked down in the seventh round of the second Dempsey-Tunney fight, the clergyman promptly responded that he had not, for he "thought it wasn't fair for an Irishman to have help in a fight."

DAVENPORT MAYOR INJURED, FINDS WIFE DEAD OF GAS. Explosion Occurs When He Attempts to Turn Off Jets in Kitchen of Home.

DAVENPORT, Ia., June 27.—Mrs. George C. Tank was asphyxiated and her husband, Mayor of Davenport, was severely burned on the face and hands in their home early yesterday.

Returning home from a lodge meeting, Tank said that he detected the odor of escaping gas and went to the kitchen, where he found the jets of the gas stove open. As he attempted to shut off the gas, there was an explosion and, in the resultant fire, he saw the body of his wife on the floor.

Tank said that he tried to drag his wife outdoors, but the kitchen door was locked and he ran four blocks to a drug store for help. A lighted cigar in the mayor's mouth probably caused the explosion.

SONNENFELD'S

610 to 618 WASHINGTON AVE.

Month-End Clearance of Good Selling Fashions That Are Incomplete in Assortment Now!

These Fine Fashions are given DRASTIC PRICE CUTS in this June Clearance!

Come on! Now's your chance to get these higher priced fashions you've wanted but couldn't afford. They're SUMMER WEARABLES and many are ready to take you Thru Fall, too! All are FASHION RIGHT . . . but incomplete size, color or style assortments have kept them here. Read every item . . . they're priced in most cases BELOW ACTUAL COST!

Clearance! 210 Fine French Room Frocks

$8

37 Were $25.00
65 Were $29.50

38 Were $39.50
20 Were $49.50

Every spring and early summer dress must go! Prints, dark and bright crepes in dresses and jacket suits. They'll give you months of wear! 12 to 42.
(French Room . . . Fourth Floor)

236—$5.98 to $8.65 Fourth Floor Dresses

$2.98

Washable Crepes Silk Prints Pure Dye Prints

All are summer styles—sleeveless, short or long sleeves. Materials are beautiful and are reduced because of incomplete style and size assortment! 14 to 44.
(Dress Shop . . . Fourth Floor)

Coats Reduced

150 $8.75 wool Crepe Redingotes . . . $3

160 Spring Coats, Tan, White Polos. . . $5

(Third Floor)

Coats, Suits Reduced

210 Fur-trimmed; values to $39.50. 45 $16.75 Polo Coats . . . $10

38 $16.75 Velvet Coats . . . $19

130 Coats and Suits. Values to $39.50 . . . $19

(Third Floor)

Sports Shop Knitted Frocks

$29.50 to $49.50 Boucles, Knits. 1/3 OFF

55 Two-Piece Summer Knits, $5.98 values. $2

76 Knit Suits and Frocks, $10.75 to $16.75 values. $4

(Fourth Floor)

Junior Deb Dress Sale! Values to $16.75

$5.98

Silk Prints, Washable Crepes, Sheers and fine Linens in white and summer colors. Sizes 11 to 17.
(Second Floor)

MILLINERY Reduced

87—$12.50 to $20 Hats

Ballbuntl, Crystal, Waffle Cloth, Crepes and Hairbraids . . . exclusive $5

styles in all colors.

186 Hats Worth to $10

Rough Straws, Ballbuntls, Bakus, Straw Cloths and Crepes in all colors. They'll take you through Summer! $2

(Millinery Salon . . . Second Floor)

SHOE Reductions

Choice 1200 Pairs Shoes

Including $6 Beverly's in Sandals, Pumps, Oxfords in Kid, Patent, Eyelet, Satin, Faille. Whites included. Broken sizes, 3 to 8, AAA to B. $2.85

Imported Summer Sandals

White, Beige, Black and White braided heels. Flat or Cuban $1.49

Air-y-Lite Sandals

Ducklin and Mesh Sandals with crepe sole and heel. White, colors. 79c

(Footwear . . . First Floor)

Hair Goods In Beauty Salon

Choice of Entire Stock 1/2 OFF

Fine quality Wigs, with natural skin part, transformations, coronets, switches, coverboes and other smart hair pieces. (Mezzanine)

Silk Crepe Underwear

Also French-Finish Rayon Slips 85c

Exquisite higher-priced Danettes, Teddies, Step-Ins and Slips . . . many with fine lace trims at this give-away price. (First Floor)

Silk Blouses

$1.98 to $2.98 Blouses Reduced 1/3 OFF

Silk Crepes, Prints and Laces in Summer styles. White, colors; sizes 34 to 40. (First Floor)

Underwear Half Price

$2.98 to $4.98 Silk Crepes 1/2 Price

Gowns Teddies Step-Ins Danettes 275 pieces of gorgeous Underwear. (First Floor)

Hosiery Reductions!

$1.65 and $1.95 Fancy Meshes $1

Stripes, diamonds, spider weaves . . . all lovely, cool, sheer patterns!

$1.35 Meshes 84c

3 Pairs $2.45

Also medium service weight and Chiffon hose included. (First Floor)

DOWNSTAIRS SHOP

Choice! Every $7.95 and $9.75 Summer Silk Dress! $5

Nothing excepted . . . all new Summer washable Silks, Prints, Sheers, rough Crepes. All sizes.

335 Silk Frocks Worth Up to $5.95 Washable prints, dark crepes. Come and get several of these bargains. $2

71 Regular $5 Silk Dresses 80—$3.98 and $5.98 Knit Frocks Dark Crepes and Prints and lacy Knits reduced to LESS THAN COST. $1

545 Regular $1.00 and $2 Summer Hats 25c

Straws and Fabrics in White and Colors . . . drastically reduced for quick clearance! Plenty of large brims! Plenty of White. (Sonnenfeld's Downstairs Shop)

FIRST FLOOR

$1 Jewelry

200 pieces. All odd one-of-a-kind styles. 10c

175 regular $1 Cotton Blouses. 39c

130 Regular $1.98 and $2.98 Sweaters. 39c

Regular $5.98 Ribbonette Knit Frocks. $2.98

All-Wool Sun-Back Swim Suits. $1.79

White Fabric and Mesh Gloves 2 Pairs $1

(First Floor)

Food Stores

beginning

Another Great Week of Our Big JUNE FOOD SALE!

Take advantage of these food bargains today. The quality of the food is undeniable and of course you can see at a glance they're priced to save you money.

FRESH WISCONSIN DAISY OR LONGHORN CHEESE

LB. 15c

An ideal Summer food. Tasty and nourishing . . . you can prepare many interesting and appetizing dishes with the use of cheese.

RAJAH BRAND Salad Dressing 2 PT. JARS 29c	VESS Beverages . . 3 LGE. BOTS 25c
RAJAH BRAND Sandwich Spread 2 PT. JARS 29c	STANDARD SLICED Pineapple . . 2 No. 2 1/2 CANS 33c
APRICOTS OR Pears . . . 3 No. 2 1/2 CANS 55c	A&P Grape Juice . 2 PT. BOTS 29c
IONA BRAND Peaches . . 3 No. 2 1/2 CANS 55c	CAMPFIRE Marshmallows . 1-LB. BOX 19c
ENCORE BRAND Olives . . . . . QT. JAR 29c	KOSHER Dill Pickles . . QT. JAR 17c
CANADA DRY Ginger Ale . . 2 BOTS. 25c	UNDERWOOD Deviled Ham . 2 CANS 25c

PLUS BOTTLE DEPOSIT.

U. S. GOVT. INSPECTED MEATS SPARERIBS . . . LB. 9c

SUNNYFIELD Bacon SLICED 1/4-LB. PKG. 10c	RIB OR LOIN Lamb Chops LB. 29c
Frankfurters LB. 15c	Veal Chops LB. 22c
Boiling Beef 2 LBS. 15c	Thuringer LB. 19c

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

CALIFORNIA VALENCIA

ORANGES

252 SIZE . . . DOZ. 19c

YELLOW RIPE Bananas . . 4 LBS. 23c

CALIFORNIA Lemons . . . DOZ. 29c

SWEET, TENDER Corn . . . 3 EARS 10c

RED RIPE Tomatoes . 2 LBS. 15c

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. MIDDLE WESTERN DIV.

77-2

HER SIX CAN THESE FEATURES

Streamline Design
Banjo Frame
Board Springs
Chassis and Body
Temperature Control
Operated Clutch
Electric Free Wheeling
Hydraulic Brakes
Arch Wheelbase
Silent Gear Shift
Sepower Engine

W LOW PAYMENT PLAN

Distributors

plewood, Mo.

HAS. PROGASKY, Belleville, Ill.

Removes stain cleans
TEETH
3 shades
WHITER
in 3 days

Yellow, stained teeth are not natural. For proof start using Kolynos—a half-inch of this scientific dental cream on a dry brush, twice daily. In 3 days your teeth will look fully 3 shades whiter!

This remarkable dental cream cleans teeth so much whiter than other preparations you've used because it contains two remarkable ingredients. One—the finest cleansing agent known—foams into and cleans out every fissure, removes decay-causing debris, erases ugly tartar and yellow. While the second ingredient kills millions of germs that swarm into the mouth and cause most tooth and gum troubles. Thus the mouth and teeth are quickly cleaned right down to the beautiful, natural white enamel without injury.

Now if you want gleaming white teeth, free from decay, and firm pink gums free from disease start using Kolynos, with its unique Dry-Brush Technique. You'll never regret it. Buy a tube today.

KOLYNOS DENTAL CREAM

VAN CAMP'S
PUREED FOODS

Best for Baby

SPINACH
PEAS
MIXED VEGETABLES
PRUNES
TOMATOES
CARROTS
APRICOTS
BEANS

Natural freshness in taste—in color—in nutritional values—stamp Van Camp's PUREED FOODS as BEST for your baby. Just examine them—taste them and see. Ideal for protective diets, they are good for you... too

Today's bargains in used articles in today's Want Pages.

MISSOURI RIVER INSPECTION FLEET NEAR KANSAS CITY

125 Business Men Go Out on Barges to Meet Party Headed by Secretary
Hurley.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

ON BOARD THE GENERAL ASHBURN, June 27.—The steamboats heralding the coming of modern river transportation to the Missouri River are nearing Kansas City today, 123 years and one day after Lewis and Clark landed their "one keel boat and two pirogues" at the mouth of the Kaw.

Here the explorers of the last century "saw a number of parrots and killed some deer." Secretary of War Hurley and his fellow-explorers of a modernized river channel, nearing a great city where Lewis and Clark found only a meeting of two rivers, were met at noon by 125 business men, traveling by barge to escort them to an up-to-the-minute rail and river terminal, where they will embark to be guests of the Chamber of Commerce at dinner at the Muehlebach Hotel.

Lewis and Clark had seen only a few traders and Indians, besides pelicans, deer, bears and wild turkeys, on their expedition into an unknown wilderness. Cruising between orchard-crowned bluffs and bottom-lands laid out in golden wheat and rich green corn, the Mark Twain and General Ashburn have but rarely been out of sight of waving and shouting people, from two or three gathered beside a fisherman's hut, to more than 1000 at the larger towns.

Hurley Rejoins Party.

Enthusiasm grew as the steamers traveled westward, into a section which had waited 50 years for its river to become again an artery of trade with the ports of the world. At Lexington, where Secretary Hurley rejoined the party after an airplane trip to Tulsa, automobiles blocked the highway bridge for its entire length. They were lined up for more than a mile along the road at Peters Point, four miles upstream, where Secretary Hurley, Major-General T. Q. Ashburn and Col. Clarence B. Douglas made brief addresses, and two hours later, when the steamers reached Napoleon to tie up for the night, hundreds of persons were waiting on the bank.

But perhaps the greatest contrast between the cruises of 1804 and 1932 was in the river itself. Lewis and Clark traveled nearly six weeks—from May 14 to June 26—from the mouth of Wood River to the mouth of the Kaw, and even their light keel boat, drawing three feet of water, was aground more than once. The great modern tow-boats of today, drawing 4½ to 5 feet of water, set out last Tuesday and made the trip leisurely in six days in the only stabilized alluvial river channel in the world.

The greatest feat of the entire $52,000,000 project—one of the major engineering achievements of history—was inspected yesterday at Lexington. Here the army engineers had guided the river over a 45-mile stretch in order to "shoot" it through the navigation spans of the Lexington highway bridge.

River Deserts Camden.

In the high water of 1915, the river cut through at a bend above Lexington, leaving Camden, formerly on the river bank, six miles from the river. The cut-off abandoned the channel by seven miles, and created a virtual cascade between Napoleon and Lexington, since an additional fall of nearly six feet had to be absorbed in the shortened distance between the two points.

For 17 years the river literally writhed in the attempt to regain its normal fall of .83 foot to the mile. The highway bridge was built at Lexington with the two navigation spans across deep water in 1925, but soon the channel had swung out from under those spans and was running under what was, in effect, the approach on the Lexington side. Navigation was impossible.

In 1928 the army engineers made a study of all the shifts of channel since the cut-off and laid out their plans to "shoot" it at the navigation spans. It required complete reconstruction of 4½ miles of river, sometimes completely reversing its direction, with thousands of feet of dikes and revetment.

"The navigation spans were located in the middle of the alluvial valley," remarked Secretary Hurley. "The engineers, therefore, were shooting a great river, discharging 300,000 second feet—or 400,000 acre feet of water a day—at a very elusive target, two bridge spans without any banks or stable points to guide them.

"It is doubtful whether any greater feat of marksmanship has ever been accomplished."

Carpenters' Council Elects Sipp.

J. C. Sipp was elected secretary of the Carpenters' District Council last Saturday to succeed Harry Lindemann, who was not a candidate. Business agents were elected as follows: J. A. Klein, M. J. Walsh, Harry Steinmeyer, W. E. Gebel and D. R. Adams.

Journeyman Plumbers' Election.

At the annual election of Journeymen Plumbers' Union, John Monahan was named president, Thomas Delaney vice-president, William Mykins business agent, and John A. Brady secretary-treasurer.

POLICE AND COMMUNISTS CLASH IN LOS ANGELES

Officers Prevent Meeting Which William Z. Foster Was to Have Addressed.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, June 27.—Police reserves last night prevented what they said was a meeting to be addressed by William Z. Foster, Communist candidate for President.

After two skirmishes in the street with persons who tried to enter the hall, police arrested Meyer Boylan and Harry Siegel on "suspicion of criminal syndicalism."

White Won't Release Delegates.

COLUMBUS, O., June 27.—Gov. George White, Ohio's "favorite son" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said today that he did not intend to release the Buckeye delegates to the Democratic national convention from voting for him, as suggested by W. W. Durbin of Kenton, a follower of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York.

Democratic Club Window Smashed.

A window in the Sixth Ward Democratic Club, 1135 Chestnut street, was broken by bricks hurled through it at 10 o'clock last night. The brick-throwers fled in two automobiles. Damage was estimated at $40.

We Give Eagle Stamps

Super Quality... Newest Designs

Men's Two-Tone Sport Oxfords

WHITE ELK and BLACK CALF... also Plain Toe Venetian Tan Calf and Smoked Elk or Black Calf and White Elk Sport Oxfords.

Sizes 6 to 11

$3.50

Boys' Two-Tone Black & White or Tan & White Elk. Sizes 1 to 6, $3

"The Store That Really FITS YOU"

C.E. Williams

SIXTH and FRANKLIN

Quality Shoes for All the Family

ROLLINS Men's 50c Fancy Hosiery 29c

UNDERWOOD Deviled HAM

You'll save money and have tastier sandwiches if you make them at home with Underwood's... It's just pure ham and choice spices blended in a delicious flavor... ready to spread.

For Picnic Sandwiches

How to buy a HAM

Does the packer use utmost care in selecting only finest young corn-fed porkers of proper weight—not too heavy or too light? ARMOUR DOES.

LOOK FOR THIS

The appearance—does it follow a rigid standard of uniformity and trim—careful and close—a better looking product that means less waste? ARMOUR'S DOES.

EXAMINE THIS

The texture and grain—is it firm and tender—does it show thin streaks of fat throughout the lean—tender and flavorful? ARMOUR'S IS.

+ PLUS TIME CONTROL

Which means every step in the preparation of ARMOUR STAR Hams is under absolute control—the mild sugar cure—the smoking. Timed to the minute by specifications that are the result of years of perfecting. This means unvarying uniformity and unexcelled flavor EVERY TIME you buy an ARMOUR Ham.

In addition to giving you a ham that is perfection itself, note the low price—the lowest in years.

Whole or Half—Lb.

12½c

SKINNED HAMS Lb. 27c

CENTER SLICES Lb. 27c

ARMOUR'S STAR

STEAKS Loin or Round LB. 27c

Pork Chops Lean Meat Lb. 20c

Baked Hams Sliced Whole or Lb., 39c Half, Lb. 27c

Boiled Ham Sliced Lb. 29c

City Chicken Legs Lb. 30c

Sliced Bacon Kroger's Lb. 22c

Lard Bulk—Kettle Rendered 2 Lbs. 11c

All Kroger Meats Are U. S. Gov't Inspected

COUNTRY CLUB

BEANS With Pork 6 Cans 25c

Candy Giant Orange Slices Lb. 10c

FREE 1 Can Sunbrite Cleanser With 1 Pkg. Quick Arrow Soap Chips for 20c.

BANANAS Ripe Firm Lb. 5c

Tomatoes Fancy For Slicing 2 Lb. 15c

Cantaloupes Jumbo 36 Size Each 10c

Corn Young and Tender Ears 3 for 10c

Lemons Fancy 360 Size Doz. 29c

Green Beans Home Grown Lb. 5c

New Potatoes 10 Lb. 19c

KROGER STORES

RED TAG
Specials

Pillsbury's or GOLD MEDAL FLOUR

24-Lb. Sack 67c

48-Lb. Cloth Bag, $1.34

Pineapple
COUNTRY CLUB

2 Large No. 2½ Cans 33c

Thick, luscious slices of fancy Hawaiian fruit—in heavy syrup.

Palmolive SOAP

3 Cakes 19c

PALMOLIVE BEADS for washing dainty silks; pkg. 5c

Say to yourself
"Let's start today in high!"

"Hi there, Me..."

"Another big day ahead. And this time we're not letting Old Man Weather interfere. Going to be sensible about our meals. Starting with a brisk breakfast, a bowlful of natural energy. You've guessed it—Shredded Wheat!"

START the day with Shredded Wheat... and the battle to keep comfortable, to keep fit, is half won. For Shredded Wheat is ALL the wheat, ALL of Nature's most complete energy-building food.

Millions have followed their own advice to change to this sensible summer treat. Why don't you? It's quickly served with milk or cream... or in many other appetizing ways. Men who keep the world moving eat Shredded Wheat regularly at home, in hotels, clubs, dining cars and restaurants.

Try two of these golden biscuits for today's lunch or tomorrow's breakfast. Keep it up for a week. You'll decide to keep that worth-while "on-the-toes" feeling all the time.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY
"Uneeda Bakers"

When you see Niagara Falls on the package, you KNOW you have Shredded Wheat

SHREDDED WHEAT

FOR ALL THE FAMILY... ALL THE YEAR

DOUBLE EAGLE STAR
TUESDAY

1/4 to 3/4

FU

$79.50 Carved Chair
Mahogany; red and gold French velvet cover... $29.50

$40 Table
$19.90
Matched Cracked Mahogany Drum Top

Wall Paper
Authentic Copies Old Spanish Plaster at an Abundantly Low

9c Roll

When you see them agree they're a gro-merits highest super

FINAL WEEK for the Summer
Better Kitchen Set
MISS MIRIAM
Tuesday at 2 P.
Lecture: "The Simple Meal."
Demonstration: Sausage Lamb Chops, Potatoes, Fritters, Buttered Peas, New Peas, Sauce, Pear and Salad Ring, Biscuits, Charlotte.
Model Kitchen—Seven

SUMMER STORE HOURS: 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

CHARGE PURCHASES PAYABLE IN AUGUST

DOUBLE
EAGLE STAMPS
TUESDAY

FAMOUS-BARR CO.

OPERATED BY THE MAY DEPT. STORES CO.

WE GIVE AND REDEEM EAGLE STAMPS—FEW RESTRICTED ARTICLES EXCEPTED

1/4 to 3/4 Reductions! Short Quantity Items!

FURNITURE

New, Superb Quality Pieces . . . Some From Our Regular Stock, Others Specially Purchased . . .
Starting Tuesday. Many One-of-a-Kind Styles!HERE ARE PICTURED JUST A FEW! LOOK FOR THE SPECIAL SIGNS THROUGHOUT THE DEPARTMENT!DEFERRED PAYMENTS, if You Wish . . . So Choose the Kind of Furniture You've Longed for, Now!$59.50 Secretary Beautiful mahogany $19.75
veneers. Rockford.$86 Period Chair Hepplewhite; blue velvet down cushion. $39.75
mahogany.$79.50 Carved Chair
Mahogany; red and gold
French velvet cover. $29.50$414 Mahogany Sofa
Solid mahogany frame; one-piece down cushion. $159.50$131 Wing Chair
$49.75
Antique green velvet on solid mahogany$300 Cabinet
$67.50
Elegant imported hand-carved cabinet$430 Poudre Table Sets Imported . . . $149.50
green mirror . . .$150 Marble-Top Table
Inlaid; bronze trim. $39.50
Large size . . .$245 Carved
2-Pc. Suite
$139.50
Solid mahogany frame; rich cover.$1200 8-Piece Bed
Set
Just 3 pieces shown; bed, dresser and vanity bench of solid walnut. $495

Wall Papers

Authentic Copies of Old Spanish Plasters at an Absurdly Low Price

9c Roll

When you see them, you'll agree they're a group that merits highest superlatives.
Tenth FloorFINAL WEEK for the Summer of Better Kitchen Service
MISS MIRIAM BOYD
Tuesday at 2 P. M.
Lecture: "The Simplified
Meal."Demonstration: Saratoga
Lamb Chops, Pineapple
Fritters, Buttered Potatoes,
New Peas with Egg sauce, Pear and Cheese
Salad Ring, Blackberry
Charlotte.
Model Kitchen—Seventh Floor

For a "Glorious Fourth"

BRIGHT, STARRY SPARKLERS

8-In. Gold Sparklers . . . 12 Boxes 35c
10-In. Gold Sparklers . . . 3 Boxes 25c
14-In. Gold Sparklers . . . 3 Boxes 25c
20-In. Gold Sparklers . . . Dozen 50c
10-In. Red or Green Kind, 3 Boxes 25c
14-In. Red or Green Kind, 3 Boxes 25cLong-burning, brilliant Sparklers, that add much to the fun-of-the Fourth.
The children will enjoy them . . . and so will you. So you'll want a plentiful supply for the evening.Gun and Holster
Set . . . $1.00
Two Repeater Pistols, with a leather holster and gun belt."Trooper" Repeating Pistol . . . 50c
Long barrel Cap Pistol
complete with 1500
shots.Noisy Paper
Busters . . . 50c
Cans or gun style.
Make loud report!
Reloads, 10c box.
Eighth FloorCool . . . Summery
Warp Print DrapesTransform Your Windows With Their Gay
Colorful
Designs$5.98 &
$7.98
Values

$3.98

All 2 1/4
Yards Long,
All 50
Inches in WidthImported cretonnes in lovely patterns
. . . made up in our own workrooms! Some are lined . . . others are unlined and smartly trimmed with fluffy ball fringe. Pleated tops, ready to hang.

Sixth Floor

Goodyear
Garden Hose50-Ft. Sections
Complete With
Couplings$5.25
Value . . . $2.75Corrugated red rubber, non-kinkable,
moulded garden hose
at lowest price we know of!$2.80—25-Ft.
Sections, $1.65
Eighth FloorChicken
FryersHeavy Cast Iron
Made By Griswold

$1.00

Deep style . . . with self-basting cover. Use it for frying chickens or for cooking small roasts. Seventh Floor

Upholstered Gliders...

Coil Spring Kind!

REGULARLY $17.98

$12.48

Coil Springs mean added comfort . . . and so does the cotton-filled seat pad and three-cushion back! Attractive floral covering of quality fabric! Ninth Floor

For Modern Wives...

TABLE-TOP WHITE STAR GAS RANGE

Meeting the Cooking Needs of Up-to-Date Housewives
. . . at a Lower Price Than Any Range of This Caliber!

$59.50

Some Outstanding
Features:Table-Top Design
Heat Master Oven Control
Porcelain-Lined Oven
Semi-Insulated Oven
Even-Heat Burners
Roll-Drop Broiler
E-Z Action Cooking Top
Two Utility Drawers
Easy-to-Clean Porcelain
E-Z Klean Burner Box
Removable Oven Bottom
Green Marbeloid TopAnswering every new requirement of efficiency and beauty . . .
and bringing besides the quality of lasting worth for which White Star has long been renowned! Planned to minimize the labor and increase the pleasure of cooking . . . and the price does not begin to reflect its many advantages!

Deferred Payments With Small Carrying Charge

Seventh Floor

MEADOWS' MERCY PLEA
IS GIVEN TO GOVERNORCaulfield to Study Record in Death Sentence for Hotel
Arson.By the Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, June 27.—
After listening to pleas today for a commutation of the death sentence of Andrew B. Meadows, under sentence to be hanged in St.
Louis July 15 for his part in the burning of the Buckingham Hotel
Annex, Dec. 5, 1927, Gov. Caul-field said he would study the record before announcing his decision. Seven persons perished in the fire.Herbert H. Blair, who was appointed by the Court to represent Meadows at his trial, told Gov.
Caulfield that Meadows was the "tool of the higher-ups," and that he was of low mentality, incapable of understanding that persons might lose their lives in the fire.Others who pleaded with the Governor for Meadows were O. F.
Greathouse, manager of Hotel Melbourne, who was night clerk at the Buckingham Hotel Annex at the time of the fire; F. M. Cune, St.
Louis attorney, and Edward Trank, department manager of a St. Louis department store where Meadows' daughter, Leona, is employed.Leona Meadows came here with them, but did not attend the hearing.Greathouse, who was indirectly responsible for the apprehension of Meadows and the other defendants, told Gov. Caulfield that Meadows was "kind-hearted" but without strength of character.Blair said Circuit Attorney Franklin Miller and Wilson Taylor, the trial judge, had declined to make any recommendation in the case of Meadows either for or against clemency.The attorney presented a petition signed by residents of Tish-omingo County, Mississippi, where Meadows once lived, asking the Governor to grant clemency. Other petitions are being prepared,
Blair said.Curlee, who once lived in Mississippi, where he knew Meadows, described him as a "ne'er-do-well," so weak of character that he became an easy "tool" in the Buckingham Annex fire.Why wait for other cars to follow
Studebaker?A car without Safety Glass
all around is as out of date
as a car without
Free Wheeling!

STUDEBAKER

The Triumphant New

STUDEBAKERS
give you Safety Glass
at no extra chargein all windshields . . .
in all windows
in all modelsBuyers and sellers become acquainted through the Post-Dispatch Want Columns.

CHARGE PURCHASES PAYABLE IN AUGUST

DOUBLE EAGLE STAMPS TUESDAY

STORE HOURS: 9 A. M. TO 5 P. M.

FAMOUS-BARR CO.

OPERATED BY THE MAY DEPT. STORES CO.

WE GIVE AND REDEEM EAGLE STAMPS—FEW RESTRICTED ARTICLES EXCEPTED

They're Here! New Arrivals in This Thrift Shop Group of Summer Frocks

You'll Marvel at Securing Them for

$10

One-Piece,
Two-Piece and the Popular Jacket Models!

Washable Silks
in White,
Pastels and Gay Prints!

Sheers in Street,
Afternoon and Sunday Night
Styles!

Thrift Shop—
Fourth Floor

Sizes 12 to 20
and 34 to 44

Also a Marvelous
Assortment in Sizes for Petite
Women...
16½ to 26½ or Larger Women's Sizes
40½ to 52½

A Special Offering of Exquisite Wrist Watches

Set With Two Diamonds!

¶ Tiny Wrist Watches fashioned of 18-karat gold... set with two sparkling diamonds and replica sapphires.
17-jewel movements. Remarkable at $25

Main Floor

THE LACES

Make These Exceptional!

BIAS-CUT PRINCESS SLIPS AND PANTIES TO MATCH

A French Lace Maker Sold His Entire Collection of Exquisite Laces... A Lingerie Maker Used Them... Now We Bring the Glorious Finished Product to You at a Ridiculously Low Price!

Enthusiasm-Causing, Value at

$2 Each

¶ Made of marvelous quality pure dye silk... designed so that you can assemble them into sets of slip and panties.
Every slip is shadowproof. Every slip and panty is cut on the bias, back and front... to assure perfection of fit!

White Undies Trimmed
With White Laces!
Blush Undies Trimmed
With Tinted Laces!

Dentelle
Brabanconne
Point d'Argentan,
Dentelle d'Ypres and Point de Turnhout...
Are the Luxurious
Laces Used!
Fifth Floor

Pantie Sizes 17, 18, 21
Slips, Sizes 32 to 44

Volland Books

FOR CHILDREN

Beautifully Bound and Illustrated

Beginning Tuesday

Less 1/2

65c Books, 29c Ea.

In Tumbledown Town, by Wilbur D. Nesbit.
Little Big-Bye-and-Bye, by Holling.
Tommy Tangle-Tangle, by Sarah Addington.
Adventures of Nip and Tuck, by Mitchell.
Daddy Gander, by Maude
Hankins.
Tuffy Good Luck, Dixie
Willson.

[If you Can't Come in, Check the Titles You Want, and Mail us the List.]

$1.25 Books, 59c Ea.

Kimo... by Alice Cooper
Bailey.
Little Peaching, and Other Tales.
Pirates' Treasure, by E. A.
Wilson.
The Staring Gander, Alice
C. Bailey.
The Chatterlings, by Michael Lipman.
The Turtle Whose Snap
Unfastened.
The White Elephant, by George Faulkner.
Reynard the Fox, by
T. Larned.
Main Floor Balcony

Beginning Tuesday! Men's

Dressing Cases

Fitted With 7
Useful Items

Exceptional Value at

$2

¶ Keep one in your locker for after golf and tennis use. Take one with you when you travel!
Made of black and brown leather, complete with black fittings.

Leather Goods Section—Main Floor

Splendid Quality
... and Very Good Looking!

Now! Floor Sample Radios

Tune In on the Democratic Convention

All Complete and Installed

$5.00 Cash
Plus Small Carrying Charge
Delivers One—Balance Monthly

Originally
$50 to $125
Models

CHOICE AT

$29.95

¶ RCA... Brunswick
... Crosley... Balkeit
... Fada... Kolster...
Steinitz... Silver...
Earl... Clago... Majestic... Sentinel...
General Motors.

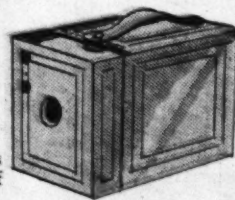

Eighth Floor

No. 2A EASTMAN RAINBOW

Hawkeyes

$2.50 Value... $1.59

¶ Takes excellent, clear pictures 2½x4¼ inches. Choice of rose, blue, green or tan cases.
Kodak Section—Main Floor

Balance Your Wardrobe and Your Budget

AIRLITE TROPICALS

An Unequaled $20 Extra
Value Group at... Trousers $5

¶ They're an imposing assemblage... but remember, they're just a small part of the vast variety of porous weaves at Summer Clothing Headquarters. Smartly tailored, in the whole range of new shades.

LINEN SUITS

St. Louis' Linen
Sale Supreme!

$11

Many With Vests
Linen Tailored
the Better Way!

Second Floor

The SHIRTS That Have Set New Records for Sales Volume!

WHY? Because they're incomparable value at....

$100

Here... and Here Alone in St. Louis,
Can $1 Represent Such Quality!

¶ For your vacation and the hot spells ahead, you need more than a normal quota of Shirts—you need a liberal surplus. From this matchless array select plain whites and solid colors in broadcloth and mesh... light and dark ground Shantung broadcloth and fancy high count woven madras.
Every Shirt fully shrunk and carefully tailored.

Collar-Attached,
Sport Collar and Neck-band Styles

Main Floor

And Look! Pajamas

... at Savings That Are Most Substantial!

Radically Below
Regular Prices... $1.00

Cool Summer materials, in an interesting selection of shades. Styles: low neck surplice, Byron English collar, ¾ coat lounge and buttonless slippers. Sizes
A, B, C, D and E.

Main Floor

Cool Union Suits

... That Have a Right to Forceful Superlatives!

A Value
Triumph!... 49c

Made of those comfort-inducing lightweight materials... madras, pongees, Kool Kloths and broad-cloths. Plain and figured effects. Full cut sizes to 50; also expertly tailored small sizes.

Second Floor

ROOSE

SI

PAGES 1-4B.

CARDIN

MR. SPONGE IS EASY WINNER OF SPRINT HANDICAP
AT AQUEDUCT

By the Associated Press.
AQUEDUCT TRACK, June 27.—
Mr. Sponge, which has a liking for the Queens County racing strip, carried J. E. Widener's colors to an easy triumph in the Prime Handicap this afternoon with a length and a half advantage over Commuter. Stagecraft, coupled with the winner, was beaten three lengths for the place. Footmark was last. The distance was almost a mile.
The Widener entry ruled favorably 7 to 5. Mr. Sponge carried 116 pounds over the distance in 1:24.
Commuter, strictly a speedster, opened up an apparently safe lead in the first three furlongs, with Stagecraft and Footmark forcing the running. Mr. Sponge was well back but at the turn for home he sprung the leaders and wore down
Commuter through the final furlong to win going away. Stagecraft was not persevered with when the stablemate appeared as the winner. Widener having declared to with Mr. Sponge.

McLARNIN MAY MEET
BATTALINO IN BOUT
AT YANKEE STADIUM

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 27.—The boxing promotion venture at Yankee Stadium under the auspices of Tim Mara may open with a match between Jimmy McLarnin and Bat Battalino, former featherweight champion, July 28.
Although "Pop" Foster, manager of the Vancouver Irishman, telegraphed his warrior that details had been completed, matchmakers of Mara said today no definite agreement had been reached.
Battalino has not yet reached this country.

ANGELICAS SECOND IN MUNY HORSESHOE PL.

The Angelicas gained possession of second place in the Muny
Horseshoe League by defeating Liberty in 12 out of 16 games played at Fairground Park. W.
the Angelicas, who were tied with the Liberty team before the game started, split even with the K.
Munnas in their 16-game match.
The Sunsets continued their championship form and took 13 of the 16 games from the Larra. L.
"Lettie" Steinmann of the Sunsets was again the high man, for the fifth time this season. She made a ringer average of .600
the second high of the year.

Moreland Awaits
Golf Body's O. K.
Before Taking Aut

By the Associated Press.
OKLAHOMA CITY, June
27.—GOLF MORELAND, 21-year-old Dallas (Tex.) amateur who won the trans-Mississippi golf championship and 12-cylinder motor car, remained here awaiting approval of the United States Golf Association before accepting prize.
Moreland said he hoped have a "definite and official" reply from the association in day or two. He explained did not wish to jeopardize amateur standing by accepting the car without the U. S. G. A. approval.
The young Texan captured the trans-Mississippi title in arduous combat with a fellow amateur, David (Spec) Ge-man, one up at the thirty-seven.

MRS. MOODY AND MISS JACOBS IN SEMIFINALS AT WIMBLEDON

AMERICAN ACES MOVE FORWARD AS RESULT OF EASY VICTORIES

By the Associated Press.

WIMBLEDON, England, June 27.—Mrs. Helen Moody continued her march toward the Wimbledon tennis championship today, with a 6-0, 6-1 victory over Dorothy Round in the quarter-final round. She will play Mary Healey, young Irish player, in the semi-finals.

Mrs. Moody joined Helen Jacobs, America's No. 2 player in the round. Miss Jacobs eliminated Hilde Krab-

Wingel, German player, 6-2, 6-1. By her victory Miss Jacobs not only won a berth among the last four but gained revenge for the defeat Miss Krabwinkel handed her in the semifinal round last year, when the German girl scored an unexpected 10-8, 6-5, 6-4 victory.

Miss Jacobs won the first set easily, the tall German girl being unable to handle her nicely executed chop shots but she began to tire in the second and it appeared Miss Krabwinkel might outlast her.

With the score 5-3 in her favor, Miss Jacobs attempted to rush the net to gain the set and the match but the game ended with Helen hanging a hard return into the net. She snatched a moment's rest on the steps of the umpire's chair as they changed sides for what proved to be the final game.

The game was decided four times before Miss Jacobs finally served an ace, then rushed to the net on the next serve to kill the ball for the final point.

Mary Healey, coming little Irish player, caught Mrs. Helen Bennett Whittingstall off her game in a quarter-final match of the upper draw and won 3-6, 6-4, 6-0.

Sidney B. Wood Jr. and Gregory Mangin, American doubles pair, defeated the English team of C. A. Magrane and J. R. Reddell, 6-2, 7-6, 6-4 to enter the fourth round.

Mrs. Mathieu defeated Miss Nuttall, 6-0, 6-3, and will play Miss Jacobs in the semi-finals.

Wilmor Allison and John Van Ryn, Wimbledon doubles champions in 1929 and 1930, continued their fine play in the department to defeat Ian G. Collins and J. C. Gregory in a third-round match, 6-4, 6-1, 6-4.

R. Miki and Jiro Sato, the Japanese doubles team, sprang a surprise by outlasting Jack Crawford and Harry Hopman, the Australian Davis cup pair, in a grueling five-set match, 6-4, 10-12, 6-2, 3-6, 9-7.

Miss Jacobs paired with Elizabeth Ryan in women's doubles to win a third round match from Mrs. J. Lyett and Mrs. G. Peacock, of England, 6-2, 7-5.

Gus Boehmer Wins Title in Clayton Tennis Tourney

Gustave H. Boehmer Jr. won the first annual men's singles tennis championship of Clayton by defeating Sidney Smith in the final round at the Clayton Municipal Courts at Price and Ladue roads, yesterday afternoon. A result of his victory, Boehmer won the first leg on the D. P. Richards trophy.

Then men's singles final, witnessed by more than 300 persons, was decided in straight sets, Boehmer winning, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Boehmer held the advantage in the opening set, although at times Smith forced some close playing.

In the second set Boehmer was easily the master. His overhead shots and net volleys were very accurate. He gained some points on short shots near the net. The third set was hard-fought from the start.

Smith played steadily, a took the lead at 4 to 3. At this stage of the contest there was a number of fast rallies. Boehmer's stroke variety, however, gave him the next three games and he set 6-4 and the championship.

In order not to crowd the courts the committee in charge did not hold any doubles event, but instead conducted Class A singles and doubles for permit holdrs. These events are scheduled to be completed this week.

Nurmi Qualifies for Place on Finland's Olympic Team With Victory in Marathon Tryout

VIIIPURI, Finland, June 27.—Paavo Nurmi has served notice on the world's best marathoners that it will take record time to stop him in the Olympic games by running a short marathon of 40,200 meters (approximately 25 miles, 40 yards) in 2 hours, 22 minutes, 4 seconds.

The distance he ran is over a mile short of the Olympic distance of 26 miles, 385 yards, but at the clip Nurmi was going, he would have finished out the distance under the Olympian record of two hours, 22 minutes, 35.4 seconds, set at Antwerp in 1922 by Hannes Kolehmainen.

Nurmi finished the long grind in excellent shape and beat the second place man, Toivonen, by about 1200 yards. Twelve Louhela, 1932 Olympic 3000-meter steeplechase champion, was third.

Although Nurmi still is under suspension by the International Amateur Athletic Federation, he will run with the rest of the Finnish Olympic team, as fully expected to be reinstated when the A. A. F. meets at Los Angeles just before the games open.

The "Amateur" Breakdown.

GUS MORELAND, winner of the Trans-Mississippi Golf Association's annual championship at Oklahoma City last Saturday, has accepted "tentatively" an automobile as a reward for his victory.

He is hesitating because, he told a Post-Dispatch correspondent, "there is some doubt as to whether his amateur standing will be affected."

Wonder where such a doubt arose? The amateur definition plainly prohibits the acceptance of merchandise prizes.

In this instance the chairman of the U. S. G. A. Committee on Amateur Standing, answering a telegram, told the editor of this column specifically that the acceptance of an automobile by the winner of the Trans-Mississippi tournament would be a violation of the amateur rule.

Club Advertiser's Prize.

THE amazing thing is that a club in good standing in amateur circles would authorize and advertise the donation of such a prize.

Now we are not taking a fling at Gus Moreland, or at the Oklahoma City Country Club, or at the Chamber of Commerce, or whatever organization stood back of the award of a $3000 merchandise prize. (Incidentally that sum is three times as much as Sarazen, the PROFESSIONAL, who won the national open tourney, received.)

We do, however, wish to express the thought that there has been a complete breakdown of the amateur rule and—shall we go further—the of the amateur spirit?

How many men who have risen high enough in the amateur sport world to have a name worthy of capitalizing have not accepted the opportunity to do so?

It might be better and more frank for all concerned to abandon the "amateur" status, and not try to make distinctions that do not distinguish.

Incidentally, the same idea might be tried on the dogs in Missouri, where the Riverside Track has been operating annually with betting on the "contribution" plan, but without the State getting any of the gravy.

Difficulty in getting favorable legislation is hurting racing prospects both in New York and Missouri, without stopping race-track betting.

Incidentally, the same idea might be tried on the dogs in Missouri, where the Riverside Track has been operating annually with betting on the "contribution" plan, but without the State getting any of the gravy.

Difficulty in getting favorable legislation is hurting racing prospects both in New York and Missouri, without stopping race-track betting.

Incidentally, the same idea might be tried on the dogs in Missouri, where the Riverside Track has been operating annually with betting on the "contribution" plan, but without the State getting any of the gravy.

Difficulty in getting favorable legislation is hurting racing prospects both in New York and Missouri, without stopping race-track betting.

Incidentally, the same idea might be tried on the dogs in Missouri, where the Riverside Track has been operating annually with betting on the "contribution" plan, but without the State getting any of the gravy.

Difficulty in getting favorable legislation is hurting racing prospects both in New York and Missouri, without stopping race-track betting.

Incidentally, the same idea might be tried on the dogs in Missouri, where the Riverside Track has been operating annually with betting on the "contribution" plan, but without the State getting any of the gravy.

Difficulty in getting favorable legislation is hurting racing prospects both in New York and Missouri, without stopping race-track betting.

Incidentally, the same idea might be tried on the dogs in Missouri, where the Riverside Track has been operating annually with betting on the "contribution" plan, but without the State getting any of the gravy.

Difficulty in getting favorable legislation is hurting racing prospects both in New York and Missouri, without stopping race-track betting.

Incidentally, the same idea might be tried on the dogs in Missouri, where the Riverside Track has been operating annually with betting on the "contribution" plan, but without the State getting any of the gravy.

Difficulty in getting favorable legislation is hurting racing prospects both in New York and Missouri, without stopping race-track betting.

Incidentally, the same idea might be tried on the dogs in Missouri, where the Riverside Track has been operating annually with betting on the "contribution" plan, but without the State getting any of the gravy.

Difficulty in getting favorable legislation is hurting racing prospects both in New York and Missouri, without stopping race-track betting.

Incidentally, the same idea might be tried on the dogs in Missouri, where the Riverside Track has been operating annually with betting on the "contribution" plan, but without the State getting any of the gravy.

Difficulty in getting favorable legislation is hurting racing prospects both in New York and Missouri, without stopping race-track betting.

Incidentally, the same idea might be tried on the dogs in Missouri, where the Riverside Track has been operating annually with betting on the "contribution" plan, but without the State getting any of the gravy.

114 BOYS ENTER DISTRICT JUNIOR GOLF TOURNEY

Pairings for the junior district golf tournament which opens at Ossage Country Club tomorrow show that 114 boys have entered the event. Qualifying play will start at 8 a. m. with the field starting in threesomes. Additional entries will be received at the first tee.

Bob Cochran, North Hills, the defending champion, is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock in company with Alan Brown, Belleview, runner-up last year, and Hord Hardin, Normandy.

Joe Switzer, Sunset; George Schlapp, Algonquin; Dave Garaway Jr., Normandy; Roger Lord Jr., Algonquin; Vincent Fellig, Forest Park; Art Robinson, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

The championship class will be composed of the 32 low scorers in the qualifying round, with class A comprising the next 32. Match play starts Wednesday. Two rounds played Wednesday and Thursday, with the 36-hole final Friday.

Qualifying Pairings.

8:00—Edward Lustrina, Sunset; Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park.

8:15—Clyde Egan, North Hills; James M. M. Smith, Sunset; Bob Schaefer, Forest Park; Art Robinson, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

8:30—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

8:45—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

8:55—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

9:10—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

9:25—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

9:40—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

9:55—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

10:10—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

10:25—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

10:40—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

10:55—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

11:10—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

11:25—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

11:40—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

11:55—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

12:10—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

12:25—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

12:40—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

12:55—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

1:10—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

1:25—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

1:40—Harold Collins, Meadowbrook; Allen Stewart, Forest Park; and Paul Jamison Jr., Belleview, are among those who figure to give Cochran a battle to retain his title.

Racing Entries

At Hamilton.

First race, $800, claiming, three-year-olds and up, six and one-half furlongs: Chile Gold, 110; Grand Rex, 108; Shiva, 107; Minitama, 106; Royal, 105; Royal, 104; Royal, 103; Royal, 102; Royal, 101; Royal, 100; Royal, 99; Royal, 98; Royal, 97; Royal, 96; Royal, 95; Royal, 94; Royal, 93; Royal, 92; Royal, 91; Royal, 90; Royal, 89; Royal, 88; Royal, 87; Royal, 86; Royal, 85; Royal, 84; Royal, 83; Royal, 82; Royal, 81; Royal, 80; Royal, 79; Royal, 78; Royal, 77; Royal, 76; Royal, 75; Royal, 74; Royal, 73; Royal, 72; Royal, 71; Royal, 70; Royal, 69; Royal, 68; Royal, 67; Royal, 66; Royal, 65; Royal, 64; Royal, 63; Royal, 62; Royal, 61; Royal, 60; Royal, 59; Royal, 58; Royal, 57; Royal, 56; Royal, 55; Royal, 54; Royal, 53; Royal, 52; Royal, 51; Royal, 50; Royal, 49; Royal, 48; Royal, 47; Royal, 46; Royal, 45; Royal, 44; Royal, 43; Royal, 42; Royal, 41; Royal, 40; Royal, 39; Royal, 38; Royal, 37; Royal, 36; Royal, 35; Royal, 34; Royal, 33; Royal, 32; Royal, 31; Royal, 30; Royal, 29; Royal, 28; Royal, 27; Royal, 26; Royal, 25; Royal, 24; Royal, 23; Royal, 22; Royal, 21; Royal, 20; Royal, 19; Royal, 18; Royal, 17; Royal, 16; Royal, 15; Royal, 14; Royal, 13; Royal, 12; Royal, 11; Royal, 10; Royal, 9; Royal, 8; Royal, 7; Royal, 6; Royal, 5; Royal, 4; Royal, 3; Royal, 2; Royal, 1; Royal, 0; Royal, -1; Royal, -2; Royal, -3; Royal, -4; Royal, -5; Royal, -6; Royal, -7; Royal, -8; Royal, -9; Royal, -10; Royal, -11; Royal, -12; Royal, -13; Royal, -14; Royal, -15; Royal, -16; Royal, -17; Royal, -18; Royal, -19; Royal, -20; Royal, -21; Royal, -22; Royal, -23; Royal, -24; Royal, -25; Royal, -26; Royal, -27; Royal, -28; Royal, -29; Royal, -30; Royal, -31; Royal, -32; Royal, -33; Royal, -34; Royal, -35; Royal, -36; Royal, -37; Royal, -38; Royal, -39; Royal, -40; Royal, -41; Royal, -42; Royal, -43; Royal, -44; Royal, -45; Royal, -46; Royal, -47; Royal, -48; Royal, -49; Royal, -50; Royal, -51; Royal, -52; Royal, -53; Royal, -54; Royal, -55; Royal, -56; Royal, -57; Royal, -58; Royal, -59; Royal, -60; Royal, -61; Royal, -62; Royal, -63; Royal, -64; Royal, -65; Royal, -66; Royal, -67; Royal, -68; Royal, -69; Royal, -70; Royal, -71; Royal, -72; Royal, -73; Royal, -74; Royal, -75; Royal, -76; Royal, -77; Royal, -78; Royal, -79; Royal, -80; Royal, -81; Royal, -82; Royal, -83; Royal, -84; Royal, -85; Royal, -86; Royal, -87; Royal, -88; Royal, -89; Royal, -90; Royal, -91; Royal, -92; Royal, -93; Royal, -94; Royal, -95; Royal, -96; Royal, -97; Royal, -98; Royal, -99; Royal, -100; Royal, -101; Royal, -102; Royal, -103; Royal, -104; Royal, -105; Royal, -106; Royal, -107; Royal, -108; Royal, -109; Royal, -110; Royal, -111; Royal, -112; Royal, -113; Royal, -114; Royal, -115; Royal, -116; Royal, -117; Royal, -118; Royal, -119; Royal, -120; Royal, -121; Royal, -122; Royal, -123; Royal, -124; Royal, -125; Royal, -126; Royal, -127; Royal, -128; Royal, -129; Royal, -130; Royal, -131; Royal, -132; Royal, -133; Royal, -134; Royal, -135; Royal, -136; Royal, -137; Royal, -138; Royal, -139; Royal, -140; Royal, -141; Royal, -142; Royal, -143; Royal, -144; Royal, -145; Royal, -146; Royal, -147; Royal, -148; Royal, -149; Royal, -150; Royal, -151; Royal, -152; Royal, -153; Royal, -154; Royal, -155; Royal, -156; Royal, -157; Royal, -158; Royal, -159; Royal, -160; Royal, -161; Royal, -162; Royal, -163; Royal, -164; Royal, -165; Royal, -166; Royal, -167; Royal, -168; Royal, -169; Royal, -170; Royal, -171; Royal, -172; Royal, -173; Royal, -174; Royal, -175; Royal, -176; Royal, -177; Royal, -178; Royal, -179; Royal, -180; Royal, -181; Royal, -182; Royal, -183; Royal, -184; Royal, -185; Royal, -186; Royal, -187; Royal, -188; Royal, -189; Royal, -190; Royal, -191; Royal, -192; Royal, -193; Royal, -194; Royal, -195; Royal, -196; Royal, -197; Royal, -198; Royal, -199; Royal, -200; Royal, -201; Royal, -202; Royal, -203; Royal, -204; Royal, -205; Royal, -206; Royal, -207; Royal, -208; Royal, -209; Royal, -210; Royal, -211; Royal, -212; Royal, -213; Royal, -214; Royal, -215; Royal, -216; Royal, -217; Royal, -218; Royal, -219; Royal, -220; Royal, -221; Royal, -222; Royal, -223; Royal, -224; Royal, -225; Royal, -226; Royal, -227; Royal, -228; Royal, -229; Royal, -230; Royal, -231; Royal, -232; Royal, -233; Royal, -234; Royal, -235; Royal, -236; Royal, -237; Royal, -238; Royal, -239; Royal, -240; Royal, -241; Royal, -242; Royal, -243; Royal, -244; Royal, -245; Royal, -246; Royal, -247; Royal, -248; Royal, -249; Royal, -250; Royal, -251; Royal, -252; Royal, -253; Royal, -254; Royal, -255; Royal, -256; Royal, -257; Royal, -258; Royal, -259; Royal, -260; Royal, -261; Royal, -262; Royal, -263; Royal, -264; Royal, -265; Royal, -266; Royal, -267; Royal, -268; Royal, -269; Royal, -270; Royal, -271; Royal, -272; Royal, -273; Royal, -274; Royal, -275; Royal, -276; Royal, -277; Royal, -278; Royal, -279; Royal, -280; Royal, -281; Royal, -282; Royal, -283; Royal, -284; Royal, -285; Royal, -286; Royal, -287; Royal, -288; Royal, -289; Royal, -290; Royal, -291; Royal, -292; Royal, -293; Royal, -294; Royal, -295; Royal, -296; Royal, -297; Royal, -298; Royal, -299; Royal, -300; Royal, -301; Royal, -302; Royal, -303; Royal, -304; Royal, -305; Royal, -306; Royal, -307; Royal, -308; Royal, -309; Royal, -310; Royal, -311; Royal, -312; Royal, -313; Royal, -314; Royal, -315; Royal, -316; Royal, -317; Royal, -318; Royal, -319; Royal, -320; Royal, -321; Royal, -322; Royal, -323; Royal, -324; Royal, -325; Royal, -326; Royal, -327; Royal, -328; Royal, -329; Royal, -330; Royal, -331; Royal, -332; Royal, -333; Royal, -334; Royal, -335; Royal, -336; Royal, -337; Royal, -338; Royal, -339; Royal, -340; Royal, -341; Royal, -342; Royal, -343; Royal, -344; Royal, -345; Royal, -346; Royal, -347; Royal, -348; Royal, -349; Royal, -350; Royal, -351; Royal, -352; Royal, -353; Royal, -354; Royal, -355; Royal, -356; Royal, -357; Royal, -358; Royal, -359; Royal, -360; Royal, -361; Royal, -362; Royal, -363; Royal, -364; Royal, -365; Royal, -366; Royal, -367; Royal, -368; Royal, -369; Royal, -370; Royal, -371; Royal, -372; Royal, -373; Royal, -374; Royal, -375; Royal, -376; Royal, -377; Royal, -378; Royal, -379; Royal, -380; Royal, -381; Royal, -382; Royal, -383; Royal, -384; Royal, -385; Royal, -386; Royal, -387; Royal, -388; Royal, -389; Royal, -390; Royal, -391; Royal, -392; Royal, -393; Royal, -394; Royal, -395; Royal, -396; Royal, -397; Royal, -398; Royal, -399; Royal, -400; Royal, -401; Royal, -402; Royal, -403; Royal, -404; Royal, -405; Royal, -406; Royal, -407; Royal, -408; Royal, -409; Royal, -410; Royal, -411; Royal, -412; Royal, -413; Royal, -414; Royal, -415; Royal, -416; Royal, -417; Royal, -418; Royal, -419; Royal, -420; Royal, -421; Royal, -422; Royal, -423; Royal, -424; Royal, -425; Royal, -426; Royal, -427; Royal, -428; Royal, -429; Royal, -430; Royal, -431; Royal, -432; Royal, -433; Royal, -434; Royal, -435; Royal, -436; Royal, -437; Royal, -438; Royal, -439; Royal, -440; Royal, -441; Royal, -442; Royal, -443; Royal, -444; Royal, -445; Royal, -446; Royal, -447; Royal, -448; Royal, -449; Royal, -450; Royal, -451; Royal, -452; Royal, -453; Royal, -454; Royal, -455; Royal, -456; Royal, -457; Royal, -458; Royal, -459; Royal, -460; Royal, -461; Royal, -462; Royal, -463; Royal, -464; Royal, -465; Royal, -466; Royal, -467; Royal, -468; Royal, -469; Royal, -470; Royal, -471; Royal, -472; Royal, -473; Royal, -474; Royal, -475; Royal, -476; Royal, -477; Royal, -478; Royal, -479; Royal, -480; Royal, -481; Royal, -482; Royal, -483; Royal, -484; Royal, -485; Royal, -486; Royal, -487; Royal, -488; Royal, -489; Royal, -490; Royal, -491; Royal, -492; Royal, -493; Royal, -494; Royal, -495; Royal, -496; Royal, -497; Royal, -498; Royal, -499; Royal, -500; Royal, -501; Royal, -502; Royal, -503; Royal, -504; Royal, -505; Royal, -506; Royal, -507; Royal, -508; Royal, -509; Royal, -510; Royal, -511; Royal, -512; Royal, -513; Royal, -514; Royal, -515; Royal, -516; Royal, -517; Royal, -518; Royal, -519; Royal, -520; Royal, -521; Royal, -522; Royal, -523; Royal, -524; Royal, -525; Royal, -526; Royal, -527; Royal, -528; Royal, -529; Royal, -530; Royal, -531; Royal, -532; Royal, -533; Royal, -534; Royal, -535; Royal, -536; Royal, -537; Royal, -538; Royal, -539; Royal, -540; Royal, -541; Royal, -542; Royal, -543; Royal, -544; Royal, -545; Royal, -546; Royal, -547; Royal, -548; Royal, -549; Royal, -550; Royal, -551; Royal, -552; Royal, -553; Royal, -554; Royal, -555; Royal, -556; Royal, -557; Royal, -558; Royal, -559; Royal, -560; Royal, -561; Royal, -562; Royal, -563; Royal, -564; Royal, -565; Royal, -566; Royal, -567; Royal, -568; Royal, -569; Royal, -570; Royal, -571; Royal, -572; Royal, -573; Royal, -574; Royal, -575; Royal, -576; Royal, -577; Royal, -578; Royal, -579; Royal, -580; Royal, -581; Royal, -582; Royal, -583; Royal, -584; Royal, -585; Royal, -586; Royal, -587; Royal, -588; Royal, -589; Royal, -590; Royal, -591; Royal, -592; Royal, -593; Royal, -594; Royal, -595; Royal, -596; Royal, -597; Royal, -598; Royal, -599; Royal, -600; Royal, -601; Royal, -602; Royal, -603; Royal, -604; Royal, -605; Royal, -606; Royal, -607; Royal, -608; Royal, -609; Royal, -610; Royal, -611; Royal, -612; Royal, -613; Royal, -614; Royal, -615; Royal, -616; Royal, -617; Royal, -618; Royal, -619; Royal, -620; Royal, -621; Royal, -622; Royal, -623; Royal, -624; Royal, -625; Royal, -626; Royal, -627; Royal, -628; Royal, -629; Royal, -630; Royal, -631; Royal, -632; Royal, -633; Royal, -634; Royal, -635; Royal, -636; Royal, -637; Royal, -638; Royal, -639; Royal, -640; Royal, -641; Royal, -642; Royal, -643; Royal, -644; Royal, -645; Royal, -646; Royal, -647; Royal, -648; Royal, -649; Royal, -650; Royal, -651; Royal, -652; Royal, -653; Royal, -654; Royal, -655; Royal, -656; Royal, -657; Royal, -658; Royal, -659; Royal, -660; Royal, -661; Royal, -662; Royal, -663; Royal, -664; Royal, -665; Royal, -666; Royal, -667; Royal, -668; Royal, -669; Royal, -670; Royal, -671; Royal, -672; Royal, -673; Royal, -674; Royal, -675; Royal, -676; Royal, -677; Royal, -678; Royal, -679; Royal, -680; Royal, -681; Royal, -682; Royal, -683; Royal, -684; Royal, -685; Royal, -686; Royal, -687; Royal, -688; Royal, -689; Royal, -690; Royal, -691; Royal, -692; Royal, -693; Royal, -694; Royal, -695; Royal, -696; Royal, -697; Royal, -698; Royal, -699; Royal, -700; Royal, -701; Royal, -702; Royal

BLEDON

PARKER DEFEATS COAST STAR IN WESTERN TENNIS TOURNAMENT FINAL

CHICAGO, June 27.—Frankie Parker, 18-year-old tennis wizard from Milwaukee, today was looking about for more and tougher competition.

The Milwaukee youngster, who still wears knee-length trousers on the courts, yesterday won the Western singles title from Lester Stofen, a towering blond from California at the River Forest Tennis Club, and did it in workmanlike style. He used the first set for experimental purposes, and after figuring his opponent, wasted little time in grabbing the title before a torrential rain broke up the tournament.

Stofen won the first set, 6-2, but from there on, Parker handled the six-foot, six-inch Californian's hard service, and used a baseline game to keep Stofen from using his strength at the net.

The scores in the last three sets were 7-5, 6-4, 6-2. The storm halted the women's singles final with Mrs. Dorothy Hack of Sacramento, Cal., and Miss Catherine Wolf of Elkhart, winners of a set each and Mrs. Hack leading at 2-1 in the third.

The finish of the match was put over until today at the South Shore Country Club.

Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., and Fritz Mercur of Bethlehem, Pa., were unable to remain over until today, and forfeited the men's doubles to Lefty Bryan of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Doc Barr, Dallas, Tex. The rain came while they were tied at two sets each, with Barr and Bryan leading, 1-0 in the deciding frame. Mrs. Hack, paired with Helen Fulton of Winnetka, Ill., yesterday won the women's doubles title from Miss Wolf and Mrs. Barbara Duffy of Cleveland, 6-3, 3-6.

Driver Critically
Injured as Four
Race Cars Crash

SALEM, N. H., June 27.—Al Gordon of South Bend, Ind., was declared the winner of the Rockingham Speedway 50-mile sweepstakes race yesterday when A. A. officials declared the race off at the end of the fifteenth mile because four cars had crashed through the rail. Two other cars hit the fence in the trials but the drivers were not hurt.

Bert Karnatz of Detroit was critically injured. His car struck that of Al Asten of Philadelphia and then spun against the car of Joe Russo of Indianapolis. All three cars bore through the fence.

A crowd estimated at 65,000 saw the racing. Of the 12 starters only six remained in the race when it was called. Al Miller of Detroit was given second place, Jimmy Patterson, Brooklyn, N. Y., third; Billy Winn, Kansas City, fourth; Bob Sall, Paterson, N. J., fifth, and Henry Twizzen, Pawtucket, R. I., sixth.

AMERICAN JOCKEY
GAINS THIRD VICTORY
IN THE GERMAN DERBY

HAMBURG, June 27.—The American jockey, Beveridge Haynes, won the German Derby for the third time yesterday when he piloted P. Muelhen's Palastpage home in front of the field.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
RACE GROWING TIGHTER

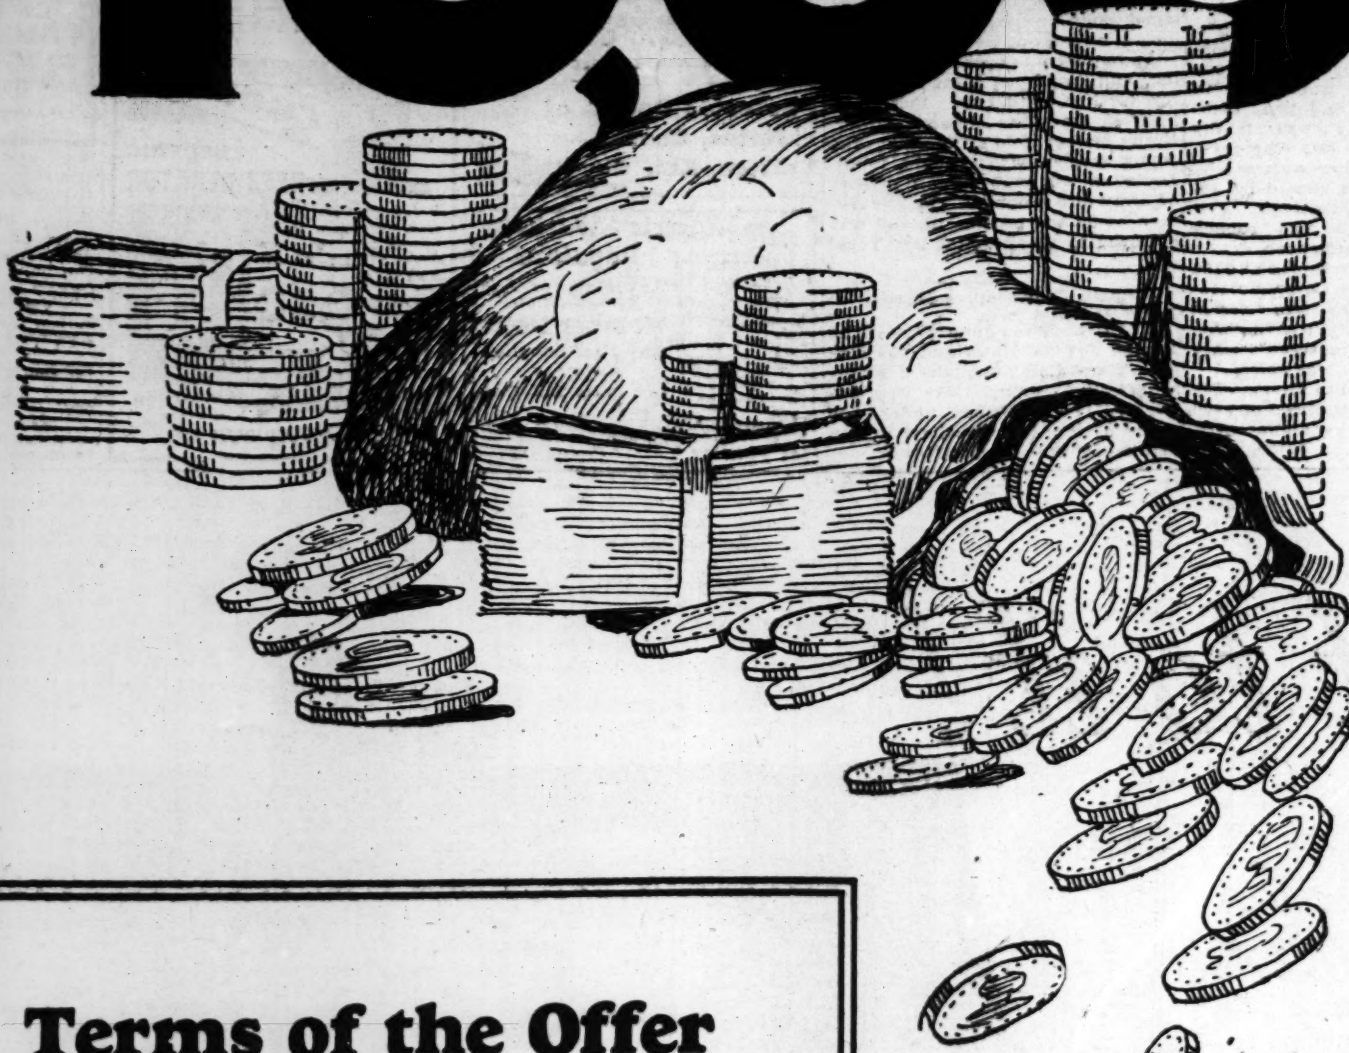

CHICAGO, June 27.—As if things were not complicated enough before, Harrison (Dutch) Swilling and his Kansas City Blues have nudged themselves into the frantic scramble for first place in the American Association.

The Blues have not been far off the pace most of the season, but only in the last week or so have they been gaining ground. The week-end produced three victories over the forlorn St. Paul outfit, and today Kansas City had eased in ahead of Milwaukee and was in fourth place, four and one-half games out of the lead.

The past two days did Columbus no good in its bid for the top position, the Louisville Colonels acting up to the extent of winning two out of three. The defeats left the Red Birds 29 points behind Minneapolis, which played only one game and made it a victory over Milwaukee. The Millers and Brewers were kept in idleness yesterday by rain. Indianapolis also lost ground by dropping two out of three to the hustling Toledo Mud Hens, who today lacked only two victories of reaching the .500 mark.

YOU'LL NEVER GO STALE ON Avalon

$10,000 in Cash

Offered to BOYS<sup>and</sup> GIRLS For Vacation Effort No Blanks . . . No Losers

Here's a profitable way for boys and girls to spend their vacations. The Post-Dispatch wants new subscriptions. You can earn substantial cash bonuses by getting them—and share in special extra cash awards totaling $1000 to be paid to boys and girls getting the largest number of accepted subscriptions during this campaign.

Here's What You Can Earn

For 100 accepted new subscriptions,
the Post-Dispatch will pay . . . $100 in cash
For 50 accepted new subscriptions,
the Post-Dispatch will pay . . . $45 in cash
For 25 accepted new subscriptions,
the Post-Dispatch will pay . . . $20 in cash
For 10 accepted new subscriptions,
the Post-Dispatch will pay . . . $7.50 in cash

And a Share of
$1000 EXTRA CASH AWARDS
if you are among the 38
highest ranking participants.

Fewer than 10 accepted new subscriptions will be paid for at the rate of 50c each

Payment will be made when subscriptions are accepted
You won't have to wait to receive what you earn
Extra Cash Awards

The boys and girls who obtain the largest number of accepted subscriptions during this campaign will receive the following special cash awards. These will be paid in addition to bonuses mentioned above:

First Award—For the highest number of accepted subscriptions from any one participant . . . $250 in Cash
Second Award—For the next highest number of accepted subscriptions from any one participant . . . $150 in Cash
Third Award—For the third highest number of accepted subscriptions from any one participant . . . $100 in Cash
10 Awards—For the 10 next highest number of accepted subscriptions from individual participants—each . . . $25 in Cash
25 Awards—For the 25 next highest number of accepted subscriptions from individual participants—each . . . $10 in Cash
(In case of a tie for extra cash awards, the full amount of the award tied for will be paid to each tying participant.)

No Clubbing or Pooling of Subscriptions Will Be Permitted

Every boy and girl of 18 years of age and under, within the St. Louis carrier limits, including St. Louis and St. Louis County, East St. Louis, Granite City, Venice, Madison and Belleville, is eligible, except those engaged in the sale or distribution of the Post-Dispatch. Read the terms of the offer as printed in this announcement. Then fill out the enrollment blank at the bottom of this page. Mail or bring the enrollment blank to the Post-Dispatch, Circulation Department. Subscription blanks and full instructions will be given to you immediately. You can start working for these big cash awards right away.

You Pay No Money!

Collect No Money!

You simply get subscriptions to the Post-Dispatch. The carrier will collect—at regular rates.

THIS ENROLLMENT BLANK STARTS YOU

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH,
Circulation Dept.

Please enroll me as a worker for the cash bonuses and special cash awards in your subscription campaign, and send subscription blanks and full instructions.

I am not engaged in the sale or distribution of the Post-Dispatch. I understand that subscription orders must be for daily issues only; that orders must be for a period of 6 months or longer; that subscriptions must be from persons who are not now readers of the Daily Post-Dispatch.

I agree to abide by all the requirements of this offer, and understand that all subscriptions are subject to acceptance or rejection at the option of the Post-Dispatch.

NAME . . . . . AGE . . . . .
STREET NUMBER . . . . .
TOWN . . . . .

Terms of the Offer

Offer is open to boys and girls of 18 years of age and under, living within St. Louis carrier delivery limits including St. Louis and St. Louis County, East St. Louis, Granite City, Venice, Madison and Belleville.

Boys and girls engaged in the sale or distribution of the Post-Dispatch are not eligible.

Subscriptions to the Daily Post-Dispatch are required. Subscriptions to the Sunday Post-Dispatch will be accepted, but will not be entitled to bonuses or cash awards.

New subscriptions are required — from persons who have not been readers of the Post-Dispatch within the past thirty days.

Subscriptions must be for a period of six months or longer.

Home delivered subscriptions are required. Business district readers are better served by newsboys, and cannot be included under the terms of this offer. This makes necessary a definitely restricted area, and orders will not be accepted for delivery in these districts:

ST. LOUIS

Bounded on the North by Cass Avenue
Bounded on the South by Park Avenue
Bounded on the West by Grand Avenue
Bounded on the East by the Mississippi River

EAST ST. LOUIS

All South of Market Street and West of Tenth Avenue.

The campaign will close Monday, August 15th, and this offer may be withdrawn by the Post-Dispatch, at its option, before that date.

Subscription blanks and full instructions will be supplied immediately upon receipt of enrollment blank.

Subscriptions should be sent or brought to the Circulation Department of the Post-Dispatch EVERY DAY, so that service to the reader can begin at once. Do not wait to accumulate a number of subscriptions.

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to accept or reject any subscription, and will be the sole judge in making awards.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
Twelfth & Olive St. Louis, Mo.

Mail or bring this enrollment blank to the Post-Dispatch. Subscription blanks and full instructions will be supplied you.

YOUTH DROWNED WHEN SWIMMER UPSETS CANOE

Lewie Granger Loses Life
When Man in Meramec
Seizes Side of Craft at Drake.

COMPANION RESCUED
BY STEPBROTHER

Robert McGirr Goes Out
From Shore and Helps
Harold Rhinehart Into Motorboat.

Lewie Granger, 18 years old, 1226 South Boyle avenue, was drowned in the Meramec River at Drake, St. Louis County, yesterday when a canoe in which he was riding with a companion capsized in mid-stream after a man in the water seized hold of it on the side.

Neither of the canoeists could swim. Harold Rhinehart of 4257 Norfolk avenue was rescued by his step-brother, Robert McGirr, who swam out from shore and helped him into a motor boat.

Granger went to the river in the morning with a young woman and two other couples. At 4 p. m., he met Rhinehart, manager of the Tower Grove Quality Market, where he was employed as a driver. Rhinehart had rented a canoe at Lincoln Beach and had paddled downstream to Drake. Granger waded into the river as Rhinehart was starting across to Drake and clambered into the canoe.

As they reached midstream a man clinging to the side of another canoe reached over and seized their canoe, which upset. The canoe rolled over several times as Granger tried to climb onto it. Finally he sank and did not reappear. Rhinehart clung to the end of the canoe until aid reached him.

Granger's body was recovered this morning. The water where Granger sank is about 12 feet deep and is cold because of springs. Drake is between Lincoln Beach and Valley Park. Granger dealt with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Granger.

This was the fifth drowning of the season in the Meramec River.

NILES & MOSER HEAD DIES

Frank C. Niles of Cigar Company Active in Charity Work.

By the Associated Press. KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 27.—Word was received here today of the death at Springfield, Ill., of Frank C. Niles, head of the Niles & Moser Cigar Co. of Kansas City.

He devoted much time and money to the work of the Salvation Army and the Frank C. Niles Orphans' Home, located in Kansas City. The Niles & Moser company was started in St. Joseph in August, 1893. It was brought to Kansas City a month later. The principal branches are in St. Louis, Dallas and Denver. Niles, who was 73 years old, was married in Denver 34 years ago to Miss Emma Dunlap. Surviving are his widow and two brothers.

Norman E. Mack Retires. CHICAGO, June 27.—Last night's caucus of the New York delegation to the Democratic national convention marked the withdrawal of Norman E. Mack of Buffalo from the National Committee, of which he has been a member 32 years. Mack, former publisher of the Buffalo Times, announced his retirement, and John H. McCooley of Brooklyn, on motion of Alfred E. Smith, was elected to succeed him.

4TH OF JULY
EXCURSIONS

LOW FARES

Typical Fares From St. Louis
Cleveland . $13.60
Erie . . . $16.25
Buffalo, $18.20

Correspondingly low fares to all other stations on the Nickel Plate and to many other points. Leave on all trains July 1, 2 and 3. Return limit July 5. Also week-end tickets good in Pullmans at slightly higher fares.

Additional excursions to Toledo, Lima, Findlay and Fostoria every week end.

For full information call City Ticket Office, 313 N. Broadway. Phone CHestnut 7360.

NICKEL
PLATE
ROAD

DROWNED IN MERAMEC

LEWIE GRANGER.

For California Rivers Inquiry. WASHINGTON, June 27.—An investigation of the irrigation flood control, navigation and power development possibilities of the Sacramento, San Joaquin and Kern Rivers in California was authorized today by the Senate.

KNIFED BY ROBBER AS HE STARTS TO HAND OVER MONEY

Insurance Collector Robbed of $40 by Negro Who Apparently Misunder-
stands Move for Pocket.

Joseph Schilling, an insurance collector, 2246A Mulanphy street, was slashed on the right arm by a Negro who held him up in the yard back of his home last night. Schilling obeyed the holdup order by reaching to his hip pocket for his wallet but the robber, apparently mistaking the move, struck him with a knife and then took the wallet. It contained $15 belonging to Schilling and $25 of his company's money.

Clarence Niemoller, a druggist at 3900 Greer avenue, and a clerk at the store were ordered behind the prescription counter by two armed men who stole $50 from a box behind the counter.

When Robert Choate, manager of a restaurant at 3113 North Grand boulevard, stepped into a lot back of the restaurant early yesterday, he was stopped by an armed man who asked where he worked and then made him go through a back door into the J. & R. Motor Supply Co., 3102 North Grand. Another armed man and a third member of the group were in the building. Binding Choate with electric light cord, one stood guard and the others hammered open a safe, taking $200 and a $10 ring. Choate later freed himself and notified police.

Albert Albertstein, attendant at a gasoline station at 2001 Chouteau avenue, was held up early yesterday by two Negroes, who stole $25.

Two shots were fired yesterday afternoon by detectives chasing a robbery suspect in the neighborhood of Ninth street and Chouteau avenue. The automobile in which the suspect and two companions were riding was finally stopped at Seventh and Chouteau, where it hit another automobile. The suspect will be viewed by Joseph Feldman, Eighteenth and Chestnut streets, who was robbed of $225 Saturday afternoon.

Theft of two rings valued at $750 from a room at the Coronado Hotel was reported by Mrs. Nesten K. Foster, Calumet City, Ill., who said someone had entered early yesterday while she was asleep.

The home of Philip Blum, 5508 Milantz avenue, was robbed of $400 by burglars Saturday night. After looting the Blum home, the burglars went upstairs and took $60 from the home of William Hissel.

The Borzell-Hegel Marketing Co., 331 North Fourth street, was entered by burglars who stole $54. Three Negro former convicts who had broken into the Globe Theater, 1116 Franklin avenue, were captured there early yesterday by police in a radio car. Nothing had been taken.

INQUIRY INTO WOMAN'S DEATH

Coroner Dever is conducting an inquiry into the death at Missouri Baptist Hospital of Miss Beatrice Mercer, 22 years old, of Sullivan, Mo., on the report of hospital physicians that death was caused by blood poisoning resulting from an illegal operation.

An inquest was opened this morning, and continued until tomorrow for further testimony. Policemen testified that Miss Mercer's father, Frank Mercer, told them that the young woman was brought to St. Louis on June 15 by an official of Crawford County. On her return home she became ill, and was removed to the hospital last Tuesday.

Racine Newspapers Merge.

By the Associated Press. RACINE, Wis., June 27.—The Racine Journal-News and the Racine Times-Call announce a merger effective today. The new paper will be published under the name of the Journal-Times at the offices of the Journal-News.

BODY IN RIVER IDENTIFIED AS THAT OF MISSING BARBER

The body of a man clad only in shorts, taken from the Mississippi River at the foot of Fillmore street last Friday, was identified today as that of Henry Hoehn, 42 years old, 4422 Nagel avenue.

Hoehn formerly operated a barber shop at 2306 South Ninth street. He had been missing since Jan. 7, when he left home, telling his wife, Mary, that he was going to end his life. His clothing was found the next day at the foot of Potomac street. Identification was made by a set of gold upper teeth.

STOBIE PHOTO COPY CO.

105 NORTH EIGHTH STREET

Photostat Copies of Notes, Checks,
Letters, Etc. Chestnut 1047

Electric Washers Repaired

Any Make or Age
GUARANTEED
Wringer Rolls
Any Part Supplied
SPECIAL
Low Prices This Week

Brandt Electric Co.

904 PINE ST. CHestnut 9220

SCHOOL HEAD ENDS LIFE

Superintendent at Pacific, Mo., Had Nervous Breakdown.

SPECIAL TO THE POST-DISPATCH. PACIFIC, Mo., June 27.—Walter T. Lecky, Superintendent of Pacific public schools, shot and killed himself with a shotgun at 5 p. m. Saturday. The coroner returned a verdict of suicide. Mrs. Lecky, wife, attributed the act to a "sudden nervous breakdown caused by worry and overwork."

Lecky, who was 42 years old, had been connected with the schools

LAUER—$25 A WEEK

PAYS FOR THIS

CROSLY

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

7 square feet shell space—dry zero inside—silent, no vibration—FULLY GUARANTEED.

$89.50

F. O. B. Factory

LAUER

CO.—FURNITURE

825 NORTH 6TH ST.

TRAVEL AND RESORTS

A delightful, economical vacation . . .

7 day cruise

CHICAGO $67.50

and Return

INCLUDING MEALS AND BEVERAGES

This summer take a Great Lakes Cruise. Long days of sailing through regions rich in beauty. Beautiful meals. Restful deck lounging. Sports and dancing galore. You meet new friends. See new sights. Sail home satisfied that you've had the best vacation in years.

GREAT LAKES TRANSIT CORPORATION

Frequent Sailings To and From

Buffalo (Niagara Falls), Cleveland, Detroit, Mackinac Island, Sault Ste. Marie, Sault Ste. Marie, Duluth, Chicago, Milwaukee.

For full information apply any Tourist or Railroad Agent.

or C. O. Vesterling, Gen. Agent, 148 Empress Bank Bldg., St. Louis, Mo.

There's a lot to it!

THE ARTIST blends colors. The cigarette maker blends tobaccos. The artist must use just the right amount of each color to get a pleasing effect. And the cigarette blender must use just the right amount of the right kinds of tobacco to get a better and more pleasing taste. Both must know how!

The right BLEND . . .

the right BALANCE

A "balanced" blend . . . the right Domestic and Turkish tobaccos in the right amounts . . . blended in a different way . . . "welded" together.

That's the Chesterfield Cross-Blend . . . an important reason why Chesterfields are milder and taste better.

It isn't just taking the tobaccos and mixing them hit-or-miss.

The Chesterfield Cross-Blend makes one type or one variety of tobacco partake of the qualities of another. It "welds" together all that is best in each variety.

It's a balanced blend in the truest sense . . . giving you what really amounts to a new kind of tobacco . . . Chesterfield tobacco . . . milder, more fragrant, better-tasting.

that's why Chesterfields TASTE BETTER

PART THREE

GARNER MAKES PERSONAL APPEAL FOR RELIEF BILL

Before Conference He cusses Emergency Fund and R. F. C. Credit Construction.

NO AGREEMENT
REACHED ON P.L.

Tendency to Favor Distribution According to N-
—Congress Hopes to Home Saturday.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 27.—Speaker Garner today assumed the direction of negotiations between the House and Senate for a compromise on the $2,000,000,000 employment relief bill.

His appearance came as the second time to attempt to pose differences between the two measures and the Wagner bill calling for the amount.

Garner went to the conference in company with Representative Rainey, the Democratic who introduced the bill in the House.

Asked by newspaper menward if he had pointed the way to a compromise, the Speaker had confined his remarks to a section of the bill dealing emergency relief funds and the borrowing power of the Reconstruction Corporation.

Garner said he had not directed the controversial public works bill, to which President Hoover is opposed, feeling that a matter for conferees to decide.

Later, at his daily press conference, Garner predicted that the relief bill goes to the "dent" there will be some work in it.

Conferees failed today to reach an agreement, but showed a tendency to consider President Hoover's contention that emergency funds should be distributed on the basis of need.

Relief, economy and money measures today interfered with for an early adjournment.

Senate leaders hope for a compromise Saturday and bent efforts toward passage of appropriation bills that should be law beginning of the new fiscal year, midnight Thursday. Out of most of the Government's money legally will have no to spend.

The two biggest annual measures—those supplying $2,000,000,000 for the Treasury and independent agencies—were before the Senate. Passage was necessary could be sent to conference for adjustment of differences between the House and Senate.

But relief legislation was the most bothersome barrier to agreement. House and Senate forces on the $2,000,000,000 per-Wagner bill wonder they could shape a measure President Hoover. The bound, by the votes of the respective chambers, to agree on public buildings program.

President does not approve Congress also is worried last half of the budget program, the $150,000,000 economy bill. The has refused to accept an as its conferees reached with representatives of the House.

of the latter indicated though the differences between the Senate would have to be resolved.

U. S. MINISTER RESIGNS

Boston Banker Quits as R. F. C. Active in Czech-Slovak

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, June 27.—Rafsky, American Minister to Czechoslovakia, today resigned diplomatic post. He gave son for retiring. He expressed a high opinion of Czech-Slovakian people.

repeating the resignation, the president said he did so with deepest regret because of distinguished service you rendered and the fine place been able to make for you the diplomatic service.

Rafsky is a Boston

325 Take Bar Exam

By the Associated Press. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 27.—Law students today began the regular three-day examinations, conducted in the Senate chambers by Board of Bar Examiners.

hundred and twenty-five including several women, taking the examinations.

S. W. Seeman Estate $1,254,946

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 27.—Seeman, vice-president of Bros., wholesale grocers, Jan. 15, 1931, left a net $1,254,946, principally in a transfer tax appraisal disclosed.

ST. LOUIS, MONDAY, JUNE 27, 1932.

PAGES 1—8C.

PART THREE

GARNER MAKES
PERSONAL APPEAL
FOR RELIEF BILL

Before Conference He Discusses Emergency Funds and R. F. C. Credit for Construction.

NO AGREEMENT
REACHED ON PLAN

Tendency to Favor Distribution According to Need—Congress Hopes to Go Home Saturday.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—Speaker Garner today assumed personal direction of negotiations between the House and Senate for a compromise on the $2,300,000,000 unemployment relief bill.

His appearance came as the Senate and House conferees met for the second time to attempt to compose differences between the Garner measure and the Wagner Senate bill calling for the same amount.

Garner went to the conference in company with Representative Rainey, the Democratic leader, who introduced the bill in the House.

Asked by newspaper men afterward if he had pointed the way to a compromise, the Speaker said he had confined his remarks to the section of the bill dealing with emergency relief funds and extending the borrowing power of the Reconstruction Corporation for construction loans.

Garner said he had not discussed the controversial public works section of the bill, to which President Hoover is opposed, feeling that was a matter for conferees to adjust by compromise.

Later, at his daily press conference, Garner predicted that when the relief bill goes to the President there will be some public work in it.

Conferees failed today to reach an agreement, but showed a disposition to consider President Hoover's contention that emergency aid funds should be distributed on the basis of need.

Relief, economy and money legislation today interfered with plans for an early adjournment of Congress.

Senate leaders hope for adjournment Saturday and bent their efforts toward passage of appropriation bills that should be law by the beginning of the new fiscal year at midnight Thursday. Otherwise, most of the Government departments legally will have no money to spend.

The two biggest annual money measures—those supplying nearly $2,000,000,000 for the Treasury, postoffice and independent offices—were before the Senate. Quick passage was necessary so they could be sent to conference for an adjustment of differences between the House and Senate.

But relief legislation remained the most bothersome barrier to adjournment. House and Senate conferees on the $2,300,000,000 Garner-Wagner bills wondered how they could shape a measure to suit President Hoover. They were bound by the votes of their respective chambers, to agree on a public building program the President does not approve.

Congress also is worried about its last half of the budget-balancing program, the $150,000,000 to $175,000,000 economy bill. The Senate has refused to accept an agreement its conferees reached with Representatives of the House. Leaders of the latter indicated that although the differences were minor the Senate would have to give way.

U. S. MINISTER RESIGNS POST
Boston Banker Quits as Representative in Czechoslovakia.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—A. C. Ratschky, American Minister to Czechoslovakia, today resigned his diplomatic post. He gave no reason for resigning. He had, however, expressed a high opinion of the Czechoslovakian people. In accepting the resignation, the President said he did so "with the deepest regret because of the distinguished service you have rendered and the fine place you have been able to make for yourself in the diplomatic service."

Ratschky is a Boston banker.

225 Take Bar Examinations.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 27.—Law students today began taking the regular three-day June bar examinations, conducted in the House and Senate chambers by the State Board of Bar Examiners. Three hundred and twenty-five persons, including several women, are taking the examinations.

S. W. Seeman Estate $1,254,000.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Sigel W. Seeman, vice-president of Seeman Bros., wholesale grocers, who died Jan. 18, 1931, left a net estate of $1,254,000, principally in securities, a transfer tax appraisal filed today disclosed.

GERMANY NOTIFIES FRANCE
IT CANNOT AND WILL NOT PAY
ANY MORE REPARATIONS

Declaration That Deadlocks Lausanne Conference Made at Private Meeting—Talk of Postponing Debt Session.

By the Associated Press.

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, June 27.—Germany categorically informed France today that reparations must be canceled.

This declaration, deadlocking the Lausanne conference, came from Count Lutz Schwerin von Krosigk, German Minister of Finance, at a meeting attended only by representatives of the two Governments.

Germany von Krosigk said, was determined not to yield an inch in its policy of no more reparations.

This firm stand, the strongest taken by the Berlin delegation since the Lausanne conference opened, was believed to have resulted from Cabinet conferences held by Chancellor von Papen in Berlin over the week-end.

Talk of Postponing Action.

Even before Von Krosigk informed the French that there would be no yield, news got about about Lausanne that both Germans and French were considering shelving the conference until next fall.

Back of this proposal was the fear that the French people would not permit their negotiations to be affected by anything in order to effect a compromise, and that the German people would be similarly adamant.

Both Premier Herriot of France and Chancellor von Papen of Germany were credited with desiring to reach an agreement with minimum delay. Herriot also wanted home for week-end conferences with his Cabinet. In Paris he found no sentiment for dropping the French demand that Germany continue reparations. It was evident today that the French and the Germans were further apart than ever.

In his talk with the French, Von Krosigk suggested that a way out of the deadlock might be found through the creation of a common cash box into which Germany would pay when financially able, but such payments, he insisted, would not be made under the heading "reparations."

Italy and Belgium Stand Together.

Advocates of shelving the conference until the fall, on the theory that nothing can be done now, have suggested the appointment of a committee of experts to fix a formula of agreement in the disputed question of cash payments by Germany. This committee would gather data to be submitted in time for another meeting of the Powers some time before Dec. 15, when an installment on debts owed the United States falls due.

Prime Minister MacDonald of Britain and Foreign Minister Dino Grandi of Italy would be expected to oppose any move to halt the conference until autumn.

JAPAN'S MINISTER OF WAR OPPOSES
HOOVER PROPOSAL

Declares It Is Impossible to Reduce Land Armaments by a Fixed Percentage—Tanks Vital.

(Copyright, 1932, by the Associated Press.)

TOKIO, June 27.—Gen. Saio Araki, Japan's Minister of War, told the Associated Press yesterday that reduction of land armaments by fixed percentages was impossible. He was commenting on the Hoover proposal to cut armaments one-third.

He raised the point of security in the discussion.

"The elements entering into the organization of any nation's armament are manifold and complicated, varying with the particular situation of each country," Araki said.

"Therefore, it is impossible to reduce armaments by fixed percentages which inevitably would involve unfair estimates of the particular defense situation of one or more Powers. Obviously such attempts are bound to produce results injurious to the security of some nation."

He referred to the proximity of huge Russian and Chinese armies as Japan's "particular defense situation."

Declaring that comment in detail on the various points of the Hoover proposal would be premature while the statesmen in Geneva were studying them, Gen. Araki said it was his personal opinion that it would be "exceedingly difficult to abolish" tanks, large mobile guns and bombing planes.

He asserted that such weapons constituted a vital element of the national defense of many nations. Araki denied that the important role of air bombers in the Manchurian campaign would determine Japan's final decision about such weapons.

"The Japanese army is trying to restore peace and order in Manchuria with as little as possible of the horrors of war," he said. "The leaders of Japan's army believe that there is no choice but military measures when the lives and property interests of Japanese are threatened by lawless elements."

"Our armaments must be limited only by such necessity. Nevertheless, we hope to make our contribution to world peace by methods which are fair to all parties and which are reasonable in degree."

SUES MANITOBA WHEAT POOL

Grain Terminal Firm Charges It Is Bankrupt.

By the Associated Press.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 27.—Application to have the Manitoba wheat pool declared bankrupt was made today in the Supreme Court of Manitoba by A. B. Hudson on behalf of the Gillespie Terminal Grain Co. of Port William.

Heads Wisconsin U. Alumni Here.

Dr. Norton J. Eversoll was elected president of the University of Wisconsin Alumni Association of St. Louis at the annual meeting Saturday night. Other officers are: A. L. Knudstad, vice-president; Miss Betty Brown, secretary; and James Watson, treasurer.

VON PAPEN CALLS ON HITLER TO KEEP
NAZIS IN CONTROL

German Chancellor Is Said to Have Made Personal Appeal to the Fascist Leader.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, June 27.—A personal appeal that Adolf Hitler restrain his National Socialists for the sake of Germany's negotiations at the Lausanne reparations conference is reported to have been made yesterday by Chancellor von Papen as political clashes took four more lives in the Reich.

A meeting of the Chancellor with the German Fascist leader in the presence of Kurt von Schleicher, Defense Minister, and Baron Wilhelm von Gayl, Minister of Interior, was reported from various sources.

While the meeting was officially denied, it was reported the Chancellor asked Hitler to take his uniformed followers off the streets, as constant fighting had undermined the German negotiations at the Lausanne conference.

Whether Hitler agreed to the proposal was not divulged.

Alfred Hugenberg, at a caucus of the German Nationalist party leaders, openly stated that his party favored a restoration of the monarchy.

A National Socialist was killed yesterday at Wattencheid, an anti-Fascist leader was shot dead at Landsberg, a Reichsbanner man was riddled by National Socialist and Communist bullets at Ruedorf, and a member of the Steel Helmet organization in Cologne died of injuries received in fighting last week.

Seven persons were seriously wounded in the clash at Ruedorf, which is near Limbach.

Steel Helmet members and Communists clashed at Esleben, where many were injured and 100 arrested.

A number of women took an active part in a Nazi-Communist melee at Castrop-Rauxel. Four Nazis were taken to a hospital. One Nazi was gravely injured at Essen. Minor skirmishes occurred at Dusseldorf and Chemnitz.

While Berlin, with eight injured, was comparatively quiet, more serious trouble arose at a Wattencheid, where a National Socialist was killed and several persons were wounded in shooting between Adolf Hitler's Fascist followers and Communists.

An anti-Fascist leader was shot dead by unidentified individuals at Landsberg and a member of the Steel Helmet organization in Cologne died of injuries received in fighting last week.

The police of Leipzig were kept busy separating extremists of the Right and Left, sending five wounded National Socialists to a hospital.

Several persons were injured in Hamburg in a fight of policemen, Nazis and Communists. Four Nazis were seriously wounded in a melee with Communists at Beuthen.

Prussian Diet Recommends Seizure of Property of Jewish Immigrants.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, June 27.—The Prussian Diet yesterday passed a National Socialist taxation bill which provides for the confiscation of the property of all Jews who immigrated from the East after 1914.

GOLDMAN BROS.

This Newest CROSLY ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR

$89.50 F. O. B. Factory

ONLY $5 DOWN!

Not a Midget, But a Standard, Full-Size Box!

GUARANTEED 5 YEARS

Trade in Your Old Ice Box

1102-08 OLIVE

This is a young man's world; but what of it? The smartly tailored man is always as young as his clothes. But remember that smartly tailored means the distinctive style that comes only from custom tailoring and fine wools. A Losse custom tailored suit

$40 to $65

CATHOLIC GROUPS
STONED, BEATEN IN NORTHERN IRELAND

Orangemen at Ballymena Attack Pilgrims to Eucharistic Congress—Other Clashes.

By the Associated Press.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, June 27.—Many men and women were injured in a series of clashes between Protestants and Catholics in Northern Ireland yesterday. Parties of Catholic pilgrims, on their way to the closing ceremonies of the Eucharistic Congress at Dublin, were attacked, stoned and beaten.

After earlier riots in four cities, seven of nine trains carrying the Catholic pilgrims were stoned between Portadown and Belfast. Escursion steamers carrying pilgrims also were stoned at Larne. Stones also crashed through the windows of the St. Narcissus Chapel at Larne.

As a result of these attacks, the government of Northern Ireland took precautions today to protect Cardinal Lauri, papal legate, who is scheduled to visit Ulster tomorrow. Every part of his route from the Free State border to Armagh will be guarded by regular and special police.

At Railway Station.

The worst outbreak yesterday occurred at Ballymena where Orangemen appeared in force as hundreds of pilgrims gathered at the railway station to take their trains. Several pilgrims were beaten and kicked. Before the attack a crowd of Orangemen paraded through the town singing party songs and shouting abuse of the Pope.

At Belfast stones were thrown through the windows of street cars in which the pilgrims were riding to the station to take the train for Dublin. Two policemen were injured when they charged the rioters.

High Mass in Park.

The pagan and fervor of the congress marked the final session. Archbishop Michael J. Curley of Baltimore celebrated the pontifical high mass in Phoenix Park.

Forty nations and Ireland, perhaps more, were represented. Ten Cardinals and many Archbishops

Sculptor with Bust of Mrs. Hoover

ERNEST DUBIG, NEW YORK sculptor, shown with his recently completed study of the wife of the President, which he plans to exhibit this fall.

holding a parade celebrating the Battle of the Boyne, where William of Orange defeated James II on July 1, 1690. Stones were thrown and pistols fired, but no one was hurt.

POPE'S BROADCAST CLOSING CONGRESS

By the Associated Press.

DUBLIN, June 27.—Several hundred thousand Catholics, from all parts of the world, were on their way home today from the thirty-first Eucharistic Congress, which closed yesterday with a blessing from Pope Pius XI, radioed from Vatican City.

A million members of the church heard the Pope's words of blessing, broadcast by loud-speakers. The benediction followed a solemn pontifical mass and a great religious procession 17 miles long. The Pope had intended to speak earlier but the transmission was faulty and he was delayed.

High Mass in Park.

The pagan and fervor of the congress marked the final session. Archbishop Michael J. Curley of Baltimore celebrated the pontifical high mass in Phoenix Park.

Forty nations and Ireland, perhaps more, were represented. Ten Cardinals and many Archbishops

SIAM'S KING BACK
ON THRONE, GIVES UP PART OF POWER

Prajadhipok Returns to Capital and Signs Proclamation Setting Him Up as Constitutional Monarch.

By the Associated Press.

BANGKOK, Siam, June 27.—King Prajadhipok returned to the throne of Siam today as a constitutional monarch. By a proclamation signed yesterday by the King his powers are limited, and all acts of the People's party, which supported last week's revolt, are legalized.

The young King, whose word a few days ago was the law and who was held in semi-divine reverence as a descendant of Buddha, immediately set to work to study the new Constitution. He arrived here before dawn yesterday from Huahin, where he had been spending a vacation, accompanied by Prince Svasti, Prince Purachatra and Prince Alongkut.

Prince Alongkut, former Vice-Minister of War, left the train at the public station and was arrested immediately, taken to the Throne Hall of one of the palaces and placed with the other Princes who were taken into custody when the revolt broke out. The other two Princes remained with the King.

Only a Boy Scout detachment and a few civilians were at the Royal station to welcome the King. He was taken from the train to Sukkotsai Palace and shortly afterward the Minister of the Royal household went to the headquarters of the provisional government and returned with two representatives of the people's party.

The "King's party" was then taken to the palace and conferences over the establishment of the new Government began. After they were over the King signed the proclamation.

The civilian leader of the People's party is Luang Pradit Manudharin, a brilliant young man who was educated in France. It is generally expected that the new Constitution will provide some form of electoral franchise for the people. The city was quiet over the week-end.

Make a "Profit"
On Your Income Tax

("YOU CAN'T DO THAT," YOU SAY...BUT LOOK)

Here is a way. Estimate the amount of your State and Federal Income Taxes due next year, divide by eleven, and deposit that much in a Mercantile-Commerce Savings Account every month, starting July first.

Here is an example. A married man with a yearly salary of $5,000 and without dependent children will pay about $143 next year. If he will deposit one-eleventh of that amount ($13) on the first of every month, starting July first, he can withdraw $25 (the first quarterly payment on his Federal Tax) on March 15, 1933, and $118, the remainder of the Federal and all of the State Tax, on June 1, 1933.

"Where does the profit come in," you say?

There will still be $1.77 in his account, which is the interest we have added.

"Not much of a profit," you say?

Well, think of making ANY profit on your Income Tax!

And this plan is elastic. You may use it to prepare for any future payment.

Mercantile-Commerce Bank and Trust Company

Locust - Eighth - St. Charles
St. Louis

If Grand and Delmar is more convenient, the Mercantile-Commerce National Bank will serve you.

"LARGE ENOUGH TO SERVE ANY • STRONG ENOUGH TO PROTECT ALL"

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Founded by JOSEPH PULTZER
December 12, 1878
Published by
The Pultzer Publishing Company
Twelfth Boulevard and Olive Street

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, always lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrongs; whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

JOSEPH PULTZER.
April 10, 1907.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The name and address of the author must accompany every contribution, but on request will not be published. Letters not exceeding 200 words will receive preference.

Rural Centers for the Unemployed.

EVERY individual, at least in the United States, is entitled to sufficient food to maintain his health, to sufficient clothing for his needs, and to weather-proof housing. This is, perhaps, a somewhat radical idea, or, at least, would have been considered so a few years ago when independence, political and economic, was our shibboleth. Now, however, it is hard to escape the conclusion that we are living under a system so devised that nearly every one of us must fit somewhere into an almost universal economic machine. Such a system renders economic independence practically impossible to the ordinary man and seems to me, therefore, to carry an implicit liability to maintain at a minimum rate such members of society as cannot be used at the moment.

We have a considerable number of such unusables. At the present time, this number is much augmented. One principal cause of this is the fact that the machine is not running smoothly, rather than to any incompetence on the part of the majority of the people who are now denied an opportunity to earn a living. Society as a whole is taking care of these unusables either by contribution to central funds or by direct contribution to individuals by relatives and friends.

I have no data applying to the effectiveness of public or private charity. Doubtless some of it is being economically administered. Inasmuch, however, as by far the greater part of public charity funds is being expended to maintain people in cities, I doubt very much that the maximum benefit is being obtained by the recipients of this dole. It almost invariably costs more for city living than for an equivalent country living.

It is my suggestion that money being spent to maintain the unemployed should be used to establish and maintain them in rural centers. Practically every state in the Union has unused land or can obtain such land at an extremely low rental. Inexpensive homes can be built, their construction serving to furnish a certain amount of work to a great many unemployed, and each family can be given a small patch of ground for garden purposes. In such centers it will, of course, be necessary to have barber shops, tailor shops, shoe repair shops and so on, and men taking employment at such work could be paid some minimum rate such as 50 cents a day in addition to their living.

There need not be more than one such community in any state and it should be supported ultimately by taxation rather than by charity. After all, the difference between contributing by tax or by voluntary payment is immaterial. (It happens in my own case that my contributions this year to charity are somewhat in excess of my combined Federal and State income taxes.)

It is my belief, reasoning from what I am sure would be my own reactions were I among this army which must be supported, that a vast majority of the homeless unemployed would be greatly improved psychologically were they located where they could do a little gardening and could live under reasonably comfortable and healthful surroundings. Instead of living as at present under a system of municipal charity. The feeling of self-help, such as would arise from gardening and from taking care of a house, would be a great stimulant to morale. The bums, of course, would not approve any change since they are now living in clover.

Such a system could best be handled, of course, by the Federal Government. In the first place, petty politics and petty graft are probably less present in Federal than in state and municipal affairs. In the second place, such a Federal undertaking could be handled by the Quartermaster's Department of the army, thus giving us some value received for army expenditures while we wait for the next war. Also, army policing and army sanitation would probably be more effective than would local efforts directed to the same end. Under Federal control, too, fewer communities would be required, since it would be unnecessary to consider state lines; and still further, such a system under Federal control could be combined with a nation-wide employment service. However, if states can act more quickly than the national Government, we should take the quickest course.

I venture the further, still more radical, suggestion that these establishments for the unemployed should be made permanent. It seems probable that, do what we will, we shall have periodic industrial slackness for many years to come. Unemployment insurance, either public or private, will doubtless increase in volume and if to a small income during unemployment there could be added an opportunity to grow a part of the family food, the improvement in the workman's position would be tremendous.

T. R. HARNEY.

PRICE LEVELS AND RECOVERY.

Commodity prices are still falling, but less precipitately. The wholesale price index, 100 in 1926, now stands at 63.8. The 1926 dollar is now worth more than $1.50 at wholesale, but the continued decline in price levels has not corrected the maladjustments which have appeared in the price system in the course of the depression.

For the prices which have fallen most are those which were already too low. And the prices which have fallen least are today relatively even higher. The cost of living has dropped only to 73, and the dollar which is worth $1.50 in the wholesale market will buy only $1.25 worth of goods at retail. Raw materials are down to 55.5; finished products at wholesale only to 71. Food at wholesale has declined 40 per cent; at retail only 30 per cent. The wholesale price of textiles has been reduced to 57; the retail price of clothing only to 63.

The various wholesale price groups themselves present wide discrepancies. Farm prices have fallen 50 per cent, raw materials 45 per cent, textiles 43 per cent and food 40 per cent. At the same time, metals and metal products have declined only 20 per cent, and house furnishings, hides and leather, building materials, chemicals and drugs only about 25 per cent. At the one extreme, silk and rayon have dropped 70 per cent in price, auto tires and tubes 60 per cent and petroleum 55 per cent. At the other, gas has dropped only 2 1/2 per cent and electricity has actually increased by nearly 5 per cent.

These figures give little basis for optimistic predictions of early business recovery. Producers in those lines in which prices have fallen the most will continue to be poor customers for the products of those businesses which have succeeded in keeping their prices up.

The farmer whose grains are down to 45 will not buy many retail goods at 70. Business could readily adjust itself to falling prices if all prices were to fall at the same rate and by the same amount. It is the disparity between the various price groups which makes the process of adjustment so slow and painful.

Where competition rules, prices know no bottom. Where monopoly controls, prices are maintained even at the cost of reduced sales. Wheat sells for less than cost of production, while steel rails still sell at the rigid quotation of $43 a ton. Aluminum is practically unchanged, and public utility rates continue to pour a golden stream of profits into the pockets of their owners.

It is clear that the various elements of the price structure must be brought more nearly into line before we can stage anything like a substantial recovery of business. Either the monopolists must voluntarily reduce the prices which prevent the rest of the community from buying their goods or steps must be taken to raise those prices which are most seriously depressed by stimulating a revival of trade both in the domestic and world market.

MICKEY MOUSE FALLS AFOUL THE CENSOR.

At the height of the famous Fatty Arbuckle film scandal of 10 years ago, some was observed that the only screen star who had escaped the all-inclusive gossip of Hollywood was Rin-Tin-Tin. For similar reason, one might have thought that Mickey Mouse would be exempt from the excursions of the various censorship boards in this and other countries. But such is apparently not the case.

The censors have discovered that Mickey has sex appeal and is therefore capable of that kind of erotic conduct which might enervate the moral tone of the public if left unexpurgated. Ohio, for instance, barred one of the pictures in which one of Mickey's bovine friends was discovered reading a copy of "Three Weeks." England banned a film because of a leering fish writhed up to a mermaid and slapped her thigh, and Sweden has lately found that Mickey's whole character was "mentally unwholesome."

All of which fills us with an acute melancholy. For Mickey was the one wholly untrammelled personality left in a world full of iron-handed and prohibitory realities and, as such, a perfect expression of a classic joie de vivre. Now his style is to be cramped because Ohio doesn't believe in erotic literature for cows.

AN INVESTIGATION IN ORDER.

Not daunted in the least by the vitriolic attack upon him by the Illinois Commerce Commission, Prof. Paul H. Douglas, University of Chicago economist, is now urging that a thorough-going investigation of the Insull utility system be undertaken by the Senate Banking Committee. Relations between Prof. Douglas and his associates in the Utility Consumers and Investors' League of Illinois and the commission, never very harmonious, rapidly grew less so with the attempt of the former to obtain reconsideration of the commission's recent authorization of a $700,000 bond issue by three Insull utility concerns in the Chicago area. The attitude of the commission has been that the protesting organization has been meddlesome and unjustified in its inquiries. How the operations of the Insull companies could be subjected to too close scrutiny is hard to see. The collapse of Middle West Utilities, the three-billion-dollar holding company whose subsidiaries extend through 37 states and Canada, makes clear the need for the strictest kind of supervision. Meanwhile, the conduct of the Illinois Commerce Commission is such as to prove a reminder that not long ago it was presided over by Frank L. Smith, whose senatorial campaign fund Samuel Insull so generously enriched.

CHARMS OF SAN ANTONIO.

Down in San Antonio lives a 51-year-old business man who has never been outside the city limits. Vincent A. Cruz is his name. Once he journeyed to an outlying park, but even then remained well within the corporation. He explains that by reading and visits to the movies he finds out all he wants to know about the outside world. As a stay-at-home, Mr. Cruz has made a better record than had Immanuel Kant, who became famous for a number of things, among them the fact that only once in his 80 years did he travel so far as 40 miles from his native Koenigsberg. We are, nevertheless, disposed to leave the laurels for self-denial on the philosopher's furrowed brow. It was in the matter of early rising that he set the sternest of examples. Winter and summer, his man-servant called him at 5 a. m., and never once did the father of the categories fail to come forth. However, that was in bleak Koenigsberg. Had Herr Kant puffed into San Antonio some hot Saturday night, only to awake in the morning to find that it had turned off cool, with a fine breeze blowing up from the gulf through the palm fronds and the vine-festooned liveoak boughs in the gorge-

THAT "TRAGIC PERFORMANCE."

In a discussion before the Harvard Alumni Association of the breakdown of party solidarity, Secretary Mills offered as Exhibit A the action of the House of Representatives in rewriting the revenue bill. The Secretary went so far as to denounce this action as "a tragic performance." What happened was that the Ways and Means Committee offered to the House a bill whose principal feature was a general sales tax, which was unacceptable to a majority of the members. They, therefore, rejected the committee's bill and wrote a new one.

We agree with Mr. Mills that a revenue bill should be carefully planned in advance and should not be a patchwork of unrelated items. We also agree that the revenue bill, as passed, is far from faultless. But to criticize members of Congress for not docilely supporting a committee bill containing a principle of taxation obnoxious to them is to ask them to become robot-like units of party machinery.

Far from being "a tragic performance," the revolt of the House against the committee-made tax bill was the most heartening sign of independence that body has shown for years.

ously green plaza opposite his hotel window, who knows but that the philosopher might have rolled over and slept until noon? We leave it to Mr. Cruz.

THE DEMOCRATS AND THE WAR DEBTS.

In an article in the magazine Liberty, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt denounces the administration for "groping up European finances" and declares that "it has not summoned up the moral courage to tell the nations of Europe that they must acknowledge the debts which their governments owe to the Government of the United States. All efforts to stabilize world finance will be futile until Europe recognizes her just obligations."

So speaks the leading contender for the Democratic nomination for the presidency. The words might be those of the isolationist Hiram Johnson or the reactionary David Reed. They even echo the querulous question of a famous Vermontor, who asked, "Well, they hired the money, didn't they?"

By comparison, the Republican position is much more hopeful. Four years ago the platform of that party declared: "We have steadfastly opposed and will continue to oppose cancellation of foreign debts. We hold that obligations justly incurred should be honorably discharged. We know of no authority which would permit public officials, acting as trustees, to shift the burden of the war debts from the shoulders of foreign taxpayers to those of our own people."

But 1932 is not 1928, and on this issue the platform recently adopted at Chicago is significantly silent. Obviously, the administration forestalled the inclusion of any commitment which would impede the action which it must inevitably take before the next payments of the debts fall due on Dec. 15. The recent manifesto on debts, reparations and tariffs issued by the League of Nations Association and signed by George W. Wickersham, Nicholas Murray Butler, Gen. W. W. Atterbury and other eminent Republicans, also presages a salutary change of policy.

It is evident that an elephant can learn. Will the donkey prove to be less tractable? It will be an unhappy day for Democracy if it is led to declare itself at Chicago on the wrong side of so vital an issue.

TIMELY INTERVENTION.

Ever since Massachusetts underwent its recent congressional redistricting, a puzzling problem has troubled Republican leaders of that State. What should be done about Representatives Frederick W. Dallinger and Robert Luce, devoted party men, who had represented the eighth and thirteenth districts for years, only to find themselves at last thrown into the same district by the new divisions? Each deserved reward, but only one could be nominated. Thanks to the intervention of the White House, all is now well and the goose hangs high. Was the new district authorized to send two men to Congress? That would have done, perhaps, but it wasn't the solution chosen. Mr. Hoover simply appointed Congressman Dallinger to be a Federal Judge, leaving the way clear for Congressman Luce. Where there's a will there's a way is just as true in politics as in love, war and bridge.

THE ANTI-COMMUNIST BILL.

Of the four bills resulting from recommendations by the Fish committee after its investigation into Communist activities, three did not see the light of day in Congress. These bills would have provided, respectively, for a Federal sedition law, for excluding Communist literature from the mails and for a system of espionage conducted by the Department of Justice. Apparently, lasting lessons were taught by this country's experiences with the alien and sedition laws of John Adams' time and the hysterical anti-alien campaign sponsored by Attorney-General Palmer, for the bills were killed in committee.

The fourth bill, introduced by Representative Dies of Texas, has been passed by the House, however, and is now before the Senate Immigration Committee. One of its innovations is a provision for deporting aliens for their doctrinal beliefs alone, not their actions or preachings, as heretofore. Thus the Government would assume the formidable task of proving that a man's thoughts were dangerous.

The bill provides also for deporting alien Communists, though statutes already exist under which hundreds of them are deported annually, as well as other persons who practice or preach violence. This bill broadens the definition of deportable persons to include alien members of the Communist party or organizations affiliated with it, regardless of their policies. Although a Communist ticket appears regularly on the ballots in this country, the bill would outlaw all alien members of the party.

Further, the bill provides only for deportation of persons who plot against the governments of countries "not under the control of the Communists," thus inviting enemies of Communist regimes to make the United States their headquarters and hotbed of conspiracy. It is surely not a tenet of Americanism to give legal sanction to movements against foreign governments, even those with which our policies do not agree, but this would open the doors to a horde of disturbers, with foreign entanglements certain.

The present laws are being used continually for deportation of dangerous radicals. In fact, the Wickcrsham Commission found them so stringent as to be accompanied by a train of abuses. The present bill, however, would make the code even stronger, and would fortify the already autocratic power of the deportation authorities. The Dies measure is both unnecessary and dangerous.

THAT "TRAGIC PERFORMANCE."

In a discussion before the Harvard Alumni Association of the breakdown of party solidarity, Secretary Mills offered as Exhibit A the action of the House of Representatives in rewriting the revenue bill. The Secretary went so far as to denounce this action as "a tragic performance." What happened was that the Ways and Means Committee offered to the House a bill whose principal feature was a general sales tax, which was unacceptable to a majority of the members. They, therefore, rejected the committee's bill and wrote a new one.

We agree with Mr. Mills that a revenue bill should be carefully planned in advance and should not be a patchwork of unrelated items. We also agree that the revenue bill, as passed, is far from faultless. But to criticize members of Congress for not docilely supporting a committee bill containing a principle of taxation obnoxious to them is to ask them to become robot-like units of party machinery.

Far from being "a tragic performance," the revolt of the House against the committee-made tax bill was the most heartening sign of independence that body has shown for years.

BEHIND THE SCENES AT CHICAGO.

A Plan for Socialized Capitalism

Assailing extremes of both Socialism and capitalism, business man admits need for rehabilitating present system; urges that industry be humanized, mutualized and socialized; favors business co-operation rather than government control; urges unemployment reserves, to protect workers and stimulate stabilization of employment.

From a Preprint of an Article in the Survey Graphic by Albert G. Milbank.

The writer of this article is a member of a New York law firm, a director of the Chase National Bank, a trustee of the Title Guaranty and Trust Co., and chairman of the board of the Bureau of the Board of the Welfare Council of New York City.

STARTING with the premise that Socialism in its extreme form destroys some of the finest and most useful qualities in the individual and that capitalism in its extreme form makes the individual a predator animal to the community, in devising let us spend little time on the suggestion to scrap the existing order, and let us turn our thoughts upon rehabilitation of the capitalist system. The purpose of such rehabilitation would be to humanize, to mutualize, to stabilize and to socialize industry.

Humanizing the business machine is of great importance. Men and women in industry are not robots. Their sensibilities and aspirations, their hopes and fears, are factors which should be taken into account. The personnel director has been accused of an increasingly definite post in every well-managed corporation. His opportunities for greater usefulness and in many directions which do not necessarily involve the spending of money are difficult to estimate. The life insurance companies which have mutualized their businesses have demonstrated their social value to an amazing degree, and many other corporations have proved the value to the owners, to the employees and to the community, in devising ways for employees to become stockholders.

In stabilizing the capitalistic system, it would be wise at the outset to consider changing the rules of the game. For years competition was referred to as the "life of trade." More recently, as its wasteful aspects and its harmful effects on all efforts to maintain a healthy balance between production and consumption become more clear, it is more often referred to as the "death of trade." With production and consumption reasonably balanced, other social and economic changes as, for example, the five-day week, might naturally develop—all or many of which appear to be wholly impractical under the existing competitive system.

If co-operation is permitted, the public must, of course, be protected against the abuse of that power. How shall that be done? In our political-economic philosophy, we seem thus far to have found but one answer to this question, namely, governmental regulation. The deplorable condition of our railroads, which admittedly is due in very large part to overregulation, does not encourage us to place industry generally under that type of handicap.

Such success as has attended the operation of the public utility companies, in spite of regulation by state commissions, is due to the fact that, by reason of the very nature of the service they render, they enjoy a complete monopoly in the districts in which they operate. This is not true as to the railroads, which are still subject to competitive conditions, and would be still less true in the case of that vast array of industries now on a competitive basis, even though powers were conferred upon them to make agreements for certain specified purposes. Regulation, as applied to business generally, would result in a staggeringly profitable balance between production and consumption, such permission should be subject to the requirement that attested copies of such agreements be filed with the Federal Trade Commission.

Modification of the Sherman law to permit such agreements should be of limited duration and adopted as an emergency measure. Its value, aside from affording emergency relief, however, would be found in making available to Congress, pending its further investigation of the anti-trust acts, a record of actual business experiences under a limited co-operative system.

From the standpoint of the public interest, no safer time could be found in which to try out such an experiment. Business is flat on its back. Even if Congress should declare a three-year moratorium on the anti-trust laws without imposing any special safeguards, the practical risk to the public would be negligible.

In the socialization of industry, I am not thinking of nationalization nor of other radical proposals, but rather of an evolution of measures already adopted. Unemployment reserves should be the next step. It should be a contributory system in which both employer, out of profits when received, and employee, out of wages when received, shall participate. If compulsion is necessary, I hope it will take the form of making such a thrift system a condition of doing business and a condition of employment, rather than a compulsory state-managed and state-financed system.

Whatever system may be adopted, one of its primary purposes should be to provide an incentive to the employer to stabilize employment. It is also essential that the reserve funds accumulated through contributions by employer and employee should not be invested in the business, but preferably in obligations of the Government.

Had 5 per cent of the net profits of industry been set aside during the five-year period, 1925-29, and had this sum been augmented by employee contributions equivalent to 2 per cent of the aggregate payroll, it is estimated reserves would have been accumulated to the amount of at least five billion dollars, which would have been of inestimable value to meet conditions of unprecedented unemployment and of dire distress from which the country is now suffering.

More progress would be made if pride and prejudice were laid aside and discussion focussed on the merits of specific proposals, irrespective of their origin. Sound proposals could thus be worked out that would meet, with general approval, some because it was a practical application of the Golden Rule, by others because it was an act of social justice and by still others because it was good business.

How the Looting Is Done

From the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.

TESTIMONY before the Federal Trade Commission in Washington that 100 companies, with a total investment of $250,000,000, are controlled by a holding company with a stock valuation of $204,000,000, reveals further details of the manner in which American investors have been robbed of their savings through the improper use of the holding company system.

According to the report of the commissioner's examiner, the sub-holding companies and "trusts" of one of these companies are merely bookkeeping units, whose receipts for public utility services are, in many cases, transferred immediately to the account of the holding company.

It is not surprising that under any such system as that, the assets of sound and conservative companies have been dissipated and the value of their securities have dropped like plummets.

The scheme is simple and presents a two-way opportunity for looting the investor. Companies whose stocks and bonds are as good as gold are taken over and, as the first step, fictitiously inflated stock is unloaded on unsuspecting investors. Then these companies are deliberately looted through the transfer of assets, and owners of their securities left to hold the bag.

Some holding companies, conservatively conducted, are performing a good service, but the lack of proper legal safeguards to prevent their being used to milk the public is a threat to the savings of every investor in the country.

It is vitally necessary that Congress enact such safeguards without further delay. Honestly conducted holding companies cannot be affected by such restrictions. It is high time that an end be put to the countless and unscrupulous looting which has taken so huge a portion of the wealth of the country out of the pockets of the people and into the coffers of Wall Street.

HOGS AND HIGHER MATHEMATICS.

From the Philadelphia Record.

ANYONE who thinks the Department of Agriculture is not giving full attention to the needs of the farmer must be silenced by a pamphlet lately come out of Washington.

The pamphlet is Department of Agriculture Bulletin 1440, and is entitled "Factors Affecting the Price of Hogs." It is being sent to farmers, for this stated reason: "Fuller comprehension of what are the factors affecting hog prices should enable farmers to make a more rational control of their production."

All the factors affecting hog prices have been put into a single formula. The formula is presented to farmers as "making a highly accurate forecast of hog prices on a mathematical basis." The formula, in short, will tell the farmer how to raise and sell hogs, and when to market them. For the sake of those farmers whose taxes have left them without postage to write for the bulletin to the department, we reprint the formula, as accurately as the limitations of newspaper typography will permit:

"Log X11 equals 0.09443 log X1 plus 0.15888 log X2 minus 0.21986 log X3 minus 0.22675 log X4 minus 0.67250 log X5 plus 2.22777 log X6 plus 0.64759 log X7 plus 0.22650 log X8 minus 0.93036 log X9 plus 1.63099 log X10 minus K."

We have been waiting a long time for the answer to the farm problem. But when looking at the solution printed above, can say it was not worth waiting for?

"BLOSSOM TIME" OPERETTA TONIGHT

Attendance First Three Weeks of Season at Municipal Theater 167,500.

Attendance at the Municipal Opera for the first three weeks of the season, ending last night, was 167,500, a record which equals that of a similar period in any other season, according to opera officials.

Last night's performance, "The Last Waltz," was called at 10 o'clock because of rain. The act had not ended when rain began at five minutes after 10 o'clock, but the performance held up for nearly an hour. If the show might continue, the checks will be honored at the performances. There were 75 persons in the audience.

A revival of "Blossom Time" will open tonight at the opera. Charlotte Lansing will have the role of Miti which was hers several seasons in the past in the company of "Blossom Time" Clifford Newdahl will appear. Franz Schubert, the composer about whose life the operetta is written.

Others in the cast are George Houston, Allan Jones, George H. all, Lorraine Weimar, Marie King and Marie Starnier.

Group reservations for the are: Tonight, agents of the Commercial Life Insurance Co.; tomorrow night, executives of the Grocer & Baking Co., and so on. Parties from Illinois towns: Today night, the Life Underwriter.

REAL TAST FOR CREA SAUCES A-1 SAUC

Elizabeth Arden Prot Sunburn cream

Elizabeth Arden creates women who want to stay

Protecta Cream is the strongest rays of the sun smart women have made sun without first apply

Cream enables them to out the risk of freckles

Protecta Cream serves a

The Elizabeth Arden Ba

VENETIAN CLEANSING C

oughly and gently. $1, $2, $3, $6.

VENETIAN ARDEN SKIN T

refreshes the skin. 85c, $2, $3.75, $5.

VENETIAN ORANGE SKIN F

brushes wrinkles. $1, $1.75, $2.75.

VENETIAN VELVA CREAM. S

oat (fatteness). $1, $2, $3, $6.

ARDEN PROTECTA CREAM

of the skin in spite of exposure to the before going out in the sun. White

ELIZABETH ARDEN 691 FIFTH LONDON PARIS

Elizabeth Arden's Ven FAMOUS-BARR CO. SCRUGGS-VANDER STIX, BAER

The Post-Dispatch offer rent than are listed in all is the recognized renting

'BLOSSOM TIME' OPERA TONIGHT

Attendance First Three Weeks of Season at Municipal Theater 167,500.

Attendance at the Municipal Opera for the first three weeks of the season, ending last night, was 167,500, a record which equals that of a similar period in any other season, according to opera officials.

Last night's performance of "The Last Waltz" was called off at 10 o'clock because of rain. The first act had not ended when the rain began at five minutes after 9 o'clock, but the performance was held up for nearly an hour to see if the show might continue. Rain checks will be honored at later performances. There were 7200 persons in the audience.

A revival of "Blossom Time" will open tonight at the opera.
Charlotte Laning will have the role of Miti which was hers for several seasons in the past in touring companies of "Blossom Time."
Clifford Newdahl will appear as Franz Schubert, the composer, about whose life the operetta was written.

Others in the cast are George Houston, Allan Jones, George Hax-ell, Lorraine Welmar, Marie Wilkins and Marie Starnier.

Group reservations for the week are: Tonight, agents of the Continental Life Insurance Co.; tomorrow night, executives of the Kroger Grocery & Baking Co. and several parties from Illinois towns; Thursday night, the Life Underwriters of

REAL TASTE
FOR CREAM
SAUCES
A-1
SAUCE

Elizabeth Arden's Invisible Sun Mask Protecta Cream Sunburn cannot penetrate it!

Elizabeth Arden created Protecta Cream especially for women who want to sun their loveliness and have it too.

Protecta Cream is undetectable...non-greasy...yet the strongest rays of the sun cannot penetrate it. The world over, smart women have made a rule of never going out in the sun without first applying this invisible sun mask. Protecta Cream enables them to spend happy days in the sun, without the risk of freckles, sunburn or coarsening. In addition, Protecta Cream serves as a superb foundation for make-up.

The Elizabeth Arden Basic Preparations for Summer Loveliness:

- VENETIAN CLEANSING CREAM...Cleanses thoroughly and gently. $1, $2, $3, $6.
- VENETIAN ARDENA SKIN TONIC...Tones, firms and
refreshes the skin. 85c, $2, $3.75, $9.
- VENETIAN ORANGE SKIN FOOD...A rich cream that banishes wrinkles. $1, $1.75, $2.75, $4.25, $8.
- VENETIAN VELVA CREAM...Smooths and refines without fattening. $1, $2, $3, $6.
- ARDENA PROTECTA CREAM...Safeguards the delicacy of the skin in spite of exposure to the sun. Dilute with Ardena Skin Tonic and apply always before going out in the sun. White, Naturelle, Bronze and Rachel Tube. $2.50, Jar, $3.

ELIZABETH ARDEN
691 FIFTH AVENUE • NEW YORK

LONDON PARIS • BERLIN • ROME • MADRID

Elizabeth Arden's Venetian Toilet Preparations are on sale at FAMOUS-BARR CO. JOSEPH MASERANG DRUGS CO.
SCRUGGS-VANDERVOORT-BARNEY DRY GOODS CO.
STIX, BAER AND FULLER COMPANY

The Post-Dispatch offers readers a far larger number of rooms for rent than are listed in all the other St. Louis Newspapers combined. It is the recognized renting medium in St. Louis.

BETROTHED

MISS BARBARA JANE MESSING,
DAUGHTER OF Mr. and Mrs.
Roswell Messing, 5374 Delmar boulevard, whose engagement to Maurice Lionel Hirsch of St.
Louis, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H.
Hirsch of Long Island, N. Y., has been announced.

'FOUR HORSEMEN' FAR IN LEAD

To Close Contract Bridge Match
With Cavendish Club Team Today.
By the Associated Press.
ELBERTON, N. J., June 27.—
P. Hal Sims' "four horsemen" have rolled up a 3445 to a total of able lead over the Cavendish Club contract bridge team, led by Harold S. Vanderbilt. In the third session of their match last night, the "four horsemen" increased their lead by 3445 to a total of 6260. One hundred and twenty boards have been played, leaving 40 to be played in the concluding session today.

Sims and Willard Karn won a total of 2375 points against Vanderbilt and Waldemar von Zedtwitz last night. David Burnstone and Howard Schenken were plus 570, against Jean Matthews and Raymond Balfe.

Police Matron Fay Dies.
Mrs. Angie B. Fay, for 10 years
a matron in the Police Department, died of heart disease yesterday at her home, 2085 East Grand boulevard. She was 64 years old. Funeral services will be held at 3:30
a. m. tomorrow at Collins' undertaking establishment, 928 East
Grand boulevard.

Tours arranged and conducted by Burlington Route Colorado

Denver, Colorado
Springs, and the Royal Gorge
Leaving St. Louis Saturdays
July 2, 30, Aug. 13, Sept. 3
5 days
as low as 35.65

Including railroad fare, meals on trains and in Colorado, accommodations at first-class hotels, motor trips.

Other Bargains All-Expense Plan 8 to 12 day Tours

On eight Saturdays this Summer
Various combinations including Denver, Royal Gorge, Colorado Springs, Manitou, Pikes Peak Region, Rocky Mountain National Park, and Black Hills of South Dakota.

Send this coupon to:
Mr. C. B. Ogil, General Agent
Burlington Railroad, St. Louis, Mo.
416 Locust St. Phone Central 6348
Dept. PD-49
Please send me free folder and full details about the Special Bargain Tours to Colorado and the Black Hills.

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____

A Story for Children

Daily in the Post-Dispatch
Daily Magazine

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

MISS HELEN KIRTLAND
SPENCER, daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Horatio Nelson Spencer, 4324 McPherson avenue, will be married to Sherwood Clarke
Chatfield, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Chatfield of Brooklyn, N. Y., at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon.

The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride's parents.
The guests will include only the families and a few close friends.
The Rev. Dr. William Haackell du Boise of Sewanee, Tenn., uncle of the bride, will officiate. Green velvet draperies covered with cybodium and asparagus fern have been hung in the windows of the living room to form a background for the improvised altar decorated with baskets of Easter lilies and white larkspur and illuminated with tall white tapers in wrought iron candela. The bridesmaids have been garlanded with ferns, and from the newest post, topped with bakets of spring flowers, a white satin ribbon aisle will lead to the altar. The house will be further decorated with baskets of pink gardenia and pink larkspur.

The bride will wear an empire period gown of deep ivory peau d'ange lace over ivory-tinted crepe.
The lace of the bodice is draped high to form the new neckline popular this season, and there are long sleeves, open at the elbow and falling from the arm in loose draperies. The high waistline is defined by an inverted peplum, flares slightly and terminates in a short train. The ivory tint of the gown is accentuated by the tulle veil tinted to a deeper shade, arranged to drape over the head and fastened with orange blossoms. She will carry lilies of the valley.

Miss Harriet Spencer will be her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Barbara Fort of East Orange, N. J., a former classmate at Vassar College, bridesmaid. William Church of Nantucket, Mass., will be best man, and Robert Wilson of Brooklyn groomsman.

The young women will wear chif-fon. Miss Spencer is in pink and Miss Fort in powder blue. The gowns are designed with petal skirts, flaring beneath close fitting hip lines, cowl necks and short puffed sleeves.
There are girdles of pink and blue tulle ending in two bows and long streamers. Their hats are blue hair braids trimmed with wreaths of pink roses. They will carry pink and purple larkspur and blue delphinium.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony. Mr. Chatfield and his bride will live in Brooklyn after their wedding trip. Several from out of town arrived a few days ago for the ceremony. Mr.
Chatfield and his attendants have been visiting the bride's uncle, Scott Hancock, 4322 McPherson avenue, and his daughters, Miss Dean and Miss Elizabeth Hancock; Miss Fort, Miss Annette Rogers and her brother, Ralph Rogers, both of Clinton, N. Y., are with Mr. and Mrs. Spencer and Dr. and Mrs. du Boise are visiting Dr. Selden Spencer and Mrs. Laura Spencer Edmunds, 4425 McPherson avenue.

The bride was educated at Mary Institution before completing her studies at Vassar College. She is a member of the Junior League. Mr.
Chatfield attended the Cathedral
School in Washington and is a graduate of Hamilton College, New York.

Major Alden Brown of the Missouri Military at Mexico, Mo., with Mrs. Brown and their two children, have taken the house at 68 Vandever place which was occupied until recently by Mrs. John Beverly Robinson. They came to St.
Louis last week and will remain until school opens in the fall. Major Brown is a brother of Mrs. Edward
F. Goltz, 4437 Lindell boulevard, and Mrs. J. Dwight Dana, 54
Kingsbury place.

Col. and Mrs. Pegram Whitworth and their son, Pegram Jr., departed yesterday by motor for Fort
Sam Houston, Tex., where Col.
Whitworth will be Chief of Staff of the Second Division. He has been Commandant at Jefferson
Barracks for two and a half years.
Col. Walter Krueger, the new Jefferson Barracks Commandant, and Mrs. Krueger, have arrived and will take possession of their quarters next week. Their daughter,
Miss Dorothy, is visiting in Kansas
City and will be here soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hitchcock sailed Thursday on the Monarch of Bermuda to spend their honeymoon in Bermuda. After their return they will live for the summer at the Hoblitzelle home, 6450 Ellenwood avenue. Mrs. Hitchcock was Miss Eleanor Hoblitzelle, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George K.
Hoblitzelle. The marriage took place Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie W. Lyon, 7415 Carleton avenue, and their son, Gaylord, are spending the summer at their camp, Minne-Wonka Lodge, Three Lakes, Wis. Miss Mary Catherine Ives, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ives, 415
Cabanne avenue; Miss Allison Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles
C. Jones Jr., 6903 Kingsbury boulevard; and Miss Katherine Palmer, 142 Linden avenue, Clayton, departed a few days ago to be counsels at the camp.

Miss Katherine Edwards and her brother, Richard Presley Edwards, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs.
J. C. Edwards of Webster Groves, have returned home from their colleges to spend the summer. Miss Edwards, who has completed her junior year at Stephens College, will enter the University of Missouri in the fall. Her brother is a student at the University of Missouri and is a member of Phi Delta Theta and three honorary engineering fraternities. He is president of the mechanical fraternity, Pi Tau Sigma, and is a delegate to the Tau Beta Pi convention to be held in Washington in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Henri R. Hender-vate schools in Chicago and the East, and at the University of Chicago. Mr. Dillon attended Washington University, and prior to leaving St. Louis last November was active in the Little Theater, having won the playwright contest with his play, "Zombie," last year. He is the son of Mrs. A. E.

Abeling of Porti, Ore., and a nephew of Miss Frances Creelius of 5804 Cates avenue.

The father of the bride, Thomas Wood Stevens, was director of the Little Theater of St. Louis last year. His home is in Santa Fe,
N. M.

Miss Phoebe Stev, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wood Stevens, was married at Ann Arbor, Mich., yesterday to Charles Dillon, formerly of St. Louis. The ceremony was performed at the summer home of the bride's father in Michigan. Members of both families and a few close friends were present. The Rev. Henry Lewis of St.
Andrew's Episcopal Church in Ann Arbor officiated. A breakfast followed.

The pair departed at once for
Chicago, where they will reside.
They plan a three weeks' trip to
New Mexico in August.

The bride was educated at pri-

DELIGHTFUL RIVER TRIPS
Over 4th July Away from heat
Up picturesque Mississippi through mammoth Kruskal Locks, over America's most beautiful inland lake.
Ft. Madison, Ia., $20.00
Lv. July 2, 3 p. m. Ret. July 3, 6 a. m.
Summer schedule effective July 30.
To Starved Rock Most alluring and highly scenic spot in the heart of Illinois. Within 70 miles of Chicago;
700 miles beautiful scenery. $20.50
Lv. Fri. 3 p. m. Ret. Mon. 11 p. m.
Lv. Tues. 4 p. m. Ret. Fri. 6 a. m.
For information and reservations
EAGLE PACKET CO., St. Louis, Mo.

Announcing

THE RE-OPENING OF THE PATIO
for the Summer season

Dining in a refreshingly cool, new Summer Restaurant in a Continental manner.

Luncheon.....85c
Dinner.....$1.50

Josef Faerber's Music
For Luncheon and Dinner every day

The Hotel Coronado
LUNELL BLVD. AT SPRING AVE.
DIRECTED BY PRESTON J. BRADSHAW

COLUMBUS RECEIVING ISABELLA'S JEWELS

Queen Isabella sold her jewels to finance the voyage to America.
Her confidence in Columbus resulted in the discovery of a new world.

WELL-PLACED CONFIDENCE

SAIN'T LOUIS' confidence in the sound management of the First National Bank has made this one of America's great banks—the largest bank in Saint Louis. . . . This position of leadership carries with it an obligation which this bank has gladly accepted—an obligation to render to its customers a greater measure of service—to return the confidence which they have expressed in this bank. . . . Through good times and bad times, the First National Bank has met this responsibility in a way that has helped to reflect credit on the stability of this community. . . .
Seventy-five years of experience, sound management and large resources have made this possible. Confidence in the future is directing the First National Bank in its efforts to provide the most complete and the most helpful banking service in Saint Louis.

1 St.
NATIONAL BANK

St. Louis' Largest Bank

Resources $190,000,000.00

BROADWAY • LOCUST • OLIVE

LOANS ON PERSONAL PROPERTY

The amount of your monthly payment is based on the amount of your loan, the term of the loan, and the interest rate. The interest rate is based on the creditworthiness of the borrower. The amount of your monthly payment is based on the amount of your loan, the term of the loan, and the interest rate. The interest rate is based on the creditworthiness of the borrower.

HOUSEHOLD
Finance Corporation
 810 AMBASSADOR BUILDING
 411 N. 7th St. Chgo. 60642
 300 N. OLIVE STREET Chgo. 60610
 Room 305, Third Fl. Chgo. 7231 (c14)

YOU CAN DO IT!
 You can solve any family financial problem with a "PERSONAL" loan. Monthly payments are small. The cost is low. Interest is 2% or less a month on unpaid balance.

PERSONAL FINANCE COMPANY
 baird

203 Prince St. and Olive Ave.
Phone: 474-1240
Wellston Office:
6200 Easton Ave., second floor,
State Bank Bldg. Phone MUlberry 0170
(cd)
MONEY TO LOAN—2 per Cent per month on your diamonds, watches or jewelry.
Dunn's, 912 Franklin. Established 1873.
(cd)

LOANS ON AUTOMOBILES

AUTO LOANS

14 Reasons Why
We Deserve Your Patronage

1. Largest, oldest Auto Loan Co. in city.

9. Great variety of merchandise.
10. Over 30,000 satisfied customers.
11. We loan more and charge less.
12. Car drives and bays to be sold fast.
13. No insiders needed.
14. You get the cash in 10 minutes.
15. We refinance your present payments.
16. We will advance you more money.
17. No charge for appraisal or information.
18. Lower interest and better terms.
19. Free parking, a treat lot, Open nights.
20. We are open 7 days a week, 11:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m.

WELFARE FINANCE CO.
1038 N. Grand Jeff. 9450
(c14)

AUTO LOANS

$100 OR MORE

WOLFE, BERENSON & VANDERKAM, REALTORS

100% FINANCING
ADDITIONAL MONEY ADVANCED
NO COMAKERS OR ENDORSERS
REQUIRED....PROMPT SERVICE

WE INVITE COMPARISON WITH OUR RATES

INDUSTRIAL LOAN COMPANY,
710 CHESTNUT 1466 HODIAMONT
(CL14)

---

Auto Loans

$25 to $1500

At low rates. Absolutely the best treatment in town. Ask anyone who has done it or is doing business with us now. It takes less than 5 minutes. No signs. Strictly confidential. If you owe money on your car or truck, we will pay off your debt. No wage, advance you more money and make your payment to suit your income. Pay as you drive. We are open weekdays and Sundays for your convenience.

GUARANTY MOTOR CORP.

2936 Locust St. Jeff. 2464
(C-1)

AUTO LOANS

Courteous Service—Reasonable Rates.

ST. CLAIR LOAN CO.
3321 Lindell. 3323 Locust.
(c80)

AUTO LOANS
NO LOANS TOO LARGE
Just starting and we will appreciate your business. We refinance autos and trucks, advance you more money and reduce your payments. No indorsees; confidential & minute service. Open evenings, FR. 1932.
LOCAL FINANCE CORP.
N. W. Cor. Grand and Page
(c14)

AUTO LOANS

Cash in 5 minutes. Your present note reduced to easier payments.
UNIVERSITY FINANCE CO.
Four Convenient Locations
3864 Easton Av. 4160 Olive St.
6518 W. Florissant 2516 S. Jefferson
Open Evenings (r-14)
AUTO LOANS
$25 to $1000
AUTO FINANCE CO.
3214 Locust Open Evenings Jeff. 3423 (r-14)
AUTO LOANS—MINUTE, LOW RATES.
OPEN EVENINGS, 3214 LOCUST, ST. LOUIS.
(MONEY loaned on any make, exp. any time; also bought. Klink, 2248 S. Grand.
(c8)

BUNGALOWS AND COTTAGES
For Sale

South

GARCONADE, 28x-- 8-room, St. Anthony and Resurrection parishes. ERespect 1818.

Southwest

CAN'T BE BEAT

8-room and fern room bungalow.
9451 Odell Av.; 5 years old; lot 61x
150; very nice; 2 car garage; crafts table; porch front and side. Must sell: $3250; terms. (c2)

FARMS FOR SALE

Missouri

60 ACRES virgin land, on hard road and

FINANCIAL

LOANS ON REAL ESTATE

MONEY LOANED—$100,000 on improved real estate at lowest interest; advanced on rents, steady deeds of trust.

J. B. CLARK & SONS, 814 Chestnut st.
Pho. 2-5697

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

BUSINESS FOR SALE

BARBECUE STAND—Bargain, $101 Longmont St., La Grange. (CJ)

CIGARETTE SHOP—Margin if sold at once, $1000 cash. Call for details.

WATER POTENTIALITY—For sale or lease; large tract.

rain. 2422 N. Jefferson. (21)
DELICATESSEN—Good location; have other business. Call after 4:1725 S. 11th
 3456 Arsenal. (21)
GROCERY AND MEAT MARKET—Cheap.
 3456 Arsenal. (21)
NEWLY STORE—Small stock and low prices. Box G-11, Post-Dispatch. (21)
ANCHROOM—Carniel, Krings, and family; meat to theater. 4219
 14th. (21)
SANDWICH SHOP—Mountain service; good food; home-made; good equipment; long lease; good rent. Quick sale. Box 2, Post-Dispatch. (21)

STOCK LIST

HIGHER BEAR MARKET LOW LEVELS

TODAY'S NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

(COMPLETE) SPECIAL ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE

LOCAL STOCK TRADE IS EXTREMELY QUIET

EARNINGS AND DIVIDENDS

GRAIN FUTURES CLOSE LOWER AFTER ADVANCE

GOVERNMENT'S FIRM MODERATELY

Selling Lets Up a Little in Late Trading but Closing Tone Is Weak With Numerous Losses of 1 to More Than 3 Points.

STOCK PRICE TREND.
Number of advances... 67
Number of declines... 107
Stocks unchanged... 135
Total issues traded... 511

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 27.—The stock market slipped through support lines in an early afternoon selling flurry today, which reduced the cyclical low of June 1. Selling let up a little in the late trading, but the closing tone was weak, with numerous losses of 1 to more than 3 points. The turnover approximated 800,000 shares.

Selling was somewhat selective. American Can, a weak feature last week, advanced and closed unchanged, apparently reflecting short covering. The list stiffened a little in the morning, as some of the commodities moved upward, but sold off sharply after. Norfolk & Western dropped 2 1/2 points to a 25-year low at 57, and the stock market preferred dropped nearly five to a new low under 52. Coca-Cola, Eastman and Westinghouse Electric dropped a little above the lowest. Allied Chemical, Corn Products, Public Service of New Jersey and Union Pacific closed down two points. American Telephone and State Steel, American Television and Santa Fe declined more than a point to new lows.

The Japanese yen was a weak feature in foreign currencies, losing nearly a cent, which reduced it to a new low under 27. The Finance Minister was quoted to the effect no effort was being made at stabilization. The leading European currencies were narrowly changed, with the gold currencies mostly a shade higher.

Dividend Meetings Ahead.
Norfolk & Western dividend meeting for adjustment preferred is scheduled for tomorrow, but action on common is not due until July.

The road is one of the few that has not yet cut its regular annual rate, which is 4 1/2 cents. Last year's earnings exceeded $14 a share. Extra of $2 were ordered both last year and in 1930.

Santa Fe directors are also scheduled to meet tomorrow. American Can and Allied Chemical directors also are expected to meet. Westinghouse Electric directors are scheduled to meet Wednesday.

With these dividends out of the way, the market will have something of a breathing spell so far as question of disbursements to stockholders in leading companies are concerned.

Days 10 Most Active Stocks.
Sales, closing price and net change of the 10 most active stocks today follow: U. S. Steel, 31,000, 21 1/2, down 1/4; Am Can, 26,000, 30 1/4, down 1/4; Con Ed, 26,000, 30 1/4, down 1/4; Du Pont, 26,000, 24 1/4, down 1/4; Am Tel & Elec, 25,000, 16 1/4, down 1/4; Gen Westinghouse, 23,000, 16 1/4, down 1/4; Union Carbide, 13,000, 14 1/4, down 1/4; Allied Chem, 13,000, 43 1/4, down 1/4; Am Tob, 17,000, 43 1/4, down 1/4.

Stocks and Bonds	High	Low	Close	Change
Admiral	10 1/2	10 1/4	10 1/4	1/4
Alcoa	21 1/2	21 1/4	21 1/4	1/4
Am Can	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Am Tel & Elec	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Con Ed	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Du Pont	24 1/4	24 1/4	24 1/4	0
Gen Westinghouse	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Union Carbide	14 1/4	14 1/4	14 1/4	0
Allied Chem	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0
Am Tob	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
Dow Jones Industrial	228.12	228.12	228.12	228.12	228.12	228.12
Standard & Poor's	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12
NYSE Composite	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12
Amex Composite	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12
NYSE-AMEX Composite	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12
NYSE-AMEX Composite	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12	114.12

STOCKS AND BONDS	High	Low	Close	Change
Admiral	10 1/2	10 1/4	10 1/4	1/4
Alcoa	21 1/2	21 1/4	21 1/4	1/4
Am Can	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Am Tel & Elec	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Con Ed	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Du Pont	24 1/4	24 1/4	24 1/4	0
Gen Westinghouse	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Union Carbide	14 1/4	14 1/4	14 1/4	0
Allied Chem	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0
Am Tob	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0

STOCKS AND BONDS	High	Low	Close	Change
Admiral	10 1/2	10 1/4	10 1/4	1/4
Alcoa	21 1/2	21 1/4	21 1/4	1/4
Am Can	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Am Tel & Elec	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Con Ed	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Du Pont	24 1/4	24 1/4	24 1/4	0
Gen Westinghouse	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Union Carbide	14 1/4	14 1/4	14 1/4	0
Allied Chem	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0
Am Tob	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0

ST. LOUIS STOCKS	High	Low	Close	Change
Admiral	10 1/2	10 1/4	10 1/4	1/4
Alcoa	21 1/2	21 1/4	21 1/4	1/4
Am Can	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Am Tel & Elec	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Con Ed	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Du Pont	24 1/4	24 1/4	24 1/4	0
Gen Westinghouse	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Union Carbide	14 1/4	14 1/4	14 1/4	0
Allied Chem	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0
Am Tob	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0

ST. LOUIS STOCKS	High	Low	Close	Change
Admiral	10 1/2	10 1/4	10 1/4	1/4
Alcoa	21 1/2	21 1/4	21 1/4	1/4
Am Can	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Am Tel & Elec	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Con Ed	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Du Pont	24 1/4	24 1/4	24 1/4	0
Gen Westinghouse	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Union Carbide	14 1/4	14 1/4	14 1/4	0
Allied Chem	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0
Am Tob	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0

ST. LOUIS STOCKS	High	Low	Close	Change
Admiral	10 1/2	10 1/4	10 1/4	1/4
Alcoa	21 1/2	21 1/4	21 1/4	1/4
Am Can	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Am Tel & Elec	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Con Ed	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Du Pont	24 1/4	24 1/4	24 1/4	0
Gen Westinghouse	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Union Carbide	14 1/4	14 1/4	14 1/4	0
Allied Chem	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0
Am Tob	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0

ST. LOUIS STOCKS	High	Low	Close	Change
Admiral	10 1/2	10 1/4	10 1/4	1/4
Alcoa	21 1/2	21 1/4	21 1/4	1/4
Am Can	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Am Tel & Elec	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Con Ed	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Du Pont	24 1/4	24 1/4	24 1/4	0
Gen Westinghouse	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Union Carbide	14 1/4	14 1/4	14 1/4	0
Allied Chem	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0
Am Tob	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, June 27.—The stock market slipped through support lines in an early afternoon selling flurry today, which reduced the cyclical low of June 1. Selling let up a little in the late trading, but the closing tone was weak, with numerous losses of 1 to more than 3 points. The turnover approximated 800,000 shares.

Selling was somewhat selective. American Can, a weak feature last week, advanced and closed unchanged, apparently reflecting short covering. The list stiffened a little in the morning, as some of the commodities moved upward, but sold off sharply after. Norfolk & Western dropped 2 1/2 points to a 25-year low at 57, and the stock market preferred dropped nearly five to a new low under 52. Coca-Cola, Eastman and Westinghouse Electric dropped a little above the lowest. Allied Chemical, Corn Products, Public Service of New Jersey and Union Pacific closed down two points. American Telephone and State Steel, American Television and Santa Fe declined more than a point to new lows.

The Japanese yen was a weak feature in foreign currencies, losing nearly a cent, which reduced it to a new low under 27. The Finance Minister was quoted to the effect no effort was being made at stabilization. The leading European currencies were narrowly changed, with the gold currencies mostly a shade higher.

Dividend Meetings Ahead.
Norfolk & Western dividend meeting for adjustment preferred is scheduled for tomorrow, but action on common is not due until July.

The road is one of the few that has not yet cut its regular annual rate, which is 4 1/2 cents. Last year's earnings exceeded $14 a share. Extra of $2 were ordered both last year and in 1930.

Santa Fe directors are also scheduled to meet tomorrow. American Can and Allied Chemical directors also are expected to meet. Westinghouse Electric directors are scheduled to meet Wednesday.

With these dividends out of the way, the market will have something of a breathing spell so far as question of disbursements to stockholders in leading companies are concerned.

Days 10 Most Active Stocks.
Sales, closing price and net change of the 10 most active stocks today follow: U. S. Steel, 31,000, 21 1/2, down 1/4; Am Can, 26,000, 30 1/4, down 1/4; Con Ed, 26,000, 30 1/4, down 1/4; Du Pont, 26,000, 24 1/4, down 1/4; Am Tel & Elec, 25,000, 16 1/4, down 1/4; Gen Westinghouse, 23,000, 16 1/4, down 1/4; Union Carbide, 13,000, 14 1/4, down 1/4; Allied Chem, 13,000, 43 1/4, down 1/4; Am Tob, 17,000, 43 1/4, down 1/4.

STOCKS AND BONDS	High	Low	Close	Change
Admiral	10 1/2	10 1/4	10 1/4	1/4
Alcoa	21 1/2	21 1/4	21 1/4	1/4
Am Can	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Am Tel & Elec	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Con Ed	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Du Pont	24 1/4	24 1/4	24 1/4	0
Gen Westinghouse	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Union Carbide	14 1/4	14 1/4	14 1/4	0
Allied Chem	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0
Am Tob	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0

STOCKS AND BONDS	High	Low	Close	Change
Admiral	10 1/2	10 1/4	10 1/4	1/4
Alcoa	21 1/2	21 1/4	21 1/4	1/4
Am Can	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Am Tel & Elec	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Con Ed	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Du Pont	24 1/4	24 1/4	24 1/4	0
Gen Westinghouse	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Union Carbide	14 1/4	14 1/4	14 1/4	0
Allied Chem	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0
Am Tob	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0

STOCKS AND BONDS	High	Low	Close	Change
Admiral	10 1/2	10 1/4	10 1/4	1/4
Alcoa	21 1/2	21 1/4	21 1/4	1/4
Am Can	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Am Tel & Elec	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Con Ed	30 1/4	30 1/4	30 1/4	0
Du Pont	24 1/4	24 1/4	24 1/4	0
Gen Westinghouse	16 1/4	16 1/4	16 1/4	0
Union Carbide	14 1/4	14 1/4	14 1/4	0
Allied Chem	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0
Am Tob	43 1/4	43 1/4	43 1/4	0

W 5 1/2	45	5 1/2	5 1/2	0
Cal Ed 2	13	12 3/4	12 3/4	0
Genl 2	13	12 3/4	12 3/4	0
Gr Mid	10	9 3/4	9 3/4	0
Gr Mid	10	9 3/4	9 3/4	0
Invest	3	2 3/4	2 3/4	0
Lea 2	13	12 3/4	12 3/4	0
Sec Ind	23	22 3/4	22 3/4	0
Sec Ind	23	22 3/4	22 3/4	0
Web	13	12 3/4	12 3/4	0
Web	13	12 3/4	12 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4	0 3/4	0
Or Oil	1	0 3/4

Stray Cats "Without a Country." JEFFERSON CITY, June 27.—Stray cats are regarded by the State Game and Fish Departments as animals "without a country." Under the law, a stray cat is classed as a predatory animal and can be dealt with summarily as an outlaw.

THE ONLY BUSES WITH Porter Service

FREE PILLOWS—personal porter service, reclining chairs, thru express and careful drivers, are features of this—the only system specializing in long distance bus travel!

LOWEST FARES—SAVE 25% to most points in U. S. or Canada.

St. Louis to Chicago $7.50—Columbus $12.50
St. Louis to Detroit $10.00—Pittsburgh $15.00
St. Louis to Cleveland $15.00—Columbus $12.50

ALL-EXPENSE TOURS to
WASHINGTON $4.00 — NEW YORK $5.00
Phone Central 6185 and 6186, 6A 0622
SHORT LINE TERMINALS
1728 OLIVE BOULEVARD,
600 WALNUT ST.

Short Line System
GREAT EASTERN STAGES

U. S. HERO OF CANTIGNY DIES

Gen. F. E. Bamford, Who Was Killed by Pershing, Succumbs. By the Associated Press. CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., June 27.—Gen. F. E. Bamford, 69 years old, hero of the Battle of Cantigny, died here today.

All-Expense Tours Niagara Falls Toronto
CLEVELAND AND DETROIT
July 16, Aug. 6 and Sept. 3
5 Days $39.50

Includes railroad and steamer transportation; complete sightseeing trips at Cleveland, Niagara Falls, Toronto and Detroit; 110-mile lake trip—dinner—swimming.

Niagara Falls $20.00 Round Trip
July 16, Aug. 6 and Sept. 3
Return Limit 16 Days
Good in sleeping and parlor cars on payment Pullman charges.
Complete information and literature at City Ticket Office, 520 N. Broadway, phone Main 1221.

with the American Expeditionary Forces during the war, died suddenly today.

Gen. Pershing paid high tribute to Gen. Bamford in his book on the war. Gen. Bamford was retired from the army, and for the past 10 years has lived in West Virginia. He is a native of Maryland. His widow, formerly Martha Byrd of Richmond, Va., survives.

Elected Head of Saengerbund. By the Associated Press. ST. PAUL, Minn., June 27.—Albert C. Wehrwein of Chicago yesterday was elected president of the Saengerbund, sponsors of the twenty-ninth Northwest Saengerfest, which closed here yesterday with an open air concert. Several thousand and Northwest singers participated. Delegates to the Saengerbund voted to admit women to membership for the first time.

ADVERTISING

Nurse Tells Secret of Quick Relief From Itching Skin

A nurse from a large hospital says for happy relief from the itching tortures of eczema, rashes, eruptions, scales and many other skin troubles, apply Dr. Dennis' pure cooling, liquid antiseptic D. D. D. Prescription. Its gentle oils penetrate the skin, helping to soothe and heal the inflamed tissues. Clear and stainless—dries up almost immediately. Thirty years' success recommend this famous remedy. It is the very first application of D. D. D. Prescription does not stop the most intense itching—your money back. See All druggists.

CATHOLIC GROUPS STONED, BEATEN IN NORTHERN IRELAND

Continued From Page One.

escort of torchbearers and a military guard.

Next came the 10 Cardinals and their ministers, the Princes of the church in the robes of their rank. Behind them followed the Archbishops, the Bishops, the Lord Abbots and other prelates. Then came a choir.

De Valera in March.

After these came the Ministers of State, headed by President Eamon de Valera of the Irish Free State and the Earl Eireann and Senate. Then representatives from Ulster, Papal nobility, the diplomatic corps, Irish officials and last the thousands of women.

As the leaders of the four columns reached the bridgehead the procession halted and four hymns were sung. Then the benediction was said—in Latin at the altar, in English at the microphone—and the 17-mile long procession broke into the "Adoremus."

After the Papal benediction and the legate's farewell, the great congregation, densely massed far back into the seven street centering at the bridge, broke into the hymns "God Bless Our Pope," "Hail, Glorious St. Patrick," and "Faith of Our Fathers."

A fanfare of trumpets rang through the still hushed streets. Priests began taking off their surplices. The crowds strained at the military barriers. The Congress was over.

FINGER PRINTS OF MISSING EX-CONVICT SENT TO ARKANSAS

Will Be Checked in Attempt to Identify Body As That of Clyde Bailey.

Finger prints of Clyde Bailey, a former convict, who was shot to death and his body thrown into the Mississippi River from the Free Bridge on June 17, according to the confession of Orville Turley, an escaped life term convict, have been sent to Luna, Ark., where a body believed to be that of Bailey was recovered last Saturday.

The body at Luna is that of a man about 40 years old, who had been shot over the right eye. According to the confession of Turley, who was arrested here and sent to Detroit on charges of swindling telegraph companies of $14,500 through wire tapping, Bailey was shot in an automobile on an Illinois highway about 30 miles from St. Louis following a quarrel over a division of the spoils from the wire tapping swindle.

Bailey, who served a term in an Ohio prison for manslaughter, is described as 30 years old, 6 feet tall, weighing 155 pounds, with blond hair and blue eyes. St. Louis police have not received a detailed description of the body recovered in Arkansas.

MISSING NAVY FLYERS FOUND

Americans Land Plane Safely on Mexican Soil.

By the Associated Press. EL PASO, Tex., June 27.—Lieut. F. M. Nichols, one of two navy flyers for whom a 24-hour search was conducted, arrived in Juarez late yesterday and said their plane was landed safely Saturday at Gallegos, Chihuahua, Mexico. Gallegos is 160 miles from El Paso.

Nichols went to Juarez, across the Rio Grande from El Paso, by train. He said his companion, Lieut. Edward E. Arroyo, was left in charge of the plane. The plane, one of six being flown from San Diego, Cal., to Hampton Roads, Va., was separated from the others in a mountain cloud bank. The flyers were technically under arrest for landing on Mexican soil without permission and the plane was subject to seizure. Daniel Duarte, chief of the Immigration Service in Juarez, conferred with Mexican military authorities to find some method of releasing the plane and its pilots.

TWO TO TAKE OFF WEDNESDAY ON FLIGHT AROUND WORLD

James Mattern and Bennett Griffen Hope to Break Record of Post and Gatty.

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, June 27.—James Mattern of Fort Worth, Tex., and Bennett Griffen of Oklahoma City plan to take off from Floyd Bennett Airport Wednesday on a globe-encircling flight in which they hope to break the record of eight days and 15 hours, established last year by Wiley Post and Harold Gatty.

Their monoplane will carry ice indicators and seven gasoline tanks, six of which formerly were in the Winnie Mae, the monoplane used by Post and Gatty. The ship has a 550-horsepower super-charged motor.

Their itinerary will be: Harbor Grace, N. F. Ireland, England, Netherlands, Berlin, Moscow, Omsk, Novo Sibirsk and Yakutsk, Siberia; Fairbanks, Alaska, Edmonton, Alta., and New York.

Steamship Movements.

Arrived:
New York, June 27, Carinthia, from Liverpool.
New York, June 27, Belgeland, Antwerp.
New York, June 27, Westernland, Antwerp via Halifax.
New York, June 27, American Trader, London.
New York, June 27, Frederik VIII, Copenhagen via Halifax.
New York, June 27, Paris, Havre.
Rotterdam, June 26, Statendam, New York.
Glasgow, June 27, Transylvania, New York.

Sailed:
Hamburg, June 25, City of Hamburg, for Baltimore.
Dublin, June 26, Laconia, New York.
Bergen, June 26, Bergensfjord, New York.

R. T. WOOD SAYS CONGRESS IS LACKING IN VISION

Head of State Federation and Candidate for National House Addresses Central Trades.

Reuben T. Wood of Springfield, president of the State Federation of Labor and Democratic candidate for Congress, assailed Congress as "having less vision than any other legislative body in the world," in a speech yesterday at the semi-monthly meeting of the Central Trades and Labor Union at Carpenter's Hall, Grand boulevard and Cosens avenue.

The union group appointed a committee of five to co-operate with the executive board of the State Federation of Labor in the endorsement of candidates favorable to organized labor.

Wood said the sales taxes included in the new Federal revenue bill were a burden on the working class. He thought the large sums being lent through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to railroads, already heavily mortgaged, could have been used to better advantage if lent to farmers.

Immediate modification of the Volstead act and repeal of the eighteenth amendment were advocated by Wood.

Dies Day After Wife. MILWAUKEE, June 27.—Fredrick C. Morehouse, 64 years old, editor of the Living Church, religious weekly, and many years vigorous champion of the Anglo-Catholic faction of the Episcopal Church, died at his home last night. His wife, Mrs. Lillian Macdon Morehouse, died Friday on the forty-first anniversary of their marriage.

DOUBLE WEDDING AT REVIVAL

Four Preachers Married at Yellville, Ark.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. YELLVILLE, Ark., June 27.—An Apostolic revival ended with a general wedding when four of the preachers were married, while other preachers performed the ceremony and looked on.

The contracting parties were Rev. Coy Nicholson of Oklahoma and the Rev. Ruth Medley of Yellville, and the Rev. W. E. C. Ham and the Rev. Jewell C. son, both of Oklahoma.

SALE OF STRAWS

ON SALE TUESDAY

A BIG SPECIAL PURCHASE 89c & $1 VALUES, ALL SIZES

The most wanted styles and straws, plain or fancy bands. All sizes.

39c

MEN'S $2 & $3 STRAW HATS $1
All Styles and Sizes

WHITE STAR LINE

INTERNATIONAL MERCANTILE MARINE COMPANY

Company's Office, 1100 Locust St., St. Louis, Mo. MAin 1190

Santa Fe

SUMMER XCURSIONS

Cut THE COST

■ Santa Fe travel experts have worked on the problem of—

■ How can people go farthest and see the most on the least money, during their vacation. They have the answer.

■ You will be amazed how much you can see—even in two weeks.

■ California—Hollywood—Olympic Games—Agua Caliente—Yosemite and Big Trees; Colorado Rockies, New Mexico, Arizona, Grand Canyon, Indian-dancers. Other National Parks.

■ All-expense escorted Tours on certain dates.

May we send you our Vacation Folder?

R. H. DALLAS, General Agent
SANTA FE RY.
236 Arcade Bldg., ST. LOUIS, MO.
Phone: Chestnut 7130-7131

The INDIAN-DETOURS GRAND CANYON LINE

Your Business Is Buying for Less, That's Why We Get Together!

CAMPBELL'S TOMATO JUICE

Drink It for Health!—Chill and Serve for Breakfast.

3 Tall Cans 20c

LIBBY'S RED Salmon
Tall Can 25c

KRISPY CRACKERS
2 PKGS. 19c,
SUNSHINE—CRISP FRESH

LIBBY'S Sliced Pineapple
2 Large No. 2 1/2 Cans 33c
Aristocrat French Dressing 1/2 Pt. Bot. 19c

U. S. GOV'T INSPECTED MEATS

STEAKS

Flavorful? You Bet They Are—Tender, Too! Loin or Round. LB. 27c

City Chicken Legs Lb. 30c
Tender Choice Quality Meat

Baked Hams 27c
Whole or Half Lb.
Center Slices, Pound, 39c

Cheese 2 Lbs. 29c
Finest Flavor
Longhorn—at a Real Low Price

Hot Tamales 3 Cans 59c
20-Oz. Cans—Try Them for a Change

Bacon Sliced Lb. 22c
Piggly Wiggly Fine Grade

Plate Beef Lb. 6c
Fine for Boiling or Stew

Hams Lb. 12 1/2c
Whole or Half
Armour's Star Skinned

Ham Slices Lb. 27c
Center Cuts—Delicious!

PALMOLIVE SOAP

3 Bars 19c

Palmolive Beads, Pkg. 5c

New Potatoes
10 Lbs. 19c
Southern Triumphs

FREE ONE CAN SUNBRIT GLANSER
With Purchase of 1 Pkg. Quick Arrow Soap Chips 20c

PIGGLY WIGGLY

Smart luxury to Europe

OLYMPIC MAJESTIC

(WORLD'S LARGEST SHIP)

FIRST CLASS now $192 and $200
Minimum—according to ship

This year you can economize even in the luxury of First Class on these great ships the celebrities choose. Rooms with bath may be had for as little as $212. For many accommodations you pay only half the price of last year—and for the same luxury and the same unsurpassed service and cuisine.

Express service de luxe to Cherbourg for France and Southampton for England—with calls at Plymouth, as scheduled.

Special call at Plymouth, fastest route to London, saving you practically an extra day.

Tourist fares as low as $103 one way. Round trip $181 (up). Entire former Second Class now Tourist. Round trip in a little less than 7 days—5 days in Europe.

Apply to your local agent, the travel authority in your community, or to

WET WASH ANY DAY
MINIMUM $1
With Flat Work Dry Ironed, Any Day 7c

Flat work neatly ironed and pressed. Soft collars, handkerchiefs, no charge. Shirts ironed 10c.

SPECIALS
Wed., Thurs., Fri. and Sat.
WET WASH 14lbs. 70c
Flat work neatly ironed and pressed. Soft collars, handkerchiefs, no charge. Shirts ironed 10c.

Jefferson
3650
3651
3652
3653
3654

SALE QUALITY WORK AT LOWER PRICES!

USING IVORY SOAP EXCLUSIVELY

SHIRTS FINISHED...10c

FAMILY WET WASH LAUNDRY

BARNEY'S

MAIN STORE 10th & WASHINGTON

SOUTH SIDE BRANCH 2639 41 CHEROKEE

WELLSTON BRANCH 6202-04-06 EASTON

WET WASH ANY DAY
MINIMUM $1
With Flat Work Dry Ironed, Any Day 7c

Flat work neatly ironed and pressed. Soft collars, handkerchiefs, no charge. Shirts ironed 10c.

SPECIALS
Wed., Thurs., Fri. and Sat.
WET WASH 14lbs. 70c
Flat work neatly ironed and pressed. Soft collars, handkerchiefs, no charge. Shirts ironed 10c.

SALE OF STRAWS

ON SALE TUESDAY

A BIG SPECIAL PURCHASE 89c & $1 VALUES, ALL SIZES

The most wanted styles and straws, plain or fancy bands. All sizes.

39c

MEN'S $2 & $3 STRAW HATS $1
All Styles and Sizes

$3 ARCH SUPPORT FOOTWEAR

Soft, durable, black kid, in straps or ties. Built for comfort as well as style. One of the most outstanding values of the season. Tuesday, a pair

$1.29

BOYS' AND GIRLS' $1.89 SUMMER FOOTWEAR. SIZES TO 2. PAIR 99c

CAMPING AND OUTING SUPPLIES

$57 PULLMAN TENTS, WITH COTS, $19.75

$12.50 WALL TENTS, KAKI, 7x7 FT., $7.95

$3.95 KAKI PUP TENTS, COMPLETE, $1.95

CANVAS FOLDING COTS, ARMY STYLE, $1.50

HOT OR COLD JUGS, GALLON SIZE, 65c

$3.00 KAKI CAMP BLANKETS, NOW $1.50

AUTO FOLDING LUGGAGE CARRIER, 59c

Popular Comics News Photo

MONDAY, JUNE 27, 1932

Senator Thomas J. Watson of Georgia, who may be called upon to succeed President Hoover.

JEVELT $5 AND $10.00 SPECIAL AGUE QUARTERS

Signa tial nation

SIGNING T

Jean Harlow, screen voice of intention

Baby kangaroo on pier in Atlant

MONDAY, JUNE 27, 1932.

MONDAY, JUNE 27, 1932.

PAGE 1D

Camera Sidelights at the Democratic National Convention

Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, (on right) chairman of the memorable Democratic convention of 1924, who may be called upon to serve in that capacity again.

Gov. Ritchie of Maryland and his personal board of strategy—Robert Ennis, on left, and Mayor Howard W. Jackson of Baltimore, on right.

Senator Huey Long of Louisiana telling the Credentials Committee all about the trouble in his State with rival factions claiming seats on the convention floor.

Signs of battle—and also of rival candidates for the Presidential nomination. This view was taken in the hotel where the national committee has its headquarters.

And in the corridors—here is where the cohorts of the rival candidates do most of their electioneering, while keeping a weather eye on the other man's forces of persuasion.

Gov. Parnell of Arkansas looking things over.

Building at Jefferson avenue and Adams street recently opened for use.

SIGNING THE LEGAL DOCUMENTS

Jean Harlow, screen actress, and her fiance, Paul Bern, filing notice of intention to wed in Los Angeles.

ROTARY'S NEW HEAD

Clinton P. Anderson of Albuquerque, N. M., chosen president of international organization at Seattle convention.

ST. LOUISANS OFF FOR FOREIGN TOUR

Mrs. Alfred H. Murphy and Mrs. Robert H. Keiser photographed on steamer about to sail for long vacation in Europe and Africa.

NATURE'S RUMBLE SEAT

Baby kangaroo occupying its pouch as the mother kangaroo docilely posed for a photograph on pier in Atlantic City, N. J.

NEW BATH HOUSE FOR NEGROES

Building at Jefferson avenue and Adams street recently opened for use.

preachers were married, while the contracting parties were Rev. Coy Nicholson of Oklahoma and the Rev. Ruth Medley of Oklahoma, and the Rev. W. E. C. Ham and the Rev. Jewell N. son, both of Oklahoma.

WET WASH
ANY DAY Lb. 5
MINIMUM $1
With Flat Work
Ironed, Any Day 7
Flat work neatly ironed and folded. Soft collars, handkerchiefs ironed no charge. Shirts ironed 10c.
SPECIALS
Wed., Thurs., Fri. and Sat.
WET WASH
14lbs. Add. Lbs. 5c Lb. 70c
Flat work neatly ironed and folded. Soft collars, handkerchiefs ironed no charge. Shirts ironed 10c.
14lbs. Add. Lbs. 7c Lb. 98c

F STRAWS
The most wanted styles and straws, plain or fancy bands. All sizes.
CRASH GOES THE PRICE!
Special Purchase
VALUES, ALL SIZES
Men's $2 & $3
STRAW HATS $1
All Styles and Sizes

SUPPORT FOOTWEAR
All sizes for women and Misses. On Sale Tuesday, only.
29
S' $1.89 SUMMER 93
SIZES TO 2. PAIR 93

CAMPING AND OUTING SUPPLIES
TENTS, WITH COTS, $19.75
TENTS, KHAKI, 7x7 FT., $7.95
TENTS, COMPLETE, $1.98
COTS, ARMY STYLE, $1.59
JUGS, GALLON SIZE, 65c
MP BLANKETS, NOW $1.59
LUGGAGE CARRIER, 59c

RNEYS
MAIN STORE
WASHINGTON
ANCH 2639-41 CHEROKEE
ANCH 6202-04-06 EASTON

CHAPTER SEVEN.

At the age of ten I began to worry about my future. "For my part I would naturally like to make good artillerymen of my sons," my father used to say each time I spoke of my different plans, "but then you have your own life to live."

It sounded magnificent. It meant in reality that in receiving my officer's commission I would be permitted to choose between several "eligible" regiments of the imperial guard. The very thought that any one of their sons would cast his ambitions outside the military service would have struck my parents as distinctly heretic. The House of the Romanoffs expected its members to wear a uniform of some description and cared little about their personal predilections and heartiest desires.

The idea of joining the navy had first appeared on my clouded horizon around the year 1878, when through a sort of fortunate misunderstanding we obtained a cheerful and easy-going tutor in the person of Lieut. Zeleny. Thoroughly incapable of giving lessons or making our faces, he became putty in our hands, and we spent our usually gloomy mornings in listening to his highly colored descriptions of the gorgeous life led by the rugged men in the navy. To believe this exciting sailor, the fleet of his imperial majesty constantly went from one glamorous adventure to another, and an existence packed with thrills awaited a youngster aboard a Russian battleship.

"Now, listen to this," Zeleny would commence, "it happened in Shanghai . . ."

He would go no further, for his well-fed body would suddenly shake with fits of laughter. By the time he would get back into condition to explain what actually did happen in Shanghai, we ourselves would be rolling on the floor and giggling hysterically at the sight of the tears streaming down his sunburned face.

Zeleny's contagious gaiety determined my choice. I dreamed of mysterious women driving in rickshaws in the narrow streets of Shanghai. I craved to behold the fantastic spectacle of fanatical Hindus entering the holy waters of the river Ganges. I was anxious to encounter wild elephants charging through the jungle of Ceylon. My mind was made up. I decided to become a sailor.

"A sailor? My son a sailor?" Mother looked at me in dismay. "You are just a child. You do not understand what you are saying. Your father will never permit it."

FATHER frowned. The navy did not appeal to him in the least. The only two members of the imperial family who ever served in the navy did not do so well in his estimation. His brother Constantin was considered a "dangerous radical." His nephew Alexis chased after the women too much.

This attitude of my parents failed to weaken my determination. There was always a streak of stubbornness in my nature. Again and again I broached the subject. Finally my parents promised to settle this troublesome question during our coming autumn stay in St. Petersburg. They thought that the splendor of the imperial palace and the beauty of the Sunday parades would fill my heart with envy for a brilliant uniform. They overlooked the fogs, the gray and dull days, the rawness of the air, the tension of the political moment. St. Petersburg made me turn my eyes toward the sea more than ever. What was a mere fancy of a dreaming boy in the Caucasus changed into a cry for escape in the north. And still, I wondered whether I would have succeeded in accomplishing my plan had it not been for the unexpected assistance of the new Czar. Unlike his father, Alexander III attached considerable importance to the part played by the fleet in the defense of the Russian Empire. Preparing to launch an ambitious naval program he believed that the fact of his cousin serving on a battleship would give a good example to the youth of the country.

Logic and common sense demanded my entering the Naval Academy, but a grand duke was not supposed to "mix with the ordinary boys," and so I had to do my studies at home under the supervision of a special tutor, the gloomiest one to be found in Russia. Hired and paid to prepare me for the examinations that were to be conducted by a board of professors chosen by the Emperor, he must have formed a very low opinion of my abilities. Every day for four years in succession, I heard him predict dismal failure for me.

The four-year program drawn by him included astronomy, theory of the deviation of the compass, oceanography, theoretical and practical artillery, torpedo warfare, theoretical and practical shipbuilding, military and naval strategy and tactics, military and naval administration and regulations, naval legislation, political economy, theoretical and practical fortification, history of the Russian and principal foreign navies, etc.

My professors, all of them highly qualified specialists, did not share the opinion of my ferocious tutor. Thanks to their encouragement I developed a genuine interest in my lessons. The theoretical studies at home were accompanied by visits aboard battleships and to building docks. Each summer I spent the months on a practice cruise in company with the cadets of the Naval Academy, my parents hoping that the severity of naval discipline would change my decision at the very last moment.

How clearly I can see the day when I left our summer palace of Michailovsky to start the career of a sailor. Our small chapel was packed with relatives and friends. The priest presented me with a Te Deum, my mother began to cry. The beautiful words of a special prayer for "the wandering and the veering ones" made her stagger the perils awaiting her youngster. "Let us go, let us go," said father nervously, and we all drove to the port of Peterhof where the yacht of Prince Eugene of Leuchtenberg was to take me aboard H. I. M. S. Varyag.

Toward evening we arrived at Twierne, a small lumber town in Finland where the squadron of the Naval Academy lay at anchor. The Admiral gave the signal and the Varyag lowered its steam launch manned by cadets of my age. They looked at me curiously, evidence speculating whether this uninitiated imperial addition to their crew was going to cause fuss and disturbance. A few words of welcome from Admiral Britkin, and I was shown into my cabin. My dream came true but partially; although an indivisible part of the navy from now on, I was still separated from the other boys and not permitted to bunk with them in their quarters. An other shock of disappointment came at dinner time. Instead of joining the cadets in their mess, I was told to take my seat at the Admiral's table in his private salon. This may have been to my advantage from the educational point of view, because while listening to the conversation of elder officers I learned many matters of importance, but at the moment I felt hurt. I feared that the cadets would resent my "exclusiveness" and would deny me their friendship.

The meal passed in an atmosphere of tenseness, everybody maintaining silence and exchanging warning glances. Several weeks elapsed before I succeeded in persuading those suspicious sailors that I had no intention of reporting their casual remarks to the Czar. I was facing a fight and I knew it. I lay on my back listening to the hours being sounded by different ships on the right and on the left of us in different tones. Once in a while I heard the sleepy voice of the sentinel under the flag repeating his usual, "Who is rowing?" I was thinking of the new life that was to start tomorrow. I visualized the faces of the cadets seen by me in the steam launch and was working out various plans to counter strong wooden beams over my head reminded me of the iron discipline of the navy, but my childhood had taught me to obey orders and expect no favors. I got up, opened my bag and took a small yellowish engraving representing a bearded man with a gigantic shield. It was my saint—St. Alexander of the Neva, the first Russian Grand Duke of that name, who saved Russia from the pillaging Tartars in the thirteenth century. Now I had two friends protecting my sleep: a silent saint and a purring cat.

No favoritism was shown to me during the classes. My mistakes were pointed out with the same

Single Again After Her Fifth Marriage

NEW YORK, June 25. LYDIA LOCKE, the Hannibal (Mo.) girl who became well known to American opera patrons, continues to hold a sensational place in the day's news. For the fifth time in almost 25 years, the erstwhile and now buxom diva, who has figured in several sensational episodes, including the shooting of her first husband, finds herself unmarried, but her friends do not believe she will remain that way.

In her customary exciting way, this woman—still attractive—went into the divorce courts in White Plains and marched right out again with an interlocutory decree of divorce from her fifth husband.

Her attempts to dissolve her last marriage had been a matter of official record since last April, when with a story of a raid she asked Justice Morschauer to dissolve her marriage to Carlo M. Marinovich, wealthy shipping man and member of Balkan nobility.

Back in 1908, Lydia Locke first attracted wide attention by marrying "Lord" Robert Talbot, also a gambler. Talbot, who claimed kinship to the famous Talbot who fought with Joan of Arc, was accustomed to a hilarious existence. In his home, however, he wanted peace and quiet—both of which he did not get. His pretty wife saw to that, and finally one day Talbot left his annoyance at Lydia go to his fists. The result was that a year after their marriage, Lydia found herself beaten up quite severely.

The following morning she went to see a lawyer for a divorce. Talbot was at the conference, too. Something went wrong. Lydia didn't wait for a divorce. She shot Talbot to death in the lawyer's office.

THERE was a trial but nothing ever came of it, so far as punishing Lydia. The jury listened to her story, saw the tears stream down her pretty face and acquitted her. Indeed, their opinion had it that Talbot had committed suicide.

With the proceeds of Talbot's estate in her possession, his widow went to Chicago and after that to Europe to study music. She met Orville Harrold, the famous tenor, in both places. The upshot of their meetings was that Harrold divorced his first wife, Effie, the little country girl he married while a horse driver and before fame came his way, and married Lydia Locke.

Lydia's exciting adventures were entirely too much for Harrold. He couldn't understand why she engaged in a fist fight with a janitor or mauled a chauffeur, and other episodes. He sued her, naming as correspondent, Arthur H. Marks, wealthy president of the Skinner Organ Co., whose later marriage to the former operatic star was the most exciting of all her marriages. She promptly filed a counter-suit to Harrold's action, and won a divided by that time married her fourth husband, Harry Dornblaser, her secretary, and considerably her junior. That was the briefest of Lydia's romances. Following their honeymoon, Dornblaser came back from Europe, leaving Miss Locke behind. She followed him here and he promptly disappeared. Some months later he ended his life with a revolver in Cleveland, Ohio.

In the meantime, Marks had taken another bride for himself, but he was very much mistaken in thinking his troubles with his former wife were over. Just before the six months period of probation was up, the courts and newspapers were treated to another of the sensational revolting about Marks and his former wife.

SIX months later—just when Marks had begun to appreciate his new-found freedom—popped Lydia again. Lydia said Marks was the father of her baby boy, whose birth she had meant to keep secret from him, but who realized after thinking the matter over, that her recently divorced husband might wish to provide for his child. There were birth certificates, affidavits, facts and other documentary evidence produced by Lydia.

Marks doubted her, nevertheless, and after detectives he hired had investigated, they found that Lydia had actually borrowed the child for adoption from the Willow Maternity Hospital of Kansas City. Thereupon, the Kansas City authorities came and recovered the child through habeas corpus proceedings, although Lydia right up until they came and in the face of contrary evidence insisted the child was her own.

When Lydia still insisted on phoning Mr. Marks and altogether making herself a very undesirable person in and around his office and home after he told her she had forfeited the $100,000 trust fund, he told her he would split $50,000 if she'd stick to the agreement for six months thereafter.

Marks had some reason to believe she would because she had Europe.

Lydia Locke, the Hannibal, Mo., Girl* Who Became an Opera Star, Wins Her Third Divorce—She Was Acquitted of Killing First Husband—Another Mate Ended His Life After Honeymoon.

was very much interested in all he heard, but decided that he had to have additional corroboration of the facts. Marinovich's affidavit served the purpose.

Altogether five men led the dark-haired and beautiful singer to the altar—not to mention anything of those who wanted to but never were given the chance. All wanted to settle down with the glorious Lydia.

Back in 1908, Lydia Locke first attracted wide attention by marrying "Lord" Robert Talbot, also a gambler. Talbot, who claimed kinship to the famous Talbot who fought with Joan of Arc, was accustomed to a hilarious existence. In his home, however, he wanted peace and quiet—both of which he did not get. His pretty wife saw to that, and finally one day Talbot left his annoyance at Lydia go to his fists. The result was that a year after their marriage, Lydia found herself beaten up quite severely.

The following morning she went to see a lawyer for a divorce. Talbot was at the conference, too. Something went wrong. Lydia didn't wait for a divorce. She shot Talbot to death in the lawyer's office.

THERE was a trial but nothing ever came of it, so far as punishing Lydia. The jury listened to her story, saw the tears stream down her pretty face and acquitted her. Indeed, their opinion had it that Talbot had committed suicide.

With the proceeds of Talbot's estate in her possession, his widow went to Chicago and after that to Europe to study music. She met Orville Harrold, the famous tenor, in both places. The upshot of their meetings was that Harrold divorced his first wife, Effie, the little country girl he married while a horse driver and before fame came his way, and married Lydia Locke.

Lydia's exciting adventures were entirely too much for Harrold. He couldn't understand why she engaged in a fist fight with a janitor or mauled a chauffeur, and other episodes. He sued her, naming as correspondent, Arthur H. Marks, wealthy president of the Skinner Organ Co., whose later marriage to the former operatic star was the most exciting of all her marriages. She promptly filed a counter-suit to Harrold's action, and won a divided by that time married her fourth husband, Harry Dornblaser, her secretary, and considerably her junior. That was the briefest of Lydia's romances. Following their honeymoon, Dornblaser came back from Europe, leaving Miss Locke behind. She followed him here and he promptly disappeared. Some months later he ended his life with a revolver in Cleveland, Ohio.

In the meantime, Marks had taken another bride for himself, but he was very much mistaken in thinking his troubles with his former wife were over. Just before the six months period of probation was up, the courts and newspapers were treated to another of the sensational revolting about Marks and his former wife.

SIX months later—just when Marks had begun to appreciate his new-found freedom—popped Lydia again. Lydia said Marks was the father of her baby boy, whose birth she had meant to keep secret from him, but who realized after thinking the matter over, that her recently divorced husband might wish to provide for his child. There were birth certificates, affidavits, facts and other documentary evidence produced by Lydia.

Marks doubted her, nevertheless, and after detectives he hired had investigated, they found that Lydia had actually borrowed the child for adoption from the Willow Maternity Hospital of Kansas City. Thereupon, the Kansas City authorities came and recovered the child through habeas corpus proceedings, although Lydia right up until they came and in the face of contrary evidence insisted the child was her own.

When Lydia still insisted on phoning Mr. Marks and altogether making herself a very undesirable person in and around his office and home after he told her she had forfeited the $100,000 trust fund, he told her he would split $50,000 if she'd stick to the agreement for six months thereafter.

Marks had some reason to believe she would because she had Europe.

LYDIA LOCKE.

Lydia Locke, the Hannibal, Mo., Girl* Who Became an Opera Star, Wins Her Third Divorce—She Was Acquitted of Killing First Husband—Another Mate Ended His Life After Honeymoon.

was very much interested in all he heard, but decided that he had to have additional corroboration of the facts. Marinovich's affidavit served the purpose.

Altogether five men led the dark-haired and beautiful singer to the altar—not to mention anything of those who wanted to but never were given the chance. All wanted to settle down with the glorious Lydia.

Back in 1908, Lydia Locke first attracted wide attention by marrying "Lord" Robert Talbot, also a gambler. Talbot, who claimed kinship to the famous Talbot who fought with Joan of Arc, was accustomed to a hilarious existence. In his home, however, he wanted peace and quiet—both of which he did not get. His pretty wife saw to that, and finally one day Talbot left his annoyance at Lydia go to his fists. The result was that a year after their marriage, Lydia found herself beaten up quite severely.

The following morning she went to see a lawyer for a divorce. Talbot was at the conference, too. Something went wrong. Lydia didn't wait for a divorce. She shot Talbot to death in the lawyer's office.

THERE was a trial but nothing ever came of it, so far as punishing Lydia. The jury listened to her story, saw the tears stream down her pretty face and acquitted her. Indeed, their opinion had it that Talbot had committed suicide.

With the proceeds of Talbot's estate in her possession, his widow went to Chicago and after that to Europe to study music. She met Orville Harrold, the famous tenor, in both places. The upshot of their meetings was that Harrold divorced his first wife, Effie, the little country girl he married while a horse driver and before fame came his way, and married Lydia Locke.

Lydia's exciting adventures were entirely too much for Harrold. He couldn't understand why she engaged in a fist fight with a janitor or mauled a chauffeur, and other episodes. He sued her, naming as correspondent, Arthur H. Marks, wealthy president of the Skinner Organ Co., whose later marriage to the former operatic star was the most exciting of all her marriages. She promptly filed a counter-suit to Harrold's action, and won a divided by that time married her fourth husband, Harry Dornblaser, her secretary, and considerably her junior. That was the briefest of Lydia's romances. Following their honeymoon, Dornblaser came back from Europe, leaving Miss Locke behind. She followed him here and he promptly disappeared. Some months later he ended his life with a revolver in Cleveland, Ohio.

In the meantime, Marks had taken another bride for himself, but he was very much mistaken in thinking his troubles with his former wife were over. Just before the six months period of probation was up, the courts and newspapers were treated to another of the sensational revolting about Marks and his former wife.

SIX months later—just when Marks had begun to appreciate his new-found freedom—popped Lydia again. Lydia said Marks was the father of her baby boy, whose birth she had meant to keep secret from him, but who realized after thinking the matter over, that her recently divorced husband might wish to provide for his child. There were birth certificates, affidavits, facts and other documentary evidence produced by Lydia.

Marks doubted her, nevertheless, and after detectives he hired had investigated, they found that Lydia had actually borrowed the child for adoption from the Willow Maternity Hospital of Kansas City. Thereupon, the Kansas City authorities came and recovered the child through habeas corpus proceedings, although Lydia right up until they came and in the face of contrary evidence insisted the child was her own.

When Lydia still insisted on phoning Mr. Marks and altogether making herself a very undesirable person in and around his office and home after he told her she had forfeited the $100,000 trust fund, he told her he would split $50,000 if she'd stick to the agreement for six months thereafter.

Marks had some reason to believe she would because she had Europe.

If you ask my Opinion
—Martha Carr—

DEAR MRS. CARR: Last summer while at a dude ranch I met a young man. We fell in love, but I had not seen or heard of him until the other night. Upon arriving home after a dance at about 2 o'clock, I was told that he had called and waited for me until 12. Shall I call him and tell him I was sorry to have missed him or shall I wait for further developments? Please answer soon, as I am leaving for my vacation.

MRS. L. L. L. It would depend upon whether this young man had deliberately waited all this time to see you, though he had the opportunity to do so, or whether he had just come to town and had been delayed in reaching you. In the former circumstances, I should let him make another effort.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: Where could I learn to sew free of charge? Thank you, Mrs. J. R. N. At the Hadley Vocational School.

DEAR MARTHA CARR: Where is the Protestant Orphan's home located in St. Louis? Also what does one have to do to adopt a child?

MRS. L. L. L. We are a young couple of modest means, but feel we could give a child a good home. We would like to adopt a child of from 2 months up to 2 years old. I will appreciate your help very much.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: I will call at the Children's Aid Society, 240 North Vandeventer, Franklin 1870, you will be given all information and good suggestions.

DEAR MRS. CARR: After reading the letter of "A Dreamer" in your column concerning teaching violin lessons, I would like to help her. Please give her my name and address. I. R.

I have several other offers now for this young lady and I hope she will send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope, so that I may turn them over to her.

DEAR MRS. CARR: We are a group of people of limited means and want to rent a tennis court for the summer. How would you suggest obtaining one? We are sending this by wire as we are planning a meeting Saturday night.

TENNIS CLUB. This telegram came much too late to be answered in the column. All one of the officers of the Missouri Valley Tennis Association, Main 4160.

MY DEAR MRS. CARR: Will you please give me a list of firms in St. Louis that have used canoes? D.

Write to the Mississippi Valley Boat Club.

The Idle Furnace. It is time to forget the furnace for a little while and we are grateful to do so, but first of all shaves should be removed and all soot and dust cleaned out of the pipes. Then fill the firebox with fresh, lump lime, to prevent and retard rust. Leave the doors open so the air can circulate, and by all means have the soot removed from the smoke pipe and chimney and connections examined for faulty flues before cold weather comes again.

HOT SUN COOLS ROMANCE

... by Timm's

WHAT A GLORIOUS DAY! I'M GLAD IT DIDN'T RAIN.

GOING TO BE HOT LATER ON, BUT WE WON'T MIND.

THREE HOURS LATER. IS ANYTHING WRONG, JACK? YOU'RE SO QUIET AND UNLIKE YOURSELF.

NO, NO, NOTHING. GUESS THE HEAT BOTHERS ME A LITTLE.

NEXT DAY. JACK WAS SO DEVOTED AT FIRST, BUT HE'S CHANGED. NOW HE WOULD REMIND ME OF ANOTHER DATE.

I'M GOING TO TELL YOU VERY FRANKLY WHAT I THINK OF YOU. TROUBLE IS, "B.O."

Hotter weather... more danger of "B.O."

BUSTLING days... breathless nights... so hot and sticky we perspire even during still. How easy for "B.O." (body odor) to become us unless we use our guard! Buds regularly with Lifebuoy. Its creamy, abundant, penetrating lather purifies pores—free them of odor. Guards health by removing germs from hands. You'll quickly learn to love its pleasant, hygienic scent that vanishes as you rinse.

A simple beauty aid. Every night, cleanse the face thoroughly with Lifebuoy. Pores are gently freed of clogged impurities—dull skins freshen to healthy radiance. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

A PRODUCT OF LEVER BROTHERS CO.

I'LL NEVER TAKE CHANCES WITH "B.O." AGAIN. LIFEBOUY IS MARVELLOUS. SO MUCH LATHER, TOO, EVEN IN OUR HARD WATER. IT HAS HELPED MY SKIN A LOT.

NO MORE "B.O."—HAPPY AGAIN!

JACK, WHEN DID YOU FIRST FIND OUT THAT YOU REALLY LOVED ME?

SO LONG AGO, DARLING, THAT I'VE FORGOTTEN.

Hotter weather... more danger of "B.O."

BUSTLING days... breathless nights... so hot and sticky we perspire even during still. How easy for "B.O." (body odor) to become us unless we use our guard! Buds regularly with Lifebuoy. Its creamy, abundant, penetrating lather purifies pores—free them of odor. Guards health by removing germs from hands. You'll quickly learn to love its pleasant, hygienic scent that vanishes as you rinse.

A simple beauty aid. Every night, cleanse the face thoroughly with Lifebuoy. Pores are gently freed of clogged impurities—dull skins freshen to healthy radiance. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

A PRODUCT OF LEVER BROTHERS CO.

Hotter weather... more danger of "B.O."

BUSTLING days... breathless nights... so hot and sticky we perspire even during still. How easy for "B.O." (body odor) to become us unless we use our guard! Buds regularly with Lifebuoy. Its creamy, abundant, penetrating lather purifies pores—free them of odor. Guards health by removing germs from hands. You'll quickly learn to love its pleasant, hygienic scent that vanishes as you rinse.

A simple beauty aid. Every night, cleanse the face thoroughly with Lifebuoy. Pores are gently freed of clogged impurities—dull skins freshen to healthy radiance. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

A PRODUCT OF LEVER BROTHERS CO.

Soft Finish, 9¢. Minimum Order $1.00. Overland Laundry Co. Phone: Winfield 1470, Ever. 5345.

RUGS CLEANED! Special for short time. Only 25¢. Phone Franklin 4558. EMPIRE Carpet Co. 3314 Olive. Established 35 Yrs.

A Glorious Vacation. In the North Woods. Go this summer to the big, cool woods and around the great lakes of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Upper Michigan. Recreation for everyone. Fishing, camping, golf, hiking, horseback riding. Comfortable cottages and camps at economy prices. Chicago and North Western's River train fares reduced for the summer. Take the family. For information apply to the C. & N. W. 214 Broadway, Phone Garfield 2121-2.

Read today's Want Columns for business openings.

If you ask my Opinion
—Rob Eden—

CHAPTER TWENTY. WELL, here it is, and Mabel took care, and handed it to me. "What?"

"What I've been telling you all the time," Mabel shook back her red hair. "I told you he was a scoundrel. I found herself staring at Julie until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor."

Mrs. Katherine Wells announces the engagement of her daughter, Angela, to Mr. Donn. The wedding will take place early in September.

There it was, the thing she had hoped would never be. In the Golden Slipper for one that the engagement was made public. And he must be known. Only the reminder that she was dancing with her that morning was Sunday. And she had promised to come to his flat to sit for him.

Julie found herself staring at Mabel until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor. "What?"

"What I've been telling you all the time," Mabel shook back her red hair. "I told you he was a scoundrel. I found herself staring at Julie until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor."

Mrs. Katherine Wells announces the engagement of her daughter, Angela, to Mr. Donn. The wedding will take place early in September.

There it was, the thing she had hoped would never be. In the Golden Slipper for one that the engagement was made public. And he must be known. Only the reminder that she was dancing with her that morning was Sunday. And she had promised to come to his flat to sit for him.

Julie found herself staring at Mabel until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor. "What?"

"What I've been telling you all the time," Mabel shook back her red hair. "I told you he was a scoundrel. I found herself staring at Julie until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor."

Mrs. Katherine Wells announces the engagement of her daughter, Angela, to Mr. Donn. The wedding will take place early in September.

There it was, the thing she had hoped would never be. In the Golden Slipper for one that the engagement was made public. And he must be known. Only the reminder that she was dancing with her that morning was Sunday. And she had promised to come to his flat to sit for him.

Julie found herself staring at Mabel until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor. "What?"

"What I've been telling you all the time," Mabel shook back her red hair. "I told you he was a scoundrel. I found herself staring at Julie until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor."

Mrs. Katherine Wells announces the engagement of her daughter, Angela, to Mr. Donn. The wedding will take place early in September.

There it was, the thing she had hoped would never be. In the Golden Slipper for one that the engagement was made public. And he must be known. Only the reminder that she was dancing with her that morning was Sunday. And she had promised to come to his flat to sit for him.

Julie found herself staring at Mabel until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor. "What?"

"What I've been telling you all the time," Mabel shook back her red hair. "I told you he was a scoundrel. I found herself staring at Julie until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor."

Mrs. Katherine Wells announces the engagement of her daughter, Angela, to Mr. Donn. The wedding will take place early in September.

There it was, the thing she had hoped would never be. In the Golden Slipper for one that the engagement was made public. And he must be known. Only the reminder that she was dancing with her that morning was Sunday. And she had promised to come to his flat to sit for him.

Julie found herself staring at Mabel until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor. "What?"

"What I've been telling you all the time," Mabel shook back her red hair. "I told you he was a scoundrel. I found herself staring at Julie until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor."

Mrs. Katherine Wells announces the engagement of her daughter, Angela, to Mr. Donn. The wedding will take place early in September.

There it was, the thing she had hoped would never be. In the Golden Slipper for one that the engagement was made public. And he must be known. Only the reminder that she was dancing with her that morning was Sunday. And she had promised to come to his flat to sit for him.

Julie found herself staring at Mabel until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor. "What?"

"What I've been telling you all the time," Mabel shook back her red hair. "I told you he was a scoundrel. I found herself staring at Julie until the words were dancing over her limbs as she sat on the floor."

Mrs. Katherine Wells announces the engagement of her daughter, Angela, to Mr. Donn. The wedding will take place early in September.

Popeye—By Segar

(Copyright, 1932.)

Toonerville Folks—By Fontaine Fox

(Copyright, 1932.)

Can You Beat It!—By Maurice Ketten

(Copyright, 1932.)

The Bungle Family—By Harry J. Tuthill

Train, Halt!

(Copyright, 1932.)

Bringing Up Father—By George McManus

(Copyright, 1932.)

Skippy—By Percy L. Crosby

Two of a Kind

(Copyright, 1932.)

Ella Cinders—By Bill Conselman and Charlie Plumb

Bearding the Lion

(Copyright, 1932.)

Mutt and Jeff—By Bud Fisher

Words and Action by Mutt

(Copyright, 1932.)

Dumb Dora—By Paul Fung

He's Cut His Wisdom Teeth

(Copyright, 1932.)

LINDBERGH AGAIN
IN STAND, TELLS
HOW J. H. CURTIS DECEIVED HIM

Testifies Boat Builder, on Trial, Told Him That Member of Colonel's Household Aided in Kidnaping of Baby.

LIVES PURPORTED STORY OF SEIZURE

Witness Says Norfolk Man Hindered Activities of Both Himself and Police—Declares He Had Faith in Dr. Condon.

Associated Press.
FLEMINGTON, N. J., June 28.—Charles A. Lindbergh took the news stand again today at the trial of John Hughes Curtis, Cur-Norfolk, Va., boat builder, in hunt for the kidnapers and orderers of the Lindbergh baby. He testified that the activities of this had impeded both his own police effort.

Lindbergh testified that Curtis had told him information that kidnaping was arranged by a member of the Lindbergh household and that he thought that person was a woman.

Curtis' story of the kidnaping, as told by Lindbergh, was as follows: The kidnaping was done by two men, "John" and another known as "Eric" or "Nile," who came from Newark. After conferring with an unidentified member of the Lindbergh household they chloroformed the baby, taking it from the house through the pantry door upstairs. A green sedan was used a few hundred yards from the house and the baby was taken away in that, under care of a nurse named Gretchen. With the baby in an improvised cradle in the sedan, the kidnapers drove to Cape May, N. J., where they boarded the train.

Three Servants in Court.

The three members of the Lindbergh domestic staff, Betty Gow, the baby's nurse, Ollie Wheatley, the butler, and Mrs. Wheatley, the housekeeper, were present in court. The women were at the Lindbergh home at Hopewell when the baby was stolen. All three were questioned by police and were exonerated of any implication.

"We have only three servants," Lindbergh testified.

Lindbergh said Curtis told him that Gretchen wrote all the ransom notes.

All during Lindbergh's testimony Curtis sat at the defense table, his head held high, listening intently.

Shortly before he put out on the stand at Cachalot on May 9, in a new effort to contact the kidnapers, Lindbergh continued, Curtis told him the kidnaping band, in a New York railroad station.

"I feel I know too much for my good about the people I'm dealing with," Lindbergh quoted Curtis as telling him on that occasion.

Tells of One Trip.

Under prosecution questioning, Lindbergh told of Curtis' description to him of the schooner on which Curtis told him the kidnapers were holding the baby for ransom. He then mentioned a visit to New York City he made with Curtis on April 10.

"We went to 2 East Seventh Street," he said. "Mr. Curtis for a time and returned with part of the Block Island area. The boat was marked where the kidnaping could be met. It was at that time I began to feel definite that Mr. Curtis was in contact with persons who had my son."

Lindbergh said Curtis told him the craft had been off the Jersey coast and that it was a black Gloucester fisherman and that it had a temporary cabin aft. He was even told what speed the boat was capable of and what type engine it had.

Lindbergh said that on the day he showed the chart he started for Block Island to meet the kidnapers. With Curtis and Edward Bruce, a friend of Curtis, who were to Stonington, Conn., where they arranged for a small boat which they went to the appointed place. The kidnapers' boat was there.

After cruising around for the kidnapers and questioning occupants of the boat, Lindbergh said he turned to a New York boat where in his presence Curtis told